CAMPAIGN EDITION.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES—CAMPAIGN EDITION.

CAMPAIGN EDITION.

During the ensuing Presidential Canvass, we shall publish a SPECIAL WEEKLY EDITION for the convenience of those who desire the latest and most trustworthy political intelligence.

Having made ample arrangements for securing the earliest reports of meetings, conventions, and other occurrences of political interest, we shall, throughout the Presidential canvass, publish fuller information relating to the progress of the campaign than any other New-York paper. We aim only at supplying the public with the most complete information on all current affairs.

Subscribers to our Campaign Edition will therefore secure an exhaustive summary of the political news of the day, besides receiving the general news from all parts of the World, obtained from the best sources, and rearranged and prepared specially for this edition.

The NEW-YORK TIMES is a Republican newspaper, and will, during the canvass, now fairly commenced, steadfastly maintain the established principles of that Party. It will support the regular nominees of the Philadelphia Convention, and do its share in securing their triumphant election in November. It regards the success of the Republican Party as an object of the very first importance, and will give no support to irregular or "bolting" nominations, which can only result in the return of the Democrats to power. There are projects of all kinds on foot for dissolving the Republican Party, and the TIMES will oppose them all. Its course in reference to the Tammany Ring, at a time when all the other daily papers in New-York obstructed and discouraged its efforts, attests its sincerity in the cause of Reform. The TIMES stood alone in demanding Reform from 1869 to the close of 1871—now other journals are attempting to make political capital out of the mere repetition of the cry. There is no sincere and honest proposal for reform, in any branch of the Government, which will not be heartily supported by the TIMES. But it will not conspire in assisting ambitious politicians or demagogues to reach power under false pretenses. It will not encourage defection from the party. It regards the Philadelphia Convention as the only body authorized to speak and act for the Republican Party.

TERMS:

The CAMPAIGN EDITION of the NEW-YORK TIMES will be furnished to mail subscribers for the six months next ensuing, for the sum of FIFTY CENTS. All copies sent to the same Post-office to be mailed to one address.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES,

As a Republican journal, will be devoted, as in the past, to an intelligent and firm support of the Republican Party.

It will sustain, with all the force and influence at its command, the principles and policy which have rendered that Party so justly famous in our history. It will advocate those measures by which the honor, the peace, and the prosperity of the nation can be best conserved and promoted.

Started in September, 1851, The TIMES has for many years been recognized as among the most successful, popular, and influential newspapers in the country. Two of its original proprietors still direct its policy, and, with greatly-increased resources and experience, will spare no pains to extend and strengthen its claims upon the confidence and support of the public.

Its EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT will be conducted in a spirit of fairness and impartiality, free alike from self-interested aims, political jobbery, or undue favoritism. It will represent the great body of the public rather than any clique of professional "politicians." It has no one connected with it who seeks office, or who will become a candidate for office. Its CORRESPONDENCE will be full and timely, and its REPORTS will be prepared with the utmost care. The LITERARY DEPARTMENT will be in thoroughly capable hands, and will present a full review of the literature, the fine arts, the music, and the drama of the day.

As a family paper, free from all appeals to vulgar and impure tastes, the TIMES will continue unexceptionable, and may be safely admitted to every domestic circle.

The Sunday edition of the TIMES includes, in addition to all the news, selected and original literary matter of the most varied and agreeable character. Special arrangements have been made to impart new attractions to this feature of the paper.

The WEEKLY and SEMI-WEEKLY editions of the TIMES are compiled with the greatest care, and will contain selections from the most important contents of the Daily issue, besides matters of interest to the agricultural sections of the country. All who prefer a newspaper but once or twice a week will find these editions admirably suited to their requirements.

A special edition of the TIMES for EUROPEAN circulation is published every Wednesday and Saturday, in time for the European mails, and will be valuable and welcome to our friends abroad, whether Americans or of any other nationality than our own.

All these editions of the TIMES are of the very largest size, on large quarto sheets, each containing fifty-six columns, printed in clear and legible type, at the following rates:

MAIL SUBSCRIBERS.

Business in the Senate and the Final Adjournment.

Probable Deferment of Action on the Treaty Till After.

Debate on the Habeas Corpus Bill Continued to a Late Hour.

Forthcoming Vindication of the Secretary of the Navy.

The Finance Committee at Work on the Tariff and Tax Bill.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—In view of the concurrence of the House in the Senate resolution of adjournment on the 29th, and the prospect that what legislative business shall be done this session must be accomplished by that time or before the 3d of June at least, it is probable that the Executive session for the consideration of the treaty will not be held to-morrow as was anticipated. It has been thought best to go on with the legislative business till it is finished, or so far advanced that its completion shall be assured, and then the Treaty can be considered. If time is not found for it till after the adjournment, the Senate can extend its session for executive business after the House has gone away. There is a hope that the Executive business and the Legislative business may all be completed by June 8, therefore it is probable that to-morrow the Labor Commission bill or the Amnesty or Civil Rights bill may be taken up. If the Amnesty comes up before Civil Rights there is understood to be a certainty that the Civil Rights amendment will be kept off it, and a direct vote taken, when, of course, the bill will pass. Civil rights may be brought forward first, and a direct vote on it is also possible. There is the concluding action upon several Appropriation bills, which will also be speedily attempted if the Democrats and Liberals do not waste time with long speeches. All the business of the session may be easily finished by the day fixed for adjournment.

BUTLER ON THE TREATY.

Gen. BUTLER delivered his speech on the treaty to-night. Reading it from manuscript it opened with a reference to the statement of Sir STAFFORD NORTHCOTE that a pledge had been made to the British Commissioners that the indirect claims would not be presented for arbitration. BUTLER argued that the English Commissioners had been either misreported or misinformed, making a very forcible statement of the well-known facts connected with the rejection of the Johnson-Clarendon Convention to substantiate this. He then took up the Supplemental treaty, and opposed its ratification. If the indirect claims were rightfully presented he would have them remain in the case, no matter what becomes of the treaty. If they are wrong, he would have them withdrawn in an honest, frank, straightforward manner. The loss of the treaty through a failure to negotiate the new article, appears to be the thing of things which BUTLER most desires, although he did not say so directly. He said that England, having receded from the first treaty, will recede from this second treaty if at any time it is to her interest so to do. There was no allusion to the Fisheries, although they lurked beneath the surface of every sentence. BUTLER has no substantial objection to the supplemental article as a separate proposition, independently considered, save the inference that England will not abide by it. The whole speech was as much a defiance of England as anything. There were covert allusions to Canada, and to the destruction of English shipping, and to the holding of four thousand million American bonds in England, which plainly showed that those who desire peace must shun the advice of this open apostle of a war with England.

THE PACIFIC MAIL SUBSIDY.

The greater part of the day was spent by the House on the Post-office Appropriation bill, in disposing of the amendments made by the Senate. One of these raises the subsidy to the Pacific Mail Steam-ship line from $500,000 to $1,000,000 for the ensuing ten years. A similar proposition was barely defeated in the House when this bill first came before it. The brilliant five minute debate which then occurred was repeated today, Messrs. BROOKS and SHELLABARGER making the speeches which did most to induce the House to reverse its former judgment, and concur with the Senate amendment. Messrs. RANDALL and MORGAN made the customary charges about the corrupt influences of the lobby in pushing this measure, but those members who have changed their votes are too well known to fear that any such accusation will be believed against them. By doubling the service between San Francisco and China the imports, it is claimed, will be doubled, and the Customs duties also, so that the profit will not only accrue to the Company, but to the country and the Government. The amendment got 109 votes to 87 against. A somewhat similar proposition with relation to the Brazilian steam-ship line was subsequently defeated.

THE NAVAL INVESTIGATION.

The Special Committee of the House to investigate the alleged irregularities in the Naval Department will submit its report to-morrow, through Mr. SARGENT. It is understood that there will be a minority report, which Gov. BLAIR, of Michigan, will alone sign. Mr. WARREN, of New-York, one of the Democratic members of the Committee, unites with Messrs. SARGENT and PETERS in wholly exonerating Secretary ROBESON from the charges of DANA'S Sun. Mr. ARCHER, the other Democrat, had intended to join with Mr. BLAIR in a minority report, acquitting the Secretary of any culpable intent or act, but claiming an incorrect construction of the law in one or two instances; but Gov. BLAIR'S report is so unwarrantably hostile to the Secretary and so evidently biased by personal enmity of some kind, and draws conclusions so wholly unsustained by the evidence, that Mr. ARCHER declines to sign it. It is so unprecedented that a Democrat declines to sign a minority report that the vindication of Secretary ROBESON may be said to be made more complete by GOV. BLAIR'S action. The majority report goes over the evidence with great minuteness of detail, reviews every charge, and finds no sufficient foundation for any of them.

KUKLUX.

The Kuklux debate now in progress is a rehash of the debates of former sessions on that subject for the most part, except that some new materials afforded by the testimony taken last Summer by the Investigating Committee, and this is freely used by both sides. There are the old thrusts at the carpet-baggers, the old charges that the law is intended to re-elect the President, and the old defenses which these attacks make necessary. Mr. BAYARD spoke six hours to empty benches. Mr. MORTON followed him briefly with a speech full of daggers for the opposition. Mr. CLAYTON then took the floor, and was speaking at a late hour this evening. Messrs. THURMAN, CASSERLY, STEVENSON and ROBERTSON were expected to make speeches, and there was prospect of a very late sitting before a vote could be taken. It was expected the vote would be taken before adjournment, in accordance with previous agreement. The bill will undoubtedly pass the Senate, but there is a general impression that it will not receive a majority vote of the House. These most earnest in advocating the bill desire, however, that a direct vote shall be taken there, and it is understood that Democrats will not try to prevent direct action by dilatory motions.

TARIFF AND TAX.

The Senate Committee on Finance today received permission to sit during the sessions of the Senate, and have been occupied almost the entire day and evening in considering the House Tariff and Tax bill. That bill was divided and given out to subcommittees, and practically the members of the Committee will be engaged all night and all day to-morrow working upon the bill. Day after to-morrow it is hoped and expected that it will be reported back to the Senate with such amendments as the Committee decide to propose.

THE CUSTOM-HOUSE AT NEW-YORK.

The New-York Custom-house Investigating Committee will hold another meeting Saturday, and some further testimony will be taken. Mr. HOWE is writing the report.

SENATOR CLAYTON.

The Clayton Investigating Committee has decided not to take any more testimony. An enormous mass has been taken, and if the Committee undertake to go all over it in making up a report, it will be almost impossible that any report should be made till next session. Meantime the Democrats take every occasion to renew the charges against CLAYTON, and he as often renews his defense. Tonight he devoted some time in a speech on the Kuklux bill to answering Mr. BAYARD'S allusions to his case today.

Dispatches to the Associated Press.

NAVAL ORDERS.

Lieut. GEORGE S. DEVOE has been ordered to the St. Marys, in the Pacific fleet, to go out by the steamer of the 15th of June next; Lieut. S. P. BAIRD has been detached from the Naval Academy and granted a six months' leave.

NOMINATIONS.

The President sent the following nominations to the Senate today: Consuls—JOHN F. WEBB, of Massachusetts, at Zanzibar; E. C. SAMMISE, of Florida, at Rio Grande, Brazil; DANIEL K. HOBART, of Maine, at Windsor, N. S. Registers of Land Offices—BENJAMIN F. SMITH, at Redwood Falls, Minn.; ALFRED JAMES, at Los Angeles, Cal. Receivers of Public Moneys—GEORGE J. TIFFANY, at Los Angeles, Cal.; W. H. KELLY, at Redwood Falls, Minn. There were also a number of army promotions of minor importance.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

Applications are now being made at the several Departments in Washington, under the Civil Service Regulations, recently promulgated. By these rules, the old system of political patronage has been abandoned, and no appointments will hereafter be made to any position coming under their operation except in accordance with the result of a competitive examination. Any person furnishing satisfactory evidence as to character, health, age, knowledge of the English language, and fidelity to the Union and the Constitution is permitted to compete. If the applicants are so numerous as to render it impracticable to examine all of them, a selection will be made from among the number, based entirely upon the apparent qualifications of the various applicants as shown in their applications, and will be entirely independent of political or other influence. As all appointees to the lowest grade, after passing their six months' probation, are permitted to compete for any higher position in the same office open to competition which may become vacant, it is expected that the character of the applicants will be much improved as compared with applicants under the old system.

TAXING BORROWED MONEY.

In the case of the petition of the New-York Stock Exchange for a modification of the rule taxing borrowed money as capital, the following action has been taken on the appeal, viz.: The Secretary of the Treasury cannot undertake to decide what money passing through the hands of bankers in the course of their numerous and varied transactions shall be considered as capital employed by them and liable to taxation, except in actual cases in which the exact facts of each particular case are fully reported.

GIFT TO THE TREASURY.

This afternoon the Secretary of the Treasury received a letter from a well-known lawyer in Philadelphia, inclosing a check for $4,000 and saying:

"One of my correspondents, a naturalized citizen of the United States who returned to Europe some years ago, has directed me to pay over to the Government of the United States, in an unobtrusive manner, a certain sum of money as a token of the obligation he feels under to this free and noble Government, and as his mite toward the payment of the national debt. Inclosed, therefore, please find my check on the Central National Bank of this city, to your order, for $4,000, which I send to you as the proper recipient on behalf of the United States."

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

SENATE....WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 21.

Mr. CONKLING presented a memorial of the New-York Chamber of Commerce, remonstrating against abolishing bonded warehouses. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. CONKLING also presented a petition of the gaugers of New-York for a change in the Tariff bill which has just passed the House.

Mr. SHERMAN obtained leave for the Committee on Finance to sit during the sessions of the Senate.

APPORTIONMENT.

Mr. EDMUNDS called up the House Supplemental Apportionment bill, granting an additional Representative each to New-Hampshire, Vermont, New-York, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Tennessee, Louisiana, Alabama and Florida.

Mr. CASSERLY said he did not understand the reasons for the bill, and asked for an explanation, which Mr. EDMUNDS gave.

Mr. MORTON offered an amendment leaving it optional with each State to elect the additional Representative given by this bill, either at large or as the representative of a district.

Mr. CASSERLY opposed the amendment, and argued against the system of electing Representatives at large.

Mr. SAULSBURY also opposed it.

Mr. MORTON said he thought it very desirable that large States especially should have Representatives at large.

At the expiration of the morning hour the bill went over.

NEW-HAMPSHIRE WAR CLAIMS.

Mr. PATTERSON called up the bill for adjusting the claims of New-Hampshire for money advanced to volunteers.

Messrs. PATTERSON and CRAGIN explained the bill and it was passed.

The Senate then resumed the consideration of the Habeas Corpus Suspension bill.

Mr. ALCORN made a general denial of the charges made against him by Mr. AMES last evening.

Mr. BAYARD said he had long ago come to the conclusion that the party in power was making a systematic attempt to put the elections throughout the country under the control of the Federal Government, and each successive step confirmed him in that view. He spoke at great length on the question.

In the course of his speech he read a letter received, he said, from an officer in the army, giving a very unfavorable account of the Government and condition of North Carolina, and stating that a majority of the office-holders were carpet-baggers.

Mr. POOL asked the name of the officer.

M. BAYARD declined to give it, but said he could vouch for the officer's character and good faith.

Mr. POOL said there was certainly one untrue statement in the letter, because not one in thirty of the office-holders in North Carolina were carpet-baggers.

Mr. MORTON remarked that an officer of the army who would write such a letter as this ought to be expelled from the army.

Mr. CASSERLY—What for? Because he tells the truth?

Mr. MORTON—No, Sir; because he maligns the Government.

Mr. POOL—I would like very much to have the name of that officer.

Mr. BAYARD—I will not give it. I will not expose him to the vengeance of the Administration.

At 4½ P. M. Mr. BLAIR moved to take a recess. Lost.

JUDICIARY BILLS.

Mr. CARPENTER, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported, without amendment, the bill to amend the Bankruptcy act, by substituting 1871 for 1864 in the first proviso of the fourteenth section.

Also, with amendments, Mr. TRUMBULL'S bill, amendatory of section 33 of the Bankruptcy act.

In conclusion Mr. BAYARD asked the Senate and the whole country whether, in view of the history of the past three years at the South, it was not time to abolish reconstruction and substitute for it reconciliation. He related an instance of kindness on the part of a Boston man, the late DANIEL DENNY, who voluntarily sent to a suffering Southern man, an utter stranger, a sum of money sufficient to pay his debts and give him a fresh start in the world. This act, he said, had bound together forever, in bonds of love, these two families, and he asked why their relations with each other should not be allowed to typify the relations of the people of the North and those of the South.

Mr. MORTON said the Senators opposed to this bill had spoken at great length, but he did not complain of that, because they had a very difficult task. They had charged the President with exercising despotic powers for malignant purposes, and had assailed the conduct and the motives of the officers acting under him and of the party supporting him. This attack was made for political purposes. These speeches had been prepared as campaign documents. He felt, therefore, that in discussing this question he owed it to the Administration and to the Republican members of the Senate to speak plainly and tell the whole truth. He said that when the war broke down there was general good feeling throughout the country. In the North a feeling of forgiveness toward the South, and in favor of general amnesty, prevailed. That feeling lasted several months, and the Democratic Party was responsible for its passing away. That party at the North advised the Southern people that they had forfeited nothing by the rebellion, and that the imposition of any conditions of reconstruction was a tyranny and a usurpation. The Southern people accepted this advice, and the result was that when Congress was compelled to embark in the work of reconstruction in 1867, the Governments at the South were thrown by the action of the Northern Democrats and Southern leaders into the hands of the colored people and of the Northern men who had gone there. This was a necessity of the situation. But if the Southern people had rejected the advice of the Democrats, and had continued in the frame of mind in which they were after the war, they would have had the matter in their own hands. Again, in 1868, the Democratic Party, in Convention, resolved that the Reconstruction acts were null and void, and a prominent Democratic leader (BLAIR) declared that it would be the duty of the Democratic President, when elected, to overturn the carpet-bag Governments by force.

Mr. MORTON here defended the carpet-baggers, so called. Most of them, he said, were Union officers and soldiers who liked the soil and climate of the South, and decided to make their homes there. They had as much right to go to the South as to go to the West, or to any other part of the country. They were as a rule quite as good in every way as the men who denounce them, and the outcry against them grew out of the old State rights feeling of the Southern people, and their want of the feeling of nationality. This and political motives led them to do all they could to make the new-comers uncomfortable and to drive them out, and this was one of the great errors of the South, because carpet-baggers with their bags well filled were the very thing she needed most, in order to aid her to recover from the effects of the war and to develop her resources. The South, however, was not wholly or even chiefly responsible for this great mistake, because the cry against carpet-baggers and scalawags was first raised by Northern Democratic politicians.

Mr. MORTON then spoke of the investigation by the Kuklux Committee last year. He said that the labored efforts of Messrs. BLAIR and BAYARD had left the great body of the testimony untouched, and that it conclusively established these three propositions:

First—That there is in nine States of the South an organized society, armed and equipped, and having a uniform system of signs and pass-words, grip, oaths and unity of purpose. This organization numbered at one time in Tennessee above forty thousand members, according to the testimony of Gen. FORREST, and it undoubtedly embraces hundreds of thousands in those nine States.

Second—That the object of the organization is political, though it is sometimes used for purposes of private malice or gain, and that its purpose is to crush out the negroes.

Third—That the means it uses are scourging, arson, murder and crimes without a name, and that its principal machinery is perjury, which is used both to protect its own members and to blacken and destroy its enemies.

The Senators (Messrs. BLAIR and BAYARD) had quoted largely from witnesses, some of whom pretended to be Republicans, to show that there was no Kuklux organization at the South. Perhaps these witnesses were testifying in the interest of the Kuklux, for the organization could furnish witnesses to prove anything.

Mr. BAYARD asked Mr. MORTON whether gentlemen of this class held office under the present Administration.

Mr. MORTON said he would not be surprised to learn that some of them did, for men who could commit the crimes which they committed, and then protect themselves by perjury, were capable of deceiving any Administration. The outrages and murders committed by the Kuklux were so numerous that they amounted to war. We had made war on the Corea, and had recently threatened Spain for slight offenses against our citizens, but it seemed to be the doctrine of some people that the United States Government was bound to protect its citizens on every soil except its own.

Mr. MARTIN defended the so-called carpet-baggers, and replied to the assertions and propositions of the minority report.

Mr. CLAYTON replied to Mr. BLAIR'S statements respecting Arkansas and himself.

Mr. HAMILTON, of Texas, and Mr. THURMAN, of Ohio, opposed the bill, and Mr. ROBERTSON supported it.

At 2 A. M. on Wednesday morning the debate was still in progress.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. BECK presented the conference report on the bill to provide for the abatement or repayment of taxes on distilled spirits in bond destroyed by casualty. The bill is altered so as to apply only to spirits destroyed by accidental fire or other casualty, and without any fraud, collusion or neglect of the owner. On which taxes had not been paid at the time of the destruction, and which spirits were in the custody of any officer of Internal Revenue, in any distillery, warehouse, or bonded warehouse, the taxes are to be abated and the warehouse bond canceled. If the tax has been collected since the destruction of the spirits, it is to be refunded. After explanation by Mr. BECK, the report was agreed to.

POST-OFFICE APPROPRIATIONS.

The House then took up the Senate amendments to the Post-office Appropriation bill. The first important amendment reached was that doubling the service and subsidy for carrying the mails between San Francisco, Japan and China, in which the Committee on Appropriations recommended concurrence.

In the course of a stormy discussion, in which the amendment was advocated by Messrs. GARFIELD and SARGENT, and opposed by Messrs. HOLMAN, MORGAN and RANDALL, the latter alluded to influences at work for this appropriation, which he characterized as disgraceful to Congress.

Mr. SARGENT—What efforts and influences do you refer to?

Mr. RANDALL—Efforts by people outside of this Hall and inside of it.

Mr. MORGAN, (excitedly)—There is a hired lobby to carry it through.

Mr. RANDALL—I will stand by what I have said, and if there is a Committee of Investigation raised, I will prove it.

Mr. MORGAN—Yes, and I am ready to back it. [Laughter and cries of "Louder."]

Mr. SARGENT (to Mr. RANDALL)—Tell me what specific thing has been done.

Mr. RANDALL—Undue influences—wicked influences—have been at work to induce Congress to increase this appropriation unnecessarily and unwarrantably, and I know the language I use and the purport of it.

Mr. SARGENT—The point I ask is what specific thing you charge?

Mr. RANDALL—I am not going to be catechised.

Mr. SARGENT—You spoke of members being influenced. What members?

Mr. RANDALL—The gentleman cannot chase me to an individualization. If he feels aggrieved at anything I said he knows his remedy.

Mr. SARGENT—That is all nonsense. The gentleman speaks of unworthy means being used by members, and I ask him what members.

Mr. RANDALL—I said that there were wicked influences at work inside and outside this Hall.

Mr. SARGENT—That is not specific.

Mr. BANKS—I object to the interruptions, and I call the gentleman from California to order.

Mr. STORM—That gentleman is entirely too sensitive about Goat Island and the Pacific Steam-ship Company.

Mr. SARGENT—It is not about pig-iron.

Mr. STORM—Oh, I am not sensitive about that.

The debate was further continued by Messrs. Banks, Brooks, Bingham, Townsend of New-York, Kelley, Farnsworth, Maynard and Palmer, in support of the proposition, and by Messrs. Wood, Shellabarger, Niblack, Coburn, Marshall and Speer of Pennsylvania, in opposition to it.

The House then proceeded to vote on the proposition.

Mr. HOLMAN moved to amend by reducing the amount of subsidy to $500,000 a year. Negatived—yeas 88, nays 109.

On the motion of Mr. SPEER, of Pennsylvania, the time for contracting for the additional service was limited to three months after the passage of the act; and on motion of Mr. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, the engines and machinery of the ships, as well as the ships themselves, were required to be wholly of American construction.

The Senate proposition as thus amended was then agreed to—yeas 109, nays 86.

The next important amendment was that doubling the service and subsidy of the Brazilian Mail Steamship line, in which the Committee on Appropriations recommended concurrence with an amendment appropriating $400,000 for the year ending the 30th of June, 1873.

The Committee amendment was rejected.

Mr. KILLINGER moved to amend by requiring the new steam-ships accepted for the additional service to be of iron, and of American construction.

Mr. LYNCH opposed the requirement as to the iron material.

Mr. KILLINGER'S amendment was rejected.

The Senate amendment was then rejected—yeas 64, nays 112. The next vote was on the Senate amendment striking out a section which prohibits persons who have held office in any Department from prosecuting claims in such Department within two years of their leaving office. The Senate amendment was rejected. The Senate amendment requiring the New-York and Panama Steam-ship line to be maintained was agreed to. A Conference Committee was then ordered on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses.

SUNDRY CIVIL APPROPRIATIONS.

The House, at 3¾ went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. WHEELER in the chair, on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill. After progressing through two pages of the bill, much time having been taken up in discussing the character of the Supervising Architect of the Treasury, the Committee rose, and the House, at 4:40, took a recess till 7½, the evening session to be for the business of the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

EVENING SESSION.

The House, at the evening session, passed a large number of bills, many of which were of a private nature.

THE INDIRECT CLAIMS.

Mr. BANKS reported back the resolution which was offered by Mr. BUTLER yesterday, and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations, calling for information in reference to Sir STAFFORD NORTHCOTE'S statement as to the withdrawal of the claims for consequential damages. Mr. BUTLER addressed the House on the subject. He said he had felt it his duty to bring the resolution of inquiry before the House, and he fully believed that the answer of the President would show one of two things, either that the utterances of Sir STAFFORD NORTHCOTE as telegraphed and spread over the country had been misreported or misconceived, or that the honorable Commissioner on the part of Great Britain, was wholly mistaken in his memory or understanding of the preliminaries of the negotiation of the Washington Treaty, or had wholly misconceived them, as well as the motives and acts of the American Government, and had therefore misled his countrymen by a statement tending to stir up strife between the two countries. He (Mr. BUTLER) had substantial ground for saying that that statement of Sir STAFFORD NORTHCOTE was wholly wrong in whatever way it was taken. He then proceeded to discuss the treaty and consequential damages in his peculiar vein, arguing against the supplemental article.

Mr. BANKS made a few remarks, in which he expressed his disbelief in war resulting from a failure of the treaty.

The House, then, at 10¾ P. M. adjourned.

English Cricketers to Visit the Canadians.

TORONTO, Canada, May 21.—At a large meeting of cricketers, held last evening at the American Hotel, Mr. T. C. PATTERSON informed the members that he had received a satisfactory letter from Mr. FITZGERALD, Secretary of the Marylebone Cricket Club, saying that a gentlemen's eleven would visit Canada in August, for the purpose of playing at several of the cricketing centres in Ontario, and that eleven would comprise the very best and most noted gentlemen players in England of the present day, including the Messrs. Trace, Hornby, Lubbock, Walker and Hadow.

THE TREATY.

Senator Schurz's Attitude Toward the Amendment—Mr. Sumner Preparing to Denounce It.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—It was stated in these dispatches on Monday that Senator SCHURZ withheld his vote on the report of the Foreign Relations Committee in favor of the supplemental article. There is excellent reason for now stating that Senator SCHURZ actually voted in favor of the report, and that he will probably vote in favor of consenting to the negotiation. It is understood that Senator SUMNER has prepared one of his great speeches in opposition to the ratification. He is in high temper over the proposition, and denounces it in unmeasured terms.

SPEAKER BLAINE.

Hon. James G. Blaine Unanimously Renominated for Congress.

AUGUSTA, Me., May 21.—The Republicans of the Third Congressional District met in Convention today and unanimously nominated Hon. J. G. BLAINE for Representative to Congress. This is Mr. BLAINE'S sixth nomination. Col. JAMES ERSKINE, of Bristol, was nominated for elector, and H. BLISS, Jr., and H. KNOWLTON were chosen delegates to the Philadelphia Convention.

CLERICAL TRIALS.

Dr. Huston on Trial in Baltimore—The Berkley Case in St. Louis.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 21.—The examination of the charges against Rev. Dr. L. D. HUSTON commenced at the parsonage of Trinity Church today, Dr. HUSTON being present in person. The Committee composing the Court consists of Rev. Samuel Rodgers, Presiding Elder; Rev. Mr. Zimmerman, Rev. Mr. Head, Rev. Mr. Shangler, Rev. Thos. Carson and another, whose name has not been ascertained. At the opening of the Court, the proposition by Rev. Dr. HUSTON, to admit SAMUEL SNOWDEN as his attorney, was refused by the Court, and B. ELDRIDGE MONROE, a theological student, was admitted as his counsel.

The case of VIRGINIA HOPKINS, a servant girl, was first taken up, and she was on the stand four hours. This case will be proceeded with to-morrow. The entire proceedings are conducted with secrecy.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 21.—In the Berkley trial JOHN W. LUKE was subjected to a searching cross-examination as to the dates of various events, &c. Dr. BERKLEY'S resignation was offered and withdrawn twice, then finally presented in August to take effect in November. Mr. LUKE also stated during his cross-examination that some three years previous to this affair a little girl of about nine years old told him that BERKLEY had taken liberties with her, but he didn't believe it at the time. The defense charged the prosecution with forming a ring to procure the removal of BERKLEY from St. George's Church, and that they expected to show a motive for this prosecution other than a desire to purify the Church. After the examination of one or two other unimportant witnesses the prosecution closed their case.

The defense then desired to put Dr. BERKLEY on the witness-stand, which was opposed by the prosecution.

A long legal discussion took place, after which the defense brought forward an expert to prove that certain anonymous letters were received by BERKLEY. One, which was called a black-mailing letter, was written by Mrs. ANDREWS. The prosecution objected to this, as it was said the letter had not, previously, been put in evidence or even mentioned. After another long legal argument the Court took a recess, with the understanding that it would take advice on this point, as well as to whether Dr. BERKLEY should be allowed to testify on his own behalf.

THE WEATHER.

Synopsis and Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The barometer is highest over Florida, and lowest over Missouri. Clear weather is prevailing from Florida, northwestward over the Middle and New-England States, and over Michigan; cloudy and threatening weather from Lake Michigan westward and southward to the Lower Mississippi Valley, with rain from Illinois south-westward.

PROBABILITIES.

Clear weather continues over the New-England, Middle, and South Atlantic States, with winds veering to easterly and southerly; cloudy and threatening weather prevail from Tennessee south-westward and northward to the upper lake region, with rain and southerly to easterly winds, and probably extend to the north-western portion of the Middle States. Dangerous winds are not anticipated.

State Sportsmen's Convention—Next Meeting to be Held at Batavia.

SENECA FALLS, N. Y., May 21.—At the State Sportsmen's Convention, today, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, H. A. RICHMOND, Batavia; Vice Presidents, E. H. Shepard and F. B. Klock, Syracuse; J. B. Sage, Buffalo, Recording Secretary; S. M. Spencer, Rochester, Treasurer; George H. Robertson, Batavia, Corresponding Secretary. On the grounds today the following prizes were awarded; First prize, Seth Green, Rochester; Second, R. W. Wood, Syracuse; Third, W. Y. Burn, Oswego, and for long range, rifle, first prize, Charles Frazier, Syracuse; second, F. W. Deetz, Syracuse; short range, first, Seth Green, Rochester; second, Philo Cowing, Seneca Falls. A match between Capt. Sage, Buffalo, and Capt. Klock, of Syracuse, was won by the former by nineteen birds. The next annual Convention will be held at Batavia.

Another Defeat for the Forest City Base-Ball Club.

The Mutuals defeated the Forest Citys on the Union Ground, yesterday, by a score of 15 to 6, as follows:

	1st.	2d.	3d.	4th.	5th.	6th.	7th.	8th.	9th.
Forest Citys	2	0	0	0	1	1	0	2	0	—6
Mutuals	0	0	0	5	0	4	3	3	0	—15

Runs Earned—Forest City, 4; Mutual, 6.

The batting scores were led by EGGLER and MCMULLEN on the side of the Mutuals, and SUTTON, for the Forest Citys. On Monday the clubs play again on the Union Ground.

An Alleged Swindler Arrested.

Detectives TILLEY and HEIDELBERG, of the Central Office, last evening arrested EDWARD DUSENBURY, an enterprising young man, who is charged with having swindled a number of persons by collecting subscriptions in aid of churches and charitable societies. His latest exploit appears to have been collecting funds for a fair in aid of St. Michael's (Roman Catholic) Church, at Thirty-first-street and Ninth-avenue. If the persons visted by the swindler were Protestants, he would pretend to be collecting funds in aid of St. Michael's Episcopal Church, at Ninety-ninth-street and Broadway. In his room was found a list of firms whom it is supposed he has swindled, containing the names of Cochran, McLean & Co., Bartlett, Beery & Co., Seth Hunt & Co., Tillinghast, Whright & Co., Spaulding, Hunt & Co., Arnold, Constable & Co., Wilmerding, Mount & Co., Topping & Co., Lord & Taylor, and many others. He is locked up at Police Head-quarter, and those who have been duped by him are requested to call on Capt. IRVING, at the Detective Office, and identify him.

A Locomotive Picks Up a Man from the Track.

From the Providence Journal, May 20.

On Saturday evening, as the Worcester passenger-train for Providence had just passed Woonsocket, the engineer saw a man suddenly step on the track in front of the locomotive, who was instantly struck by the cow-catcher. The train was stopped as soon as possible, and search was made for the unfortunate man on the track in the rear of the train. Not finding any traces of the accident, the search was continued, and his body was discovered lying partly on the cow-catcher and partly on the bunter-beam. No bones appeared to be broken, and, on being rubbed, he gave signs of consciousness, and complaining of his legs feeling stiff, gave the name of JOHN WINTERBOTTOM, of Manville. The experience was a fearful one, and it is a wonder the man was not instantly killed. It is supposed that as the up-train was just coming in sight, he became confused, and stepped upon the track of the down-train, instead of getting on one side of the road. Conductor S. S. MOWRY obtained medical assistance for the sufferer, and left him as comfortable as could be expected.

An Insurgent Success—Juarez's Continued Exercise of Dictatorial Powers Causes Dissatisfaction.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 15, via HAVANA, May 21.—Military operations outside of Jalisco and on the Rio Grande are unimportant. The insurgents have defeated CORRONA in Jalisco.

The people are dissatisfied at the refusal of JUAREZ to give up his dictatorial powers which expired on April 30. JUAREZ persists in keeping the States under military rule. The struggle in Congress over the bill granting "ample faculties" to the Executive continues, and the result is doubtful. The Juarists claim one majority in Congress, but they cannot unite. During the sitting yesterday, the Oppositionists retired, and left the House without a quorum.

Action on M. ROMERO'S Tariff bill is delayed in Congress. It is considered generally one of the best measures ever presented. Unless Congress pass the "Ample Faculties" and finance bills, the tenure of the Juarists will be precarious.

CORTINA was relieved of his command for refusing to recognize CORRELLA as chief. The Government continues to pay its war expenses. ROCHA has captured Mazatlan.

ENGENBURY, the German Minister to Mexico, presented his credentials on the 6th inst., and was received with a friendly speech by JUAREZ.

A remarkable scene occurred in Congress the night of the 7th inst., caused by a speech made by ALCALDE on the "Ample Faculties" bill. The Speaker of the House interrupted ALCALDE, declaring that the character of his speech rendered a secret session necessary, and ordered the galleries to be cleared. The people in the gallery refused to leave, and soldiers appeared to enforce the Speaker's orders. Whereupon ALCALDE said: "Those who failed to attack the French attack the people. As the people are compelled to leave we will accompany them." ALCALDE and others then left the Hall. The remaining members went into secret session.

An incendiary set fire to and destroyed the greatest historical relic of the country, the celebrated tree of "Noche Triste," a souvenir of the night on which CORTES captured Mexico. The tree, which was at Popotla, near the capital, has been visited by thousands annually. Intense indignation is felt at the sacrilege. A man has been arrested on suspicion.

Guzman Still Victorious Over the Rebels—Raid by a Rebel Band at Barcelona—The Difficulty With Spain.

LAGUAYRA, May 8, via HAVANA, May 21.—President GUZMAN BLANCO has completely defeated SALAZAR. It is reported that SALAZAR escaped with only 200 men, and the Government troops are in close pursuit. The President has returned to Caracas. A band of revolutionists captured and held the town of Barcelona two days, but retired to the mountains after stealing $1,000 from the Custom-house and a cargo of merchandise which had arrived from St. Thomas. The popularity of President BLANCO is increasing.

The Spanish difficulty will be settled amicably. News has been received that Spain approves of Venezuela's course. Spanish frigates are still stationed at Puerto Cabello, Laguayra and Barcelona.

Annihilation of the Carlist Organization in the Province of Biscay.

MADRID, May 21.—Later dispatches from Biscay report that the Carlist organization in that province has been completely annihilated. Five thousand of the insurgents surrendered to the loyal forces on Sunday last. Order is now restored throughout the entire province.

HAYTI.

Documents to Complicate Baez in Cape Haytien Outbreak—The Guano Island of Navassa.

JACMEL, May 11, via HAVANA, May 21.—The President on the 9th inst. sent a message to Congress in which he says the country is quiet and her foreign relations satisfactory. Also, that the Government had documents in its possession to prove the complicity of BAEZ in the late revolutionary outbreak, and in the Cape Hayti expedition.

Negotiations are in progress with the United States Government for the restitution of Navassa Island, which has been worked by the American Guano Company for several years, although Haytien territory.

Debate in the National Assembly on the War Contracts—M. Rouher Defends the Imperial Government.

PARIS, May 21.—In the sitting of the National Assembly, this afternoon, M. ROUHER spoke for nearly three hours on a motion to interpellate the Government as to its intentions with regard to the war contracts. The floor and galleries were densely crowded. The speech was listened to with the deepest interest, and was frequently interrupted by applause. M. ROUHER disclaimed any intention of provoking a controversy. He defended Gen. PALIKAO from the charges made against his administration of affairs as Minister of War. He urged that the members of the Government, not the Government collectively, should be held responsible for their acts.

At the close of M. ROUHER'S speech the sitting was adjourned. President THIERS, GAMBETTA and AUDIFFRET PASQUIER will reply to-morrow.

TWEED'S CASE.

Proceedings in the Circuit Court at Albany—New-York Officials to be Tried After Jury Cases are Disposed of.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 21.—In the Circuit Court today, the cases of The People of the State of New-York vs. WM. M. TWEED, impleaded with INGERSOLL and others; People of the State of New-York vs. THOS. C. FIELDS and Mayor, &c., of New-York; and People of the State of New-York vs. RICHARD B. CONNOLLY, were called. Motion having been made by the counsel for the plaintiffs, pursuant to notice, that the argument of these cases be brought on and heard in preference, and counsel having been heard for the defendants, it was ordered that said motion stand over until the jury trials and the trials of fact by the Court be disposed of, and that it be then heard. Deputy Attorney-General Hon. Charles O'Conor and Messrs. Wheelers and Peckham appeared for the people; David Dudley Field, William Bartlett, John H. Reynolds and William Edelston for Tweed; George Ticknor Curtis for the City of New-York, and Samuel G. Courtney for Connolly. The counsel on both sides expressed their readiness to proceed with the cases without unnecessary delay. The case would not be heard until the jury cases were disposed of. Mr. PECKHAM gave notice that as soon as the time came during the Circuit when a jury case was not ready he would move the case. Mr. FIELD protested that it was not fair to compel a counsel to remain in constant attendance in the Court-room in order to be on hand when the people called the cases. The Court declined to make any order as to the exact time for calling the cases, but said it would not allow a snap judgment to be taken.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

TEUCHSA GRONDIE (a Legendary Poem) AND OTHER POEMS. By LEVI BISHOP. Albany: WEED, PARSONS & CO.

What possible excuse the author of this book can make for its publication is utterly beyond our comprehension. As a poem, it is the veriest doggerel; as a description of Indian life and character, it is false to absurdity, and withal, it lacks even the semblance of a connected story through its entire and wearisome length. With a vulgar ostentation, each of the twenty-seven cantos has received a separate dedication, by means of which the author has ingenuously succeeded in giving to the public a detailed account of his personal history and antecedents. The "Other Poems" are an improvement on the main one in no other feature but brevity. It seems never to have occurred to Mr. BISHOP that the faculty of rhyming is one possessed on an average by one person in every ten, and that, after a short practice, measured, meaningless verses can be turned off with an astonishing mechanical readiness. It is hard to be obliged to write disparagingly of any effort on which one has honestly expended time and thought, but the aggravation in this case is sufficient to justify far heartier condemnation than we now give.

STUDIES IN POETRY AND PHILOSOPHY. By J. C. SHAIRP. New-York: HURD & HOUGHTON.

Under this somewhat general title are to be found three delightful essays on WORDSWORTH, COLERIDGE and KEBLE, and, in addition, one called "The Moral Motive Power," which is in part a prolongation and ethical union of the former three. More able and scholarly works than these do not often appear; in literary style they approach to perfection; as poetical and philosophical criticisms, the essays are clear, broad and powerful; while the high moral conclusion, toward which all of the reasoning is directed, cannot fail to make them attractive to thoughtful readers. The author, President SHAIRP, of St. Andrew's University, has this advantage in writing as he does, that his acquaintance with the poets and their immediate friends has been a strongly personal one; and from this fact he is better able to judge of the influences that guided their lives than any writer hereafter will be likely to be.

SAUNTERINGS. By CHARLES DUDLEY WARNER. Boston: JAMES R. OSGOOD & CO.

To produce a fresh, entertaining account of European travels it is necessary for the writer to possess extraordinary qualifications. The subject has been worn threadbare, and the mere guide-book recital of what may be seen, will prove—as many writers and publishers have found—an exceedingly unprofitable occupation. The vital spark that can alone vivify a work of this nature must, therefore, proceed from the writer, and in this respect the originality of Mr. WARNER's mind is admirably sustained. There is a still fascination in the sketches entitled "Sorrento Days," a quiet humor in the descriptions of a Winter's Residence in Bavaria, and a bright gayety in the writing that record the wanderings over France, Germany and Switzerland, all of which are distinctly individual and befitting the subject treated.

HISTORICAL OUTLINE OF ENGLISH ACCIDENCE. By Rev. RICHARD MORRIS, LL. D. London: MACMILLAN & CO.

To make English grammar an entertaining study is a work which, if successfully accomplished, deserves the highest commendation. It is safe to say that ninety-nine persons out of every hundred are in ignorance of the laws which govern the construction of the simplest sentence, and this too, not from any unwillingness to learn, or want of application; but from the vague and unsatisfactory nature of the text-books in which they were instructed while young. The present work is not an elementary one, as it is intended for the use of students at colleges or high schools, but any one interested in the historical growth of our language will find great pleasure and profit in giving it a careful perusal.

SCIENCE PRIMERS; "INTRODUCTION," by Prof. HUXLEY; "CHEMISTRY," by Prof. ROSCOE; "PHYSICS," by Prof. BALFOUR STEWART. New-York: D. APPLETON & CO.

If the next generation is not thoroughly scientific in thought and feeling it will not be from want of proper instruction, for certainly no class of men were ever more active in promulgating knowledge than are a number of the leading English scientists. This last effort at popular instruction appears in the issue of a series of neat little books, which may be used at schools or at home in studying the principles of the respective sciences of which they treat. The idea is a capital one, and the names of the editors of the several books a guarantee that it has been faithfully carried out.

A DICTIONARY OF WORDS AND PHRASES USED IN COMMERCE. By THOMAS MCELRAITH. New-York: N. TIBBALLS & SON.

This is a work that will be readily appreciated by all business men, and particularly by those who are engaged in importing or exporting. The technical names for all kinds of merchandise are given and explained; there are short sketches of the principal commercial cities of the world; and the laws of tariff and the like, by which each nation regulates international intercouse, are very clearly set forth. The author has had exceptional advantages in preparing this book, and has produced a work of real merit.

FIRE INSURANCE CASES. By EDMUND H. BENNETT. (Vol. I.) New-York: HURD & HOUGHTON

The compiler of this work has collected all of the reported cases on Fire Insurance, in the legal records of England, Scotland, Ireland and America, from the earliest times to the present date, and by its means lawyers having cases of a like nature may be saved the inconvenience of searching through the many scattered volumes in which the adjudged cases have hitherto only been recorded. In each case Mr. BENNETT has given the opinion of the Court in full, and in important ones the arguments of counsel. The completing volume will appear in a few weeks.

CYCLOPÆDIA OF BIBLICAL, THEOLOGICAL AND ECCLESIASTICAL LITERATURE. (Vol. IV.) Prepared by Rev. JOHN MCCLINTOCK, D. D., and JAMES STRONG, S. T. D. New-York: HARPER & BROTHERS.

This work, which is steadily progressing, will form, when completed, one of the highest standard authorities on all biblical matters. Not only have the editors exhibited great impartiality in their work, but in the long list of outside contributors who have assisted them may be found the names of distinguished scholars and critics professing almost every form of belief.

BEAUTY AND THE BEAST, AND TALES OF HOME. By BAYARD TAYLOR. New-York: G. P. PUTNAM & SONS.

In this book have been collected a number of charming stories, written in Mr. TAYLOR's happiest vein. The most important one, and that which gives the title to the volume, is a singular account of Russian life, as it was a hundred years ago—the incident narrated, which we have every reason to believe strictly true, seeming almost incredible. The stories relating to this side of the Atlantic are delightful love tales.

SHORT-TRIP GUIDE TO EUROPE. By HENRY MORFORD. (1872.) New-York: SHELDON & CO.

This work is especially adapted for the use of those who intend spending a vacation of eight or ten weeks in Europe. The suggestions given are clear and apposite; the routes laid out to be followed are such as to combine the greatest quantity of sight-seeing with the least amount of time; while the volume itself is small and compacted, and can be handily carried in the pocket or knapsack.

GOOD SELECTIONS IN PROSE AND POETRY. Compiled by W. M. JELLIFFE. New-York: J. W. SCHERMERHORN & CO.

Great care has been taken in the preparation of this book to make selection of real interest, and thus the result, given in a hundred and odd pages, is better than is generally found in volumes quadruple the size. The work will find a ready appreciation in schools and academies.

THE GENERAL CONFERENCE.

The Methodists' Election of Five Bishops —The Laymen Desire a Separate Vote.

The religious exercises of the Methodist Conference were conducted yesterday by Rev. Mr. TRIMBLE, of Ohio. The election of Bishops being the first business in order, Bishop SIMPSON appointed a committee of three, Messrs. MALLALIEN, MARLEY and STRATTON, to assist the Secretaries in keeping tally of the votes, and named the following gentlemen as tellers: Messrs. Ritchie, Quigg, Queal, Taylor, Woodward, Chelford, Ives, Gibson, Marshall, Dearing, Hoyt and Ingalls. It was agreed, after some discussion, that on any ticket containing more than eight names only the first eight be counted, and that all tickets folded together be thrown out of the count.

Mr. THOMPSON, a layman, expressed the hope that a separate vote be allowed to the laymen. The proposal created considerable dissatisfaction as it would establish a precedent that might lead to a dead-lock. Judge GOODRICH spoke at some length in opposition. He said that such a division as this would be the opening wedge to result in the development of a spiritual antagonism between the two bodies. When the lay delegation was admitted it was never intended that they should use their power in such a mischievous manner. A motion of Mr. HACKADORN to table the motion was lost.

Judge MCCALMONT raised the point of order that there being no proposition before the house all debate was out of order.

Bishop SIMPSON ruled, on a call for a separate vote of the orders, debate was in order. The decision of the Chair was appealed from, but was almost unanimously sustained.

Mr. OLIN inquired whether a separate vote could be called for by a portion of the Conference upon a question the decision of which renders a majority of the whole necessary?

The Chair ruled that a separate vote would be in order, saying that the right of every individual member was as sacred as the right of the majority.

Mr. ALBRECHT moved that the roll of the lay delegates be called to see whether there was a sufficient number to sustain the call for a separate vote. A vote of one-third was requisite, and the number in favor fell short by two or three. Upon the announcement of the fact the audience applauded heartily, but were checked by Bishop SIMPSON, who stated that if the disturbance were renewed he should call upon the Police to clear the galleries. The Conference was not to be insulted.

The voting was then begun. The mode of election was by ballot, the twelve tellers distributed about the floor, receiving the votes of each delegation in the order of the Conferences, the name of each delegate being called aloud by the teller as he voted. After the votes were cast, the tellers retired and with the secretaries and their assistants counted the votes—to expediate the counting, the votes were separated into three lots, each of which was counted by four tellers.

Upon the retirement of the tellers, Rev. Bishop JANES assumed the chair temporarily. Bishop RICHARDSON, of Canada, addressed the Conference in regard to Methodism in that country. He was ordained in 1827, and said he should return to his home more than ever convinced of the power and influence of that Church which acknowledged JOHN WESLEY as its founder.

Bishop SIMPSON having resumed the chair, the Committee on Education presented a report recommending Brother JACOBY to his brethren in America; also a report in reference to a greater uniformity in the government of Methodist colleges, and recommending that no more degrees of doctor of divinity be conferred for some time to come. Dr. CARLTON asked for a suspension of the rules, in order that he might present a paper in reply to Dr. LANAHAN's report. The motion was carried, and the paper, which was a direct contradiction of Dr. LANAHAN's allegations, was read.

At this juncture the tellers returned with their report, and the following was announced as the result by Bishop SIMPSON:

Whole number of ballots cast, 408; number required to elect a candidate, 205. Dr. HARRIS received 270, Dr. BOWMAN 293, and Dr. FOSTER 232. Those gentlemen were thereupon declared elected Bishops, amid the applause of the audience. The following table shows the distribution of the vote:

Dr. E. S. Andrews, New-York, East Conference, 111 votes; Dr. T. Bowman, Indiana, 293; Dr. Brush, Upper Iowa, 50; Dr. B. F. Crary, St. Louis, 82; Dr. T. W. Eddy, Baltimore, 105; Dr. C. D. Foss, New-York, 85; Dr. Foster, New-York, 232; Dr. C. H. Fowler, Rock River, Ill., 84; Dr. E. O. Haven, Detroit, 180; Rev. G. Haven, New-England, 148; Dr. W. L. Harris, Central Ohio, 270; Dr. Kynett, Ohio, 57; Dr. Merrill, Ohio, 170; Dr. J. T. Peck, Central New-York, 161; Dr. Newman, Baltimore, 100; Dr. Wiley, New-Jersey, 170; Dr. J. M. Walden, Cincinnati, 90; Dr. J. M. Reid, Michigan, 111; Dr. J. C. Pershing, Pittsburg, 52; Dr. Hill, Erie, 38; D. J. Cummings, Erie, 58; Dr. Martin, Erie, 46; Rev. A. S. Hunt, Brooklyn, 32.

The Conference then adjourned to 3½ P. M. Upon reassembling another ballot was taken in the same manner as the first, which resulted in the election of two additional Bishops, by the following vote: Dr. J. W. WYLIE, 256; Dr. S. M. MERRELL, 233.

After some further routine business the Conference adjourned.

Long Island Diocesan Convention—Opening Services of the Third Annual Session.

The third annual Diocesan Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Churches of Long Island held its opening session yesterday morning in the Church of the Holy Trinity, corner of Clinton and Montague streets, Brooklyn. About 200 persons were present. The morning session was devoted entirely to religious exercises, conducted by Bishop LITTLEJOHN. The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. DILLER, who took his text from Luke xi., 21, 22.

At 1 P. M. the Convention reassembled. Forty-two clergymen answered to their names, besides a large number of lay delegates, and the Secretary announced that out of fifty-nine parishes entitled to lay representation, forty-one were represented. Rev. Dr. DARWIN was elected Secretary, Mr. ALEXANDER as Treasurer, and Rev. E. D. COOPER, Rector of the Church of the Redeemer, at Astoria, as Assistant Secretary.

The Chairman, Hon. Bishop LITTLEJOHN, then announced the following Standing Committees:

On Incorporation and Admission of Churches—Rev. Richard B. Duane, D. D., N. D. Morgan, Judge Moore.

On the Diocesan Fund—Rev. Jacob N. Diller, D. D., Rev. Dr. R. Drewer, Augustus E. Masters, Thomas Messenger, Alex. W. Blake.

On Treasurer's Report—Hosea Webster, Hon. J. N. Lawrence, Alex. E. Orr.

On General Theological Seminary—Rev. T. Stafford Drowne, D. D., Rev. Thomas Mallady, Henry E. Pierrepont, John A. King, Wm. A. Mulligan.

On Canons—Rev. Chas. Hall, D. D., Rev. Robert T. Pierson, Rev. W. H. Moore, Hon. J. W. Gilbert, Hon. J. W. Hunter, Wm. Floyd Jones.

Inspectors of Elections for the Clerical Vote—Rev. H. M Beare.

For the Lay Vote—Rev. J. W. Buckmaster.

Missionary Vote—For the Clerical Vote—Rev. M. Cooke.

Lay Vote—W. L. Parker.

The Convention then adjourned, after agreeing to attend the reception of Bishop LITTLEJOHN in the new building of the Church Charity Foundation, at East New-York, in the evening.

AFFAIRS IN ENGLAND.

The London Season and the Rush to Town—Distinguished Visitors—Sights About the Metropolis—Women in Parliament—A Defeated Measure.

From Our Own Correspondent.

LONDON, Monday, May 6, 1872.

May has set in bright and gay, and we may now almost consider ourselves in the height of the season. London is now more crowded than it has been for some years. We have a King and an Empress among our guests—the King of the Belgians, and the Empress of Germany, or German Empress, as the purists insist upon calling her. The Emperor's correct title is Emperor, not of, but in Germany, implying sovereign authority without territorial property, and perhaps the distinction is an important one. But I observe that the Court Circular, which is issued under the personal supervision of the Queen, calls our visitor Empress of Germany, and in doing the same I shelter myself under this august authority. The Empress is staying with the Queen, at Windsor Castle, but is expected in town today, at the drawing-room, Buckingham Palace. The King of the Belgians is at Claridge's Hotel, but goes to Windsor this week. Meanwhile, he is doing his sight-seeing briskly, with much of his father's ability, sound commonsense and diplomatic astuteness. LEOPOLD II. has a freshness and geniality which were wanting in LEOPOLD I. He is probably the gayest, most good-natured, pleasant-mannered King in the world. He is a tall, good-looking man, with a frank, open face, and makes a capital figure on horseback. Partly, no doubt, from policy, but partly, also, from an inherited attachment to the country, he has always made a point of cultivating English society. He has a large circle of English acquaintances. All this week he has been paying and receiving visits. He has found time, also, to take a look at the academy, and peep into various private studios. Belgium art, which combines in a striking manner some of the characteristics of the old Flemish and modern French schools, made a great show at the last South Kensington exhibition, and this year also attracts favorable attention, owes much to the liberal and discriminating patronage of the King. Royalty apart, we have a considerable influx of foreign guests. Recent events have tended to make London the financial centre of Europe, and it is also becoming a fashionable resort. Its attractions are certainly small compared with those of Paris or Vienna. A great deal, however, has lately been done to beautify this vast, overgrown metropolis. The West End parks have been greatly improved, and there is, perhaps, hardly any other capital which has so much fine scenery in its immediate neighborhood. Just now, when the limes are at their best, when the chestnuts are beginning to blossom, and when sward and leafage are alike in their greenest and freshest, London is by no means a bad place for a little holiday. The worst of it is that this freshness is of such brief duration. In a few weeks it will fade and dry up, and the foliage will be of an Autumn yellow almost before the Summer is half over.

GROWING WEALTH AND LUXURY.

The throng of riders in Rotten-row of a morning, the throng of carriages in the Ride, in Bond-street and other fashionable haunts in the afternoon, seems to increase every year. From all parts of the country people seem to flock to town now for the season. It is in the provinces that wealth is accumulating, but it is in London that it is displayed. In Glasgow, for example, enormous fortunes are being heaped up. I have heard it estimated, on good authority, that the BAIRDS, of Gartsherrie, who stand at the head of the Scotch iron-masters, are making over five hundred thousand pounds a year in clear profit, and other firms are coining money with equal ease and rapidity, though not quite to the same extent. Lancashire and Staffordshire, and the new mineral districts of Yorkshire, are not less fortunate than Lanarkshire. In all parts of the country, and in nearly all trades, similar prosperity is observable. There are still apprehensions of a disturbance in the money market when Germany calls in its bullion, but for the present business of all kinds is extremely active. A general election would have a very bad effect on all this, and hence the anxiety of the House of Commons not to carry its dislike of the present Ministry to such a point as to provoke a dissolution. Every effort will be made to keep GLADSTONE in office for another year, at least. All this prosperity, of course, tells on social life. The financial crisis of 1866, the German war of that year, and the great war of the year before last, produced effects which were to be traced to the domestic habits, not only of middle-class but of rich households. There was, for some time, a general drawing in of expenditure; but now the tendency is the other way. Everything promises that this will be an exceedingly gay and brilliant season. At the same time, prices are rising, labor of all kinds is dear, and we are already beginning to realize the consequences of French taxation. Silks, and hats, and gloves and numerous other articles are all much dearer. As for Champagne, real Champagne, one must be a Duke or an iron-master, or must sit at the feasts of Dukes and iron-masters to know what it is now. One of the miseries of the inner circles of society is that the outer circles are continually pressing in on them, and encroaching upon what used to be considered sacred ground. Once the great folk were accustomed to promenade on Sunday afternoons in Hyde Park by the side of the Serpentine, but they were mobbed away. Next they took refuge in the Zoölogical Gardens in Regent's Park, to which, on Sundays, admission can be obtained only by a Fellow's order; but here again they have been swamped by the crowd. What the poor people will do now I don't know; perhaps they will have to stop at home. Last Saturday night, at the private view of the International Exhibition at South Kensington, the somebodies were utterly overwhelmed in a common throng of nobodies; at one moment the crush was terrific; ladies in hysteric, some fainting, men shouting and pushing, and everything portending a free fight among the pictures and porcelain. The crush at the private view of the Royal Academy, yesterday afternoon, was only not quite so bad. In the Row and the Ride the genuine "swells" are lost in the ranks of shoddy, and even real shoddy is roughly elbowed by sham shoddy on half-guinea hacks and broughams by the hour. In fact, London society, in its old sense, is rapidly becoming disorganized; and the present state of things is enough to make Major Pendennis turn in his grave.

WOMEN IN PARLIAMENT.

Last week was an evil week for the women, for the women's rights women, I mean. JACOB BRIGHT (brother of the great orator, and, in a small way, an orator himself) brought on his annual bill for giving unmarried (not married) women votes at Parliament elections, on Wednesday. It was not expected that the motion would be carried, but it was thought that at least the majority against it would show a sensible diminution as compared with former years. JOHN BRIGHT was on this occasion to speak for the first time since his illness. DISRAELI, who had encouraged the movement, was to come out strong for it; and GLADSTONE, who had been trembling on the verge of conviction, was to announce his adhesion. The enemies of female suffrage might perhaps have a bare numerical preponderance, but all the eloquence and authority were to be on the other side. These were the expectations with which the devotees of women's rights looked forward to the debate. On Wednesday the House of Commons was thronged with women in every part to which they could gain admission. The ladies' gallery, a large wire cage above the reporters, was packed with women, who had heroically abandoned crinolines in order to economize space. The spread of flounces, the blooming of gay ribbons, and the flutter of lace handkerchiefs might also be observed behind the glass partition at the back of the strangers' gallery, and in certain other privileged nooks and corners. It was even rumored that a strong female contingent had penetrated to the cellars used for ventilating purposes, below the floor of the House, and there listened to the eloquence from above as it came through the gratings, mellowed and muffled by the matting. Even if the fair sex had been neither seen nor heard, even if there had been no glimpses of many-colored raiment, no flapping of fans, rustling of skirts, or busy buzz of whispered talk, its presence might have been detected by its evident effect on the members below. It was impossible not to observe a certain spruceness in their attire, a studied elegance of attitude, and heroic elevation in their way of brushing their hair, which sufficiently indicated the eyes that were upon them. The men wore white waistcoats, more flowers in button-holes than usual. Mr. JACOB BRIGHT began the debate. His argument was that, as women have to pay taxes and are not allowed to disobey the laws, they are entitled to votes. Women were vain and frivolous now, but give them votes, and they would soon become grave and intellectual. Four years ago one woman had come forward to demand the franchise for her sex; now he could have forty women, many of them with "position and wealth," and "all women of character," who agitated this question on public platforms. It was very hard that married women should have their property placed at the disposal of their husbands, and Mr. BRIGHT signalized the Contagious Diseases act as an illustration of the sort of legislation which would not be permitted if women were in Parliament. Mr. EASTWICK, who once filled a diplomatic position in the East, and who has been Under-Secretary for India in a Conservative Government, seconded the motion. He admitted that in the United States women could have the franchise if they desired it, but that it was evident they would rather be without it. His explanation of this was that—

"The suffrage in the States was so common that it was not worth having, and was so corruptly dealt with, that no respectable woman would touch it. Who," he asked, "would set store by a suffrage to be shared, he would not say with the Heathen Chinee, for he might be an honest fellow, but with every vagabond who had reached his twenty-first year?"

Moreover, American women knew that if there was to be a female suffrage, it must be given to married as well as unmarried women, and the nuisance of a vast multitude of citizens would thus be increased. As the suffrage was limited in England, and as it was proposed that spinsters alone should have it, these objections did not apply. Moreover, American women had already got all they wanted, and had, therefore, no object in seeking the franchise. Mr. EASTWICK appeared to be quite unconscious that his speech went dead against the bill he supported. For, if women in the United States have got all they want without votes, there is no reason why they should in this country require votes to place themselves in an equally good position. Moreover, the common-sense objection to giving votes only to unmarried, and not to married, women, which is appreciated in the States, holds equally good here. As to the vulgarity of the suffrage, which Mr. EASTWICK spoke of with such Conservative contempt, he might have reflected that his own party in a desperate grasp at power lowered the franchise to a point at which it must soon descend to universal suffrage. It is clear that the bill was not fortunate in its supporters. Mr. BRIGHT was certainly indiscreet in the emphasis which he laid on the opposition of the women's rights people to the legislation which is designed to protect innocent women and children from disease. Whatever may be thought of the expediency or propriety of such legislation, it is impossible not to be revolted by the unscrupulous falsehoods of its opponents, and the morbid delight which they have taken in disseminating filthy tracts, thrusting them even into private houses and into the hands of women and children. I have had some experience of political agitations, but I never saw or heard of anything so utterly disgraceful as the tactics of these fanatics. As Mr. BRIGHT had made so much of the wrongs of married women, he referred briefly to Mr. BOUVERIE's remark that it was difficult to see how those wrongs could be remedied by giving votes, not to married, but to unmarried women. Mr. BOUVERIE also pointed out that if the bill passed, an addition of from 320,000 to 330,000, or between twelve and a half and thirteen per cent. would be made to the number of voters. If all women had votes, there would be 350,000 more women than men with votes, and, as Mr. BRIGHT informed them that the women were in a state of chronic opposition to the men upon almost every question of public policy, the whole administration of the country would thus be revolutionized. The bill was regarded as an "open question" by the Government, that is to say, members of the Government could vote for or against it as they chose. Mr. KNATCHBULL HUGESSEN—Under Secretary for the Colonies—joined the opponents of the measure. It was, he said, a bill to add to the duties, burdens and responsibilities of women, to amend the laws of creation, and to revise the old relations between the sexes. He hinted slyly that, if married women were to be excluded from the suffrage while single women were admitted, women might thus be led to regard matrimony as something discreditable, and might prefer an engagement of a less disfranchising character. The Irish Attorney-General spoke on the same side, answering a speech of the English Attorney-General, who, out of admiration for Queen ELIZABETH, Queen ANNE and Queen VICTORIA, thought that women should have votes. The Irish Attorney said that two years ago he voted for this bill, and when he told a lady what he had done, she replied that he might easily have been better employed, and he had satisfied himself that this was the opinion of the great majority of women. Other members also gave the same reason for voting against the bill. Neither Mr. JOHN BRIGHT, Mr. GLADSTONE nor Mr. DISRAELI took part in the debate. Mr. DISRAELI voted for the bill by pairing, but Mr. BRIGHT and Mr. GLADSTONE held aloof. When the division took place, the bill was rejected by a majority of 118, a majority larger than that of last year.

Suit Against Judge Kivlin—An Alleged Conspiracy to Defraud—A Son Says he has not had his Share of his Father's Estate.

The case of WILLIAM P. POWERS against ANN POWERS and Justice THOMAS KIVLIN was before Judge CURTIS in Superior Court, Special Term, yesterday. The whole property left by plaintiff's father, it appeared from the testimony, did not exceed $40,000, to share in which, according to law, were plaintiff's mother, a brother, and a sister who had married the defendant, THOMAS KIVLIN, Judge of the First District Court. Plaintiff's claim was, that when drunk he was induced by his brother-in-law, KIVLIN, and his mother, the two defendants, (the mother is since dead,) to sign a deed whereby his share in his father's estate, less his mother's right of dower, was conveyed to the latter for a nominal consideration of $5,000, which sum, even if he had voluntarily signed the deed, he claimed never to have received. He therefore asks that the deed be annulled, and he be awarded his proportionate share of the estate. On cross-examination, both of plaintiff and other witnesses on his behalf, it appeared that he had received $1,000 of the amount of this consideration in sums of $600, $100 and $300, and that on several occasions subsequent to the execution of the deed plaintiff admitted to other parties that he had signed away all his claims on the estate to his mother. On behalf of defendants, testamony was produced to the effect that at the time of his father's death plaintiff was put in charge of the liquor-store in Chambers-street, previously kept by his father; that at the time of taking such possession the store was fully stocked with liquors, also wines and cigars; that during the period between the time plaintiff took charge of the store and its final sale to him by his mother, plaintiff retained and used all the receipts, while during the same period, by his mother's direction Judge KIVLIN paid for new stock and rent, about $11,000; that the settlement under which the deed of plaintiff was executed had been talked over for months among all the parties before being made, and was intended as a fair family settlement, taking into account what the plaintiff and his brother had already drawn out of the estate; that when he (plaintiff) signed the deed, he was perfectly conscious of what he was doing and said to his mother that it would deprive him of all further claim on the estate, to which his mother replied that, he knew he owed it to her and ten times more; and, in any event, he (plaintiff) had received in all about $12,000, which much exceeded his share, taking the property left by his father at its actual value. It was claimed on behalf of plaintiff that some of these payments having been made by KIVLIN individually, they could not be credited to the estate; but, it appearing that the payments had been made at the solicitation of Mrs. POWERS, the mother, the Court admitted them.

The case is still on.

TUESDAY, May 21—P. M.

There is increasing ease in the Money market and a growing strength and activity on the Stock Exchange this week, and the speculation today in the Railroads and some of the leading Miscellaneous Stocks, like Pacific Mail and Western Telegraph, was unusually spirited and even more general than yesterday. The Mail Stock touched 87½ ₱ cent. and the Telegraph 78 ₱ cent. at the height of the movement, while the advance was quite general though not so large in the New-York and Western Roads on a large business. Erie Stock was an exception to the advance, the London telegrams failing to respond to the large rise in the Stock here on Monday. The fluctuations in Erie were between 72½@74 ₱ cent. New-York Central Stock was firm and in demand, and the Certificates sold largely at 93¾ ₱ cent.

The Public Funds continued firm, and there was a further rise in the New 5 ₱ cent. Loan to 112⅛@112¼ ₱ cent. The Southern State Bonds were better on Tennessees, Virginias and South Carolinas. The Railway Mortgages generally firm on moderate investment orders.

The sales of Gold were ⅛@¼ ₱ cent. higher than the closing figure of yesterday. Business was done at 113⅛@113¼ ₱ cent. The Gold Room is free from speculative excitement. The Customs demand this week is over $500,000 a day, while the Export demand is less than last week. Exchange is steadier at 109¼@109½ ₱ cent. for 60 days London—a fair business done for Wednesday's mail.

After the Second Board the Stock Exchange continued active and firm to about 4 o'clock P. M., when there was some reaction from the best prices of Pacific Mail, Western Telegraph and some of the Railroads—the most prominent fall being in Erie Stock to 71¾ ₱ cent.

The Express Stocks are all showing much strength of demand and a rapid advance in price at the Stock Exchange. Adams is about 98 ₱ cent. ex quarterly Dividend of 2 ₱ cent. Wells-Fargo advanced today to 95@96 ₱ cent.; United States to 82½@83 ₱ cent., and American Merchants 78@79 ₱ cent., including June Dividend of 3 ₱ cent. It is supposed that the Wells-Fargo Stock goes up on the control of the California business of the Company by the Central Pacific people, who are large holders of the Stock. The United States Stock has been steadily advancing since the Gould-Fisk administration has been superseded. The Erie Road is one of the principal routes of the United States Express, and under the Ring rule for several years past no permanent arrangement or contract for the transportation of the Express cars could be relied upon. The case is different under the new administration. All the Companies are doing an unexampled business this Spring. The distribution of Express Goods from New-York to the interior was never so large.

The extra pay of $500,000 per annum to the Pacific Company for the Mail service to Japan and China was finally voted by Congress today by way of amendment to the Post-office Appropriation Bill. The contract is now $1,000,000 a year for the semi-monthly service. The final vote in the House on concurring with the report of the Committee of Conference in favor of the increased pay and service was 109 Yeas to 86 Nays.

This afternoon it transpired that a Mr. MCILVAIN, junior partner of E. P. SELMERS & Co., Stock Brokers in Broad-street, had suddenly disappeared with Money or Stock Securities supposed to amount to about $40,000. The senior partner of the firm is reported sick, and not at his office today. The loss to other Brokers is reckoned at $27,000, and to the Bank with which the firm dealt, $10,800.

A rumor, said to come from London, that Mr. THOMAS A. SCOTT, of the Pennsylvania Central, has been tendered the Presidency of the Erie Railroad, is partially supported by intimations to the same effect from Philadelphia. It looks as though Mr. SCOTT might have his hands full and his brain well exercised with railroad responsibilities after a while.

Among the passengers who returned home by the Russia, last evening, were Mr. WILLIAM B. DUNCAN, (of DUNCAN, SHERMAN & Co.,) and family.

The earnings of the St. Louis and Iron Mountain Railroad for the second week in May were:

1872	$47,881
1871	29,163
Increase, 1872	$18,718
Jan. 1 to May 15—1872	883,508
1871	581,817
Increase, 1872	$301,691

The return from the Bank of England for the week ended the 8th of May, 1872, gives the following results when compared with the previous week:

Rest	£3,185,641	Increase	£22,411
Public deposits	10,181,990	Increase	244,255
Other deposits	19,492,204	Increase	235,917
Government securities	13,308,829	Increase	2,742
Other securities	24,540,063	Increase	1,184,103
Notes unemployed	9,469,935	Decrease	587,635

The amount of notes in circulation is £25,860,780, being a decrease of £61,810, and the stock of bullion in both departments is £20,789,932, showing a decrease of £765,523 when compared with the preceding return. Subjoined is a comparison of the present position of the Bank of England and the prices of Consols and French Rentes with the corresponding week of last year:

	At Present.	Last Year.
Bullion	£20,789,932	£23,316,811
Reserve	9,929,152	13,874,298
Notes in circulation	25,860,780	24,442,513
Rate of discount	5 per cent.	2½ per cent.
Consols	92⅝	93⅜

The week's exports of Domestic Produce have been to the currency value of $3,936,595.

FISK & HATCH, BANKERS,
NO. 5 NASSAU-ST., NEW-YORK.

The magnitude and importance of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD, as a short, low-grade, economical line of transportation between tide-water navigation and the principal cities of the Western States, is becoming more apparent as it approaches completion. Less than 100 miles of track remain to be laid to unite the Eastern and Western Divisions, upon which over 5,000 men are employed; the opening of the Through Line by Autumn next is assured. The development of traffic on this thoroughfare will be immediate and very large; the mineral traffic alone, furnished by iron and coal deposits along the route, will be sufficient to render it one of the most prosperous and profitable lines of communication in the country.

THE SIX PER CENT. BONDS OF THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY are entirely safe and satisfactory Securities for investment. Price, 94 and accrued interest. Interest payable May and November. Principal and interest payable in Gold in the City of New-York. Denominations, $1,000, $500 and $100, Coupon or Registered. Full information furnished on application.

THE BONDS OF THE CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY, originally negotiated by us, which we now buy and sell at market rates, are widely known and highly esteemed in all the principal money markets of the world, and are dealt in at all the principal Stock Exchanges in this country and Europe, where they take rank in popularity and market value next to the Bonds of the U. S. Government. Present market price about 103.

We buy and sell GOVERNMENT BONDS, receive deposits, and allow interest on balances make collections, issue certificates of deposit, and do a general banking business.

FISK & HATCH.

The St. Joseph and Denver City Railroad Company's 1st MORTGAGE BONDS

are being absorbed by an increasing demand for them.

Secured as they are by a first mortgage on the road, land grant, franchise, and equipments, combined in one mortgage, they command at once a ready market.

A liberal sinking fund provided in the mortgage deed must advance the price upon the closing of the loan. Principal and interest payable in GOLD. Interest at eight (8) per cent. per annum. Payable semi-annually, free of tax. Principal in thirty years. Denominations, $1,000, $500 and $100. Coupons or Registered.

Price 97½ and accrued interest, in currency, from Feb. 15, 1872.

Maps, circulars, documents, and information furnished.

Trustees, Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of New-York.

Can now be had through the principal banks and bankers throughout the country, and from the undersigned, who unhesitatingly recommend them.

The O'Donnell Murder Case—"Col." Fellows Forced by the Court to Take Action.

In the Court of General Sessions yesterday, Recorder HACKETT, the presiding Judge, drew the attention of Assistant District-Attorney FELLOWS to the case of MICHAEL HAYES, who was indicted on a charge of having murdered JAMES O'DONNELL, fifteen years ago, and who was recently released on his own recognizances. It has been already stated in the TIMES that this case was set down on the calendar for trial eight different times, but in each instance the prosecuting witness, a man named ROCHESTER, failed to put in an appearance. Finally, the case was put down peremptorily for trial ten days ago, and ROCHESTER not having then attended, HAYES was discharged, as already stated. With these circumstances in view, the Recorder remarked that, if innocent, it was not right that this charge should continue to hang over the head of HAYES, untried, at the whim or caprice of the prosecuting witness.

Mr. FELLOWS, on behalf of the District-Attorney, recapitulated all the circumstances in connection with this indictment, to which publicity has already been given. The prosecution had made the utmost efforts to secure a trial, but ROCHESTER, who appeared most anxious to bring the matter to an issue, never presented himself on the day fixed for trial, and of necessity the case had to be postponed from time to time. ROCHESTER he described as a person invariably under the influence of drink, and whose statements were altogether unreliable.

Mr. FELLOWS then made a formal application for a bench warrant for the arrest and detention of ROCHESTER. The warrant was issued, and ROCHESTER was arrested by Officers JARBOE and SHALVEY, and lodged in the Seventh Ward Police Station. The case will probably come on before the Court in a few days.

Another Wall-Street Defalcation.

A small "defalcation," which is the customary Wall-street word for stealing, was reported down-town yesterday. The senior member of a firm of stock brokers has been out of town for some days on account of ill-health, it is said, and yesterday it was discovered that the younger partner had "improved the shining hours" by running away with all the available assets of the concern, amounting to about $38,000, in his pocket.

Arraignment of Stokes.

EDWARD S. STOKES, who has been indicted by the Grand Jury for the murder of JAMES FISK, Jr., will be arraigned before Judge INGRAHAM, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, this morning. The prisoner will be represented by Mr. MCKEON only, the remainder of his counsel having retired from the case some few weeks since. This may possibly involve an additional delay of some weeks, so that there is not much probability of having the case prosecuted to the jury before the 1st of July.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS—MAY 21.

Before Judge Leonard.

THE AVENUE C RAILROAD MORTGAGES.

In re Ebenezer Bedelstein et al.—This was a proceeding on the part of plaintiffs, a majority of the mortgagees of the Avenue C Horse Railroad, who hold the first mortgage bonds, to remove Shepherd Knapp as trustee. The motion was offered on the ground that it was discretionary with the Court, and plaintiffs, holding a mortgage on only the body of the road, while the minority held a mortgage on the head and tail, the trustee, who wished to foreclose both mortgages at once and divide the money justly between all, should not be removed. For plaintiffs it was contended that they were entitled to foreclose their first mortgage alone: that the second mortgage bondholders could buy in if they wanted to save themselves; and they (plaintiffs) want a trustee in their interest, so that when sale was made on their behalf the money would not be tied up for an unlimited time in Court.

Attempt to Shoot a Policeman—A Desperate Struggle.

Between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday morning Officer FORD, of the Thirty-first Precinct, noticed a fellow prowling about the rear of Sheriff BRENNAN's residence, at Ninety-ninth-street and Broadway, and evidently with no honest intent. The officer attempted to arrest him, when the man, pulling out a revolver, fired two shots in rapid succession at him, but fortunately without effect. With a blow of his baton the officer knocked the pistol out of the ruffian's hand, and a desperate struggle ensued, from which the policeman came off victor. The prisoner, when taken to the Station house, gave his name as CONRAD KEINST, and was recognized as a noted desperado. Justice MCQUADE, at the Fifth District Police Court, committed him for trial on a charge of felonious assault.

APPEAL.—ON THE 1ST DECEMBER, 1831, was born at Sonnenburg, Government District Frankfurt, in the Kingdom of Prussia, FRANK REINHOLD EDWARD NOETZEL, baker by trade, afterward merchant, a son of the late Friedrich Noetzel, master car builder. The same emigrated to America in the Spring, 1856, according to a passport delivered to him on the 1st of March, 1856, and has resided for some time in California, but since his last letter, dated from Agua Fria, on the 2d February, 1862, nothing more has been heard from him, therefore the said Frank Reinhold Edward Natzel, or in case of his death, his unknown heirs, are hereby subpœnaed to appear in person, or to communicate by writing, on or before the 13th of March, 1873, at 11 o'clock A. M., at the time appointed by this Court, in Room No. 1, presided by the District Judge Raabe, and to await further instructions. If he or them should fail to do so, the said Franz Reinhold Edward Noetzel will be declared dead according to law, and all his property, which is now under administration here, will be given up to his known legitimate heirs under exclusion of all claims by unknown heirs, according to section 834, sq. title 18, July 2, general law of this country.—Sonnenburg, the 18th April, 1872. Royal District Court Deputation.

NEW-YORK SUPREME COURT.—City and County of New-York.—SOLOMON BEUTHNER, plaintiff, against JULIUS FRIEDMANN, defendant.—To the defendant: You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint in this action, which will be filed in the office of the Clerk of the City and County of New-York, at the new County Court-house, New-York City, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the subscriber, at his office, No. 302 Broadway, in the City of New-York, within twenty days after the service of this summons on you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff in this action will take judgment against you for the sum of eighteen hundred and eighty-nine seventeen one hundred dollars, with interest on one thousand two hundred and fifty-five dollars thereof, from April one, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, besides the costs of this action.—Dated May 7, 1872.

J. L. GOSLING, Plaintiff's Attorney.

The complaint in the above action was filed in the office of the Clerk of the City and County of New-York, on the 7th day of May, 1872.

DAILY, WEEKLY AND SEMI-WEEKLY.

This journal is now thoroughly identified with the greatest political necessity of the hour—uncompromising warfare against all forms of corruption, whether in national or local government. For years past the TIMES has been exposing the demoralising schemes of self-interested politicians, and its recent warfare upon the Tammany Democrats has been received with universal approval. It has adhered to the pledge given in its original prospectus, more than twenty years ago, that the public should be truly represented, and their interests faithfully guarded through its columns. Its record has been pure and honorable, and the highest aim of its proprietors is to render it more and more worthy of its past history, and of the confidence which the public repose in it. Two out of three of the original proprietors still direct its policy, and guide it on all public questions. They purpose that the TIMES shall continue to keep clear of all narrow and unworthy influences and cliques, and aim to represent the great body of the public, as distinguished from personal factions. It occupies a perfectly independent position, and is free to speak the truth on all subjects and about all men. Its greatly increased circulation throughout the country adds to its power and influence. It will continue to be a faithful exponent of Republican principles, recognizing the claims of American industry in adjusting the sources of revenue; and it will advocate with untiring energy every cause which tends to further the welfare of the people.

A very full summary of news, and many general articles of great interest, are published in the Semi-weekly editions; and in the Weekly edition there is an unabridged report of the proceedings at the Farmers' Club, an excellent summary of political information, and a great variety of matter suitable for family reading.

CAMPAIGN EDITION.

During the ensuing Presidential Canvass, we shall publish a Special Weekly Edition for the convenience of those who desire the latest and most trustworthy political intelligence.

The Campaign Edition of the New-York Times will be furnished to mail subscribers for the six months next ensuing, for the sum of FIFTY CENTS. All copies sent to the same Post-office to be mailed to one address.

The NEW-YORK TIMES is pre-eminently a family paper, all objectionable advertisements being rigidly excluded; and it has a constantly increasing circulation among the most respectable classes of the community.

TERMS TO MAIL SUBSCRIBERS.

The Daily Times, per annum, including the Sunday edition	$12
The Daily Times, per annum, exclusive of the Sunday Edition	10
The Sunday Edition, per annum	2
The European Edition, per annum, postage extra.	3

SPECIAL RATES FOR THE WEEKLY AND SEMI-WEEKLY TIMES FOR 1872.

The Weekly Times, per annum	$1 00
The Semi-Weekly Times, per annum	2 50

Subscriptions to either of our editions, except the Weekly, received for a less length of time than one year at the yearly rate.

The Semi-Weekly and Weekly mailed one year to clergymen at the lowest club rates.

These prices are invariable. Remit in drafts on New-York or Post-office Money Orders if possible, and where neither of these can be procured send the money in a registered letter.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES,
New-York City.

Notice.

We cannot notice anonymous communications. In all cases we require the writer's name and address, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

We cannot under any circumstances return rejected communications, nor can we undertake to preserve manuscripts.

To Advertisers.

☞ For the accommodation of up-town residents, advertisements for insertion in the Times will be received at No. 54 West 32d-st., junction of Broadway and 6th-av.; No. 308 West 23d-st., opposite Grand Opera-house, and No. 1,241 Broadway, between 30th and 31st sts., at same rates as are charged at office of publication.

☞ The New-York Times has opened a branch office in Brooklyn at No. 111 Fulton-st., junction of Fulton and Main, where advertisements will be received until 5 P. M.

☞ Throughout the Presidential canvass, we shall publish fuller reports of meetings and conventions in each State than any other New-York journal. Very full dispatches will be forwarded by telegraph, supplemented by careful letters. Our desire is to place before the public the latest and most trustworthy information, and we have made ample arrangements for that purpose.

Hon. James G. Blaine, the present Speaker of the House of Representatives, was yesterday renominated by the Republicans of his district, for the sixth time. There is happily no question of his re-election. Mr. Blaine's record is that of a candid, faithful, intelligent legislator. He has been a most laborious member of Congress, and his course thus far has been marked equally by discretion and sound sense on the one hand, and a conscientious devotion to principle on the other.

We are glad to find that the Reform members of the Common Council are exercising some little influence over the proceedings of the Aldermanic Boards. When the genuine product of a period of Tammany corruption, like Alderman Coman, professes extreme concern about the payment of a few thousand dollars for legal services which have saved the City hundreds of thousands, it is safe to conclude that the plunderers are seeking for some mode of revenge against the man who have foiled their attempts to rob the public. Alderman Vance made a very conclusive argument in favor of ignoring the Law Department of the City in such matters, by the unanswerable statement that no City officer, with any respect for himself or his office, would apply to that Department for advice or information. A similar move, directed against the employment of extra counsel by the Controller, was attempted in the Board of Assistant Aldermen, whose Law Committee will probably take the hint from the Board of Aldermen, and let the matter drop.

The Evening Post often remonstrates with other journals for doing what it deems an injustice to public men. Yet, like some other preachers, its practice ill accords with its precepts. For instance, it constantly states—repeating the statement only yesterday—that Senator Conkling ridicules measures of amnesty and civil service reform. Will the Post produce the slightest proof of this? What is the use of continually repeating an unfounded accusation against a man whose only offense has been that he thinks Gen. Grant makes a good President? At any rate, we invite the Post to quote any passage from any speech of Senator Conkling's which tends to substantiate its charge.

Mr. Peter Gilsey, for whose opinion we have the utmost respect, and in whose probity we, in common with the rest of the community, have implicit confidence, furnishes a satisfactory reply to our request for an explanation about the releasing of the Thirteenth-street Riding-School for an Armory. In the first place, the rent paid is not above its value, and in the next it is the only Armory in the City suitable for cavalry. This effectually disposes of any objection which can be urged against the renewal of the lease. We presume it will be found possible to accommodate here, the First and Third Regiments who have an armory at Nos. 37 and 39 Bowery, and the small corps of sixty-eight men who have quarters at Nos. 108 and 110 West Twenty-fourth-street. For one part of the Bowery Armory the City has been paying $4,500 a year, (the lease having just terminated;) for the other it is paying $9,000 a year, and of this the lease does not terminate till May, 1874. The West Twenty-fourth-street place costs the tax-payers $17,000 a year, and the lease extends till November, 1877. Of the $26,000 still being paid for the accommodation of a handful of cavalry, for whom suitable quarters have been secured at $7,500, we trust it may be possible to relieve the tax-payers. The validity of some of these armory leases ought to have been tested long ago, and we look to the Supervisors' Committee to cooperate with the Controller in the endeavor to break them up.

Our readers will find in another column a letter of Benj. S. Ewell, Adjutant-General of Gen. Jos. E. Johnston during the war. Prof. Ewell is the President of the venerable College of William and Mary in Virginia, and is a man of influence and ability. His views are unquestionably those of a wise and sincere man, and we shall give them the attention they deserve at a future day.

Mr. Greeley's official note of acceptance of the Cincinnati nomination will convey but little information to those desirous of knowing, where the ex-editor of the Tribune will stand in the event of the nomination of a straight Democratic ticket at Baltimore. It may be assumed, however, that the expression of confident trust that North and South will "clasp hands over the bloody chasm which has too long divided them," means that Mr. Greeley's candidature is conditional, as he has already intimated, upon a Democratic indorsement. The somewhat needless attempt at an "epitomized" platform, looks like a design to conceal how very little Mr. Greeley is, as yet, prepared to pledge himself to.

The Senate and Amnesty.

It is much to be hoped that, before adjournment, the Senate will grant to the country the general amnesty which the House of Representatives has several times approved, which President Grant has emphatically urged, and which the greater part of the Republican journals cordially sustain. It is difficult to conceive of any measure which the Senate could be called on to pass by a greater variety of weighty considerations. Foremost among these is the fact that amnesty is a measure of sound, practical government for the region to which it applies. We are aware that it is not usually defended by those who falsely claim to be its special friends on any ground so sober as this. The men who are trying to hoist themselves into power by making an outcry about "Southern grievances" urge rather the sentimental plea for amnesty. They represent it as one of the equal "rights" which the spirit of the times requires, or as an act of magnanimity calculated to bring to the support of the Government all who are now affected directly or indirectly by the disqualifying clauses of the Constitution.

We do not set much value on this view of the case. The disabilities imposed by the Constitution were never dictated by any feeling of cruelty, or even of anger. They were imposed because it was believed at the time that the results of the Union triumph,—particularly the civil and political equality of the freedmen, and the proper subordination of the States to the Union in the sphere of the latter—would not be safe if the most active promoters and supporters of the rebellion were allowed to resume immediately the immense power which they enjoyed, to the exclusion of all others, in the South before the war. Accordingly, a clause was framed which was designed to shut them out from all political offices until Congress, by a two-thirds vote, should declare its opinion that the restrictions could safely be removed. There is, therefore, in the excluded person or persons no "right" to amnesty, and whether it shall be granted, must be decided by the testimony as to whether the conduct of the Southern communities is such as to convince Congress that the disqualified class is no longer a dangerous class. We believe this to be substantially established, and that the time has come when the political skill, the personal energy and probity unquestionably existing among the disqualified classes, may be restored to the local Governments of the South without danger to the results of the war, which the reconstruction policy was meant to secure.

No better presentation of this sober, sensible view of the case has ever been made than by President Grant, in his last annual Message. In order to show the utter foolishness of those who blame the President for the failure to grant amnesty, we reprint his recommendation, and we would remark that the question is peculiarly a Congressional one, in that the two-thirds majority required to pass it would enable it to pass over the President's veto were it interposed:

> "More than six years having elapsed since the last hostile gun was fired between the armies then arrayed, the one for the perpetuation, the other for the destruction of the Union, it may well be considered whether it is not now time that the disabilities imposed by the Fourteenth Amendment should be removed. That amendment does not exclude the ballot, and only imposes the disability to hold office upon certain classes. When the purity of the ballot is secure, majorities are sure to elect officers reflecting the views of the majority. I do not see the advantage or propriety of excluding men from office, merely because they were, before the rebellion, of standing and character sufficient to be elected to positions requiring them to take oaths to support the Constitution, and admitting to eligibility those entertaining precisely the same views, but of less standing in their communities. It may be said that the former violated an oath, while the latter did not. The latter did not have it in their power to do so. If they had taken the oath, it cannot be doubted that they would have broken it as did the former class. If there are any great criminals distinguished above all others for the part they took in opposition to the Government, they might in the judgment of Congress be excluded from such an amnesty. This subject is recommended to your careful consideration. The condition of the Southern States is, unhappily, not such as all true patriotic citizens would like to see. Social ostracism for opinion's sake, personal violence, or threats toward persons entertaining political views opposed to those entertained by the majority of the old citizens, prevents immigration and the flow of much needed capital into the States lately in rebellion. It will be a happy condition of the country when the old citizens of these States will take an interest in public affairs, promulgate ideas honestly entertained, vote for men representing their views, and tolerate the same freedom of expression and of the ballot in those entertaining different political convictions."

The fact that the President has so deliberately and earnestly indorsed the policy of amnesty is something which, considering the overwhelming evidence of the popular confidence in the President that is coming in from every Republican State Convention, the Senate ought not to disregard. That body should certainly understand that the responsibility for any neglect to respond to the very clear wish of the people, and for rejecting the urgent advice of the President, lies wholly with itself. Gen. Grant has done all that he can do. He has exhausted all the power the Constitution gives him. The House has concurred in his recommendations, and the case remains with the Senate.

A third consideration presents itself at this juncture, with reference to amnesty. It is that the granting of it takes from the South every just cause of complaint, and makes it possible for the leading men of that section, who are not mere fire-eaters like Davis, to co-operate with the majority in the nation, and to take an honorable part in the political affairs both of their States and of the country. This was indicated in a very sensible letter from Col. Mosby, which we published yesterday.

The amnesty plank in Mr. Greeley's platform is almost the only strong one in it, because it is sustained by a certain superficial appearance of consistency which he has kept up on this subject. But what claim can he put forth to those who need amnesty in the South, or who favor it in the North, that can compare for a moment with the fact of amnesty granted by a Republican Congress, on the recommendation of a Republican President? If the Senate decides upon amnesty this week, Mr. Greeley's scattered following in the South would be immediately limited to those extreme men who hope to use him to advance their dangerous views—men represented by Mr. Greeley's friend, Jefferson Davis. For these we do not advocate amnesty. It could do no good to the country to grant it. But to the great body of the people, South and North, the policy is one of great promise, and we repeat our hope that the Senate will not deny it.

Eight-Hour Strikes.

There is no question that almost everybody nowadays works too hard. If the whole European and American world would consent to reduce their productions and their wants one-fifth, we believe they would be at least that proportion better off, mentally and morally. The grandest products of the human mind have come from those regions where climate and custom permit the needs of the body to be less, and the leisure for calm and elevated mental efforts to be proportionately greater. The religions of the world and its language of devotion have all come from the East. The Parthenon could never have been built, or the Apollo molded, in the midst of the intense competition and struggling haste of English and American civilization.

There is no nook or corner of Great Britain or the United States calm and undisturbed enough, with so little of the "struggle for existence," as to even permit the existence of a modern Socrates or Plato. The fact that in Greece, and Palestine, and India, nature permitted man to live with so little labor and exposure, alone almost accounts for the great contributions these countries have made to the highest thoughts of the race. If all people in Great Britain and this country would unanimously give up one-fifth of their labor and one-fifth of their luxuries, we should certainly have a simpler and healthier life, and would perhaps add more to the world's real treasures. But as this is impossible, the question arises, "Can one class cut off one-fifth of its labor and its wants?" The laboring classes of this City are not, however, exactly attempting this. They are trying to burn the candle at one end, and to keep as much of the other as they can. They will reduce their labor, and retain their wants. They will cut off one-fifth of their toil, and keep the full equivalent of labor; in other words, they claim twenty per cent. higher wages.

This claim, if supported by rational and legal means, is perfectly proper and legitimate. There is no exact division of the profits of capital; there is no fixed "wage-fund;" labor may at one time get more of this profit and at another less. The laborers are now in fact striking for higher wages; they may not get all they ask, but they will get something. There are, however, several dangers before them in this effort which they would do well to consider. For the past few years, capital has not had a very successful career. Our taxation has fallen upon it with great heaviness. We suspect that the laborer's wages have taken a large proportion of its profits. It is clear that in certain branches, such as the manufacture of machinery, the taxation and the strikes have fairly driven capital from the field. Our machine-shops and engine-yards are closed, and the laborers are left in destitution.

It is among the possibilities that the masons, and brick-layers, and plumbers, and carpenters may produce a similar effect in their trades; that is, capital may find it more profitable to build railroads or work farms at the West than to build houses here and our population may be still further driven from the City by high rents. There is a limit to the exactions of labor, and capital may be approaching it. Then, again, strikes of course add to the prices of the commodities the laborers produce. A rise of twenty per cent. in wages means a certain rise in commodities. These strikes will make every house, and store, and shop dearer in New-York next year. Rents will be higher, and then the prices of almost every article sold in shops. Labor itself may be driven away from the City by them. If the strikes spread through the county, all commodities will rise, and the laboring classes will be but little better off.

But how will the laborers of this City use their eight hours? The upper mechanics will, we believe, be benefited by a shorter day's labor. Many will remove to the country, and be enabled to have their families in little houses of their own, at cheaper rent and lower expenses, because the new rule gives them time to go in and out to their work. Others will improve themselves at the Cooper Union and the public libraries, or will be more with their families. The lower class of workmen, we think, will be nowise benefited by this new privilege. They will only the more frequent liquor-shops and work for politicians. Their new leisure will be a new temptation. Probably, however, both classes of workmen will be tempted by higher wages to longer days' labor, and both laborers and the community will be compelled to pay the additional expense of protection. If the movement is guided with judgment and reason, it will command respect; if it be not so guided, it will only react on the laboring class.

A New Leader in French Politics.

The Duke d'Audiffret Pasquier is not exactly a new man in French politics, but he has come to the front with a bound as sudden as did certain Republican lawyers during the Empire, or as did several of the "men of September." The occasion of the amazing popularity achieved by M. d'Audiffret was a speech made in the Assembly in regard to the war contracts and general expenditures of the Empire. That speech has been accorded the unusual honor of being printed for the purpose of being posted in some public place of every Commune in France. It is regarded by impartial critics as giving a death-blow to the prospects of the Bonapartists, and it has been received with an amount of acclamation which attests how slender is the hold which that party possesses on the sympathies of Frenchmen. The Duke d'Audiffret Pasquier is Chairman of the Committee of Inquiry, which has been for some time investigating the causes of the fatal collapse of all branches of the military organization of France, at the outbreak of the war with Germany. This Committee has unearthed facts which throw the stories of the sawdust-filled cartridges and the Commissariat failures, familiar to readers of the war record, completely in the shade. Thousands of guns, hundreds of thousands of rifles, and millions of cartridges, appear on paper as being duly purchased and paid for, which are found never to have had any existence outside of the books of the particular swindler in the War Department, and the rascally contractor who divided the proceeds. For several years previous to 1870, eighty millions of dollars had been annually voted for, and spent by the Ministry of War. When the army was reorganized, a special vote of eighty-eight millions was passed for extraordinary expenditure. Yet millions after millions were spent, nominally, on arsenals, on hospitals and on fortresses, after the outbreak of war, for which the Committee could find no proof of any equivalent having been rendered, though there was every evidence of the supreme necessity of procuring the stores, declared to have been purchased.

All this and a great deal more, M. d'Audiffret Pasquier set forth with admirable fullness of detail and admirable absence of partisan exaggeration. The speech has not only dealt a crushing blow at the Empire and all it represented, but it has raised the orator into the position of being one of the foremost men in France. Some of the Deputies in the Assembly are credited with saying, "now we have nothing more to fear" i. e. from another threat of resignation by M. Thiers. The Duke d'Audiffret Pasquier is an Orleanist, and was indeed, spoken of for the Ministry of Public Works when the scheme of making the Duke d'Aumale President of the Republic, was under discussion. The Conservative members of the Assembly have been for some time past, rather impatient of M. Thiers, and the Assembly at large is disposed to be restive under the necessity of letting the President have his own way, under penalty of being left to face administrative chaos. It is, therefore, something to have a man of statesmanlike reputation and moderate opinions, ready to act the part of reconciler of all the factions and provisional head of the Republic. The only competitor whom the Duke d'Audiffret Pasquier at present has, for the reversion of the title and office of M. Thiers, is Gen. Chanzy, who, with the Army of the Loire, did almost the only brilliant things accomplished on the French side during the war. He has also been a Monarchist in politics, but has lately declared himself a fixed convert to the Republic, and has formally assumed the leadership of what is known as the Left Centre in the Assembly, i. e., the advanced section of the moderate Republicans. Whatever be the issue of the recent changes of political front in France, it is something for the country to have the choice of some more encouraging alternative than that between M. Thiers and anarchy.

The Indirect Claims.

The assumption is common that the failure of the Washington Treaty, from whatever cause, would simply leave things as they were, and that, save for loss of time and breath, the contestants would be neither better nor worse off than before. This is true in some respects, but not true in all. Business matters are little affected by sentiments, or by the exigencies, real or fancied, of politicians; and hence, at such a juncture as the present, such matters can be studied with profit. Now the plain fact is, that at every indication of an amicable settlement of the issues involved in the Washington Treaty, every important business interest in the country instantly receives a visible prosperous impulse; and that at every contrary sign those business interests experience as palpable a check. The same is true in England, but with modifications; since that country is less directly affected by the disposition of foreign capital, and our prodigious system of internal improvements and development is moved, in a great measure, by such capital. We are just on the edge of a legitimate epoch of splendid prosperity. The circumstances are most auspicious for such an epoch. Never did the country exhibit surer evidences of magnificent strength and wealth to come. New cities are growing up in the heart of the continent nearly every day. The States of the Far West are fast assuming imperial proportions. A vast trade, destined to surpass that of the old East India Company, is springing up in the Pacific. The mines of Utah and Idaho give active tokens of becoming richer sources of national wealth than were the mines of California. The agricultural capacities of the South are rapidly attaining a remunerative development never approached under the system of bondage; and the prospects further toward the tropic are such as to promise increased prestige and dominion to the nation. When we add to these considerations the facts that we stand with many hundreds of millions of the national debt paid off in a wonderfully short space of time, with nearly fifty millions of taxes taken, with a word, from the shoulders of the people, and with the aggregate property of the country rising in yearly value in a ratio without precedent, it is clear that we have not said too much as regards the assurance of a bright future.

Yet, auspicious as all this looks, every man of business knows that the skies are immediately clouded over at each fresh hint that the Treaty of Washington may fail. Values of nearly every sort shrink at once on such an intimation, capitalists button up their pockets, enterprise of all sorts is checked. There is not the least reason in the world why this, or a hundred times more than this, should not be squarely faced on a point of national honor; but there are very good reasons why such gloom and depression should be avoided when neither honor nor expediency have anything to do with the matter. By the unanimous concurrence of every competent writer who has treated the subject at all, the claims to indirect or consequential damages are untenable, either on the basis of International law or of moral equity. The persons on our own side who are loudest in demanding that those claims shall be insisted upon are also the very persons who propose that both countries shall abandon the principle of indirect damages for the future. It is as certain as any human event can be said to be that that principle will be as dead, after the conference at Geneva, as the feudal system. There may be a point of sentiment, but there certainly is no point of honor, in insisting upon what was never enforced before, and never will be again, and what is, moreover, pronounced absurd by the ablest judges who have given the subject most thought. If it is right to withdraw the claim for indirect damages, or to qualify the demand by the provision of a supplementary article, the United States are surely strong enough to do right without being charged with trailing the flag in the mire, or suffering the slightest speck of opprobrium to rest on the national escutcheon.

The suggestion that the ratification by the Senate of the Supplementary Article will lead to the rejection of the direct claims is preposterous. Such a step is far more likely to cause the latter to be dealt with in a liberal spirit than if the direct claims had been left unmodified in the body of the treaty, to be rejected by the arbitrators. The adoption of the Supplementary Article by the Senate will be received in England with great satisfaction, no doubt; but we may be sure, for that very reason, that the representatives of Great Britain will understand that they will best honor, and meet the expectations of, their country by evincing a magnanimity corresponding to that which has been extended. We repeat, the United States are strong enough and great enough to do right in this matter; and, as usually happens in most matters, we shall doubtless find that what is right will also turn out to be what is most politic.

The Street-Cleaning Problem.

Brown, it appears, is still endowed with an existence in law, so far as the statute transferring the street-cleaning to the Police Commissioners is concerned. There may be a question whether the transfer of the Brown contract did not abrogate it, but as it is one which would cost some money and much vexation to decide, it is hardly worth raising. The Police Commissioners, therefore, as their first step under the new law, are compelled to induce Brown to surrender his contract, and this, we are given to understand, they have succeeded in doing.

Presuming that the Commissioners intend to ignore Brown himself in whatever efforts they may make to clean the streets, we see by their published specifications inviting proposals that they are contemplating the retention of the contract system, which an experience of nearly ten years has shown cannot be relied upon to produce clean streets. It may be that the Commissioners invite these proposals merely for the purpose of obtaining bids upon which they can make estimates of the probable cost of their new Department, without any intention of awarding a contract to any one. If so, they are wasting valuable time, and are trifling with many worthy men who are preparing proposals for the work. If, on the other hand, they really intend to award a contract, it is time they should critically examine the law under which they are acting, with a view to the discovery of the authority for such a proceeding.

There is a general demand that the streets shall be kept clean, and a conviction quite as general that the contract system cannot secure that result. The Legislature must have intended that an entirely new method should be adopted, or the sixth section of the law is a mere waste of words. In this section the Police Commissioners are expressly authorized to do the work themselves, and they cannot do better than exercise the powers thus expressly conferred. They may fail to do much better than Brown, but they have the satisfaction of knowing that it will be impossible for them to do any worse. Nor can any possible amount of stupidity on their part fail to produce results far more beneficial than any contract they can make. We have had enough of the irresponsibility of contractors, and want the work of street-cleaning in the hands of persons who can be held directly responsible whenever any neglect is noticed.

But if the Commissioners wish to have any success in whatever method they may adopt, they must abandon their ideas of street-cleaning as set forth in their specifications. New-York demands something more than that Broadway and Fifth-avenue shall be kept in dress-parade order. There are many other streets which equally need daily cleaning, and all those around the markets and in the tenement quarters will be nests of death without that attention. Nothing is more absurd than to arbitrarily specify certain thoroughfares as to be cleaned daily, others semi-weekly, and still others tri-weekly. The only course to adopt, if the Commissioners intend to execute the law in its spirit, is for them to maintain a constant inspection of all the streets through the patrolmen, and whenever any street is found in bad condition have it cleaned immediately, without any reference to when it was cleaned before. If by this method Fifth-avenue and Baxter-street are cleaned daily, or only once each week, is immaterial, provided both are kept in good sanitary condition. Any other method will be a waste of money and a trifling with the public health, which the people are in no mood to permit.

Mr. Greeley Nominating Gen. Grant.

Mr. Greeley has been a President. We all remember that on the 5th of January, 871, he was chosen President of the Tammany Republican General Committee of the City of New-York. On that occasion, he made an inaugural address, and probably forgot for the moment his intense desire to make another on a wider field on the 4th of March next, for in that speech he said:

> "As to the Administration of Gen. Grant, I recognize no one as a Republican who is not grateful for its judicious, energetic, and successful efforts to procure the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment, that key-stone of our political arch, whereby the fruits of our great triumph over rebellion and slavery are assured and perpetuated. That the President has made some mistakes in appointments is obvious. It would be strange, indeed, if one so inexperienced in the conduct of political affairs, had wholly escaped them. While asserting the right of every Republican to his untrammeled choice of a candidate for next President until a nomination is made, I venture to suggest that Gen. Grant will be far better qualified for that momentous trust in 1872 than he was in 1868."

Mr. Greeley, it will be seen, was among the first to suggest Gen. Grant for a second term, notwithstanding his life-long devotion to the one-term principle. Hardly anybody had so plainly indicated a preference for the re-election of President Grant so early as this, nor has any one given more positive evidence of the general excellence of his administration. The colored voters are forcibly reminded of what they owe to the Administration of the soldier whose sword struck away their shackles, but the most significant fact is that Mr. Greeley, at that time, had nothing to say against the President except that he had made "some mistakes in appointments." Perhaps the Tribune apprentices can mention the high crimes and misdemeanors committed by the Administration since the date of this address, which have compelled their late chief to become a candidate for the place he suggested for Gen. Grant.

MINOR TOPICS.

Some time ago we quoted a paragraph from the St. Louis Democrat, charging Rev. Stuart Robinson, of Louisville, Ky., with being the person who "openly advocated the importation of infected clothing" to the North. The paragraph had been "going the rounds" for some time, and we had never seen it contradicted. We merely copied and commented upon it, as we should have dealt with any other scrap of news. It appears that Mr. Robinson has been unjustly accused. We do not, even now, know the particulars of the case, but we conjecture that Rev. Stuart Robinson has been mistaken for the Robinson who made the above proposal during the war. At any rate, we have been led by an inadvertence into giving additional currency to an injurious statement, and we take the first opportunity that offers itself of expressing our regret at the error into which we fell, and of doing what we can to exonerate Mr. Robinson from an undeserved reproach.

The Jefferson Club, of this City, of which Henry W. Genet is President, has resolved that the Cincinnati platform embodies "substantially the time-honored principles of the Democratic Party," while the candidates possess "the confidence of the honest men." The Tribune publishes, with satisfaction, this "local indorsement" of a leading Ring Democrat, now under indictment for forgery. Greeley has obviously given up the pursuit of Republican votes.

There will be general rejoicing if the verdict against the New-York Central Railroad, obtained by Mr. Henry Peck yesterday, shall become a precedent. Mr. Peck had the moral courage to go into a drawing-room car on a Central train, the ordinary car being full, and take a seat, for which he refused to pay extra compensation. Thereupon he was put off the train, and then he sued the Company, and has obtained a verdict for eight thousand dollars damages. Eight thousand dollars is a considerable amount to pay for a lesson in the decent treatment of passengers, but we hope the course of instruction will be kept up, at even higher rates, until Commodore Vanderbilt understands the right of the matter. He has commenced learning very late, but heavy damages will be an immense stimulus to him.

There is no doubt that the sort of news which is generally received from Dr. Livingstone is of a kind which tends to exasperate an irritable man. Whatever we may hear from him is quite sure to be contradicted a few weeks later. Thus we have heard time and again of his death, and afterward received conclusive contradictions of the sad report. A few weeks since, however, we all supposed that he had positively emerged from the shadows of Africa, and had arrived in safety at Zanzibar. Our minds were, therefore, finally at rest, and we fancied that there was a definite end to the rumors which had disturbed us for the last four years. But, after all, it was a mistake. Dr Livingstone has not arrived at Zanzibar, but an Arab has reached that place who says that Dr. Livingstone is at Ujiji, not far from the centre of the continent. Let us hope that this last report is true, and that the next news we shall receive will be that of the arrival of the great explorer at Zanzibar. It is really too bad that we should lose sight of him just when we had made up our minds that he was actually safe at last.

Even Assistant District-Attorney Fellowes, apologist for Tweed, and professional slanderer, seems to be capable of feeling the edge of public criticism. The Tammany politician, Rochester, who was released on his own recognizance because he was habitually so drunk as to be unable to testify in a murder case before the Courts, has been arrested for detention under a bench warrant, applied for by Fellowes. We are glad to have been able to shame one of our precious set of public prosecutors into a compliance with his obvious duty. If one of the worst of the Tammany gang, like Fellowes, can be made to feel the force of public opinion, there is some hope of being able to accomplish something with the rest of them that are left to us.

"What news from the South," says the Tribune, "could bring more cheer to the patriot than that Gens. Beauregard, Dick Taylor and Hays stand on the Cincinnati platform and support its candidates?" There was a time when the Tribune's most conclusive argument against a Democratic measure or a Democratic politician was that the one or the other was acceptable to the leaders of the rebels. Now, nothing can bring such cheer to the patriotic heart of Mr. Greeley, or of Fenton's professor of journalism, as to learn that rebels like Beauregard and Dick Taylor approve of a movement which the Tribune supports. The fact that the Unionists of the South, the loyal colored men, the soldiers of the Federal armies, and the voters who elected Abraham Lincoln, are all opposed to Mr. Greeley in the present campaign, is a matter of small importance in the estimation of the Tribune compared with the cheering news that Beauregard and Dick Taylor are ready to vote for their present friend and admirer.

Mr. Charles Lever has just published his latest novel, Lord Kilgobbin. There are few of us who do not owe some gratitude to Mr. Lever for the amusement he has afforded us for many years past. Who can forget the fresh and dashing spirit which pervades Harry Lorrequer, Charles O'Malley and Jack Hinton, or the fascination which such stories as the Knight of Gwynne ever exercised over the mind? People who recall the pleasant hours Mr. Lever has been the means of affording them will not be unmoved by the following melancholy dedication, which he prefixes to his last work:

> To the memory of one whose companionship made the happiness of a long life, and whose loss has left me helpless, I dedicate this book, written in breaking health and broken spirits. The task, that once was my joy and my pride, I have lived to find associated with my sorrow. It is not, then, without a cause I say, I hope this effort may be my last. CHARLES LEVER.

The Armory in Thirteenth-Street.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In your paper of this date you ask for an explanation of the leasing by the Board of Supervisors of the armory in Thirteenth-street. As I was chiefly instrumental in negotiating the lease and urging its adoption by the Board, it perhaps devolves on me to give the explanation:

1. The premises in question consist of a large building, 75 feet front on Thirteenth-street, distant about 150 feet from Fifth-avenue. Any real estate agent or property-owner will inform you that the rent agreed to be paid by the City is cheap.

2. This is the only armory in the City suitable for cavalry exercises, which is a sufficient answer to the objection that other unoccupied armories already rented by the City were not made use of.

3. There was no private agreement or understanding by which any one was to make a "pile," or any money whatever, but it was a fair, open, above-board transaction, and highly advantageous, as I think, to the City.

The following letter from Gen. Shaler may be cited in further justification of the Supervisors, if anything further is needed.

Respectfully yours, PETER GILSEY.

Head-quarters First Division N. G. S. N. Y.,
New-York, May 20, 1872.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors County of New-York:

Gentlemen: I understand you have in contemplation the releasing of the Thirteenth-street armory. I desire to express my approval and to urge the importance of a settlement of the question at an early day. At the present time there is not a rendezvous for cavalry in the whole City under the control of the authorities. A place for equestrian practice is indispensable for cavalry, and the central location of the buildings and ground under consideration makes them, in the highest sense, desirable. I earnestly hope you will consummate the arrangement at once, if the lease can be obtained at reasonable rates. I have the honor to be, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

ALEXANDER SHALER,
Major-General Commanding First Division.

Amusements—Mr. Colby's Benefit Concert.

We once more call attention to the fact that the concert by which Mr. G. W. Colby is to benefit is to occur this evening, at Irving Hall. It will be, in all probability, the last entertainment of the season, and the assured co-operation of every artist of note in town promises that it will not be the least attractive.

Meeting of the Republican Central Committee.

The Republican Central Committee met last evening at head-quarters, corner of Twenty-third-street and Broadway, Mr. John J. Townsend presiding. Some business of a routine character having been transacted Mr. Louis Naumann, one of the delegates to Elmira, in a brief address commented upon the earnestness and harmony which had characterized the deliberations of the Convention and which prejudged the triumph that awaited the standard bearers of the Republican Party in November.

Mr. John H. White followed in a few remarks similar in their tendency. He said that he had found the delegates a unit for Gen. Grant, and confident of his election. From all he had received assurances that throughout the State the ranks of the genuine Republicans were unbroken. All they felt anxious about was that New-York should do its duty; and a signal victory was certain.

SHAKESPEARE.

Preparations for Unvailing the Statue on Thursday.

The Great Amphitheatre at the Central Park—Programme of the Music, Orations and Addresses.

To-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, if the day be fine, the unvailing of the statue of SHAKESPEARE, with attendant ceremonies of an imposing nature, will take place in Central Park. The place appropriated for the statue is at a point a little east of the southern end of the Mall, and is one of the most beautiful locations in the Park. It is surrounded by a large growth of elms and maples, and can be seen from both the drive and the adjacent promenades. The spot which the pedestal occupies was once beautified by a magnificent elm, which has been cut down to give place to the work of art. There is now a complete circle of trees, which, with their heavy, drooping foliage, form a gigantic bower, in the midst of which the statue of SHAKESPEARE stands prominent and alone. An immense amphitheatre has been constructed with a diameter of 120 feet, which rises to the branches of the trees and circles about, with its opening fronting on the drive. Seats rising one above the other, like those of a theatre, have been constructed at either end of the structure, while in the centre is a large space, with an immense sounding-board at its back and overhead, which is designed for the orchestra of THEODORE THOMAS, 100 strong, and the eighty-five members of the Arion Society, who will furnish the music, instrumental and vocal, of the day. The structure is very strongly built, and will stand the great weight which it must bear without danger of falling.

Red, white, and blue flag-staffs line the outside, surmounted with gilt balls, and upon them will float the flags of all nations. The entire front of the structure is skirted by a broad shelf, upon which vases, baskets, and wreaths of flowers and exotics will be placed to lend fragrance and beauty to the scene.

Within the circle formed by the amphitheatre and about the statue, seats will be placed, taken from the Park, for the accommodation of invited guests and the Executive Committee. Two well-elevated stands have been built, one at each extremity of the structure, for the accommodation of the speakers. Seats will also be placed outside of the inclosure, upon the greensward, drives and walks, for visitors who cannot be accommodated inside. The arrangements for the reception of visitors and guests, it will thus be seen, are of the most complete kind, and in the erection of the amphitheatre every regard has been paid to comfort, convenience, and architectural effect. The wood of which it is built was furnished by the Park Commissioners, while the labor of construction is borne by the Committee in charge of the affair.

The following card of invitation has been sent to guests:

INAUGURATION OF THE MONUMENT OF SHAKESPEARE.—You are hereby respectfully requested to be present at the unvailing of the statue and the accompanying ceremonies in Central Park, May 23, 1872, at 3 o'clock P. M.
CHARLES P. DALY,
Chairman of the Executive Committee.

The principal addresses of the day will be made by Mr. William Cullen Bryant, Chief-Justice Charles P. Daly, Mr. J. Q. A. Ward, the artist, and Mr. H. G. Stebbins, President of the Department of Public Parks, on behalf of the authorities.

The programme for the day's ceremonies is as follows:

Overture, "King Lear," BERLIOZ.
Introductory address and presentation of the statue to the Park Commissioners by Chief-Justice DALY, Chairman of the Executive Committee.
Unvailing of the statue by J. Q. A. WARD, Esq., the sculptor, and J. WREY MOULD, Esq., the architect of the pedestal.
Schiller's Invocation to the Artists, "An die Künstler," LISZT. By the Arion Society; Conductor, Dr. LEOPOLD DAMROSCH.
Acceptance of the statue by Hon. HENRY G. STEBBINS, President of the Department of Public Parks.
Overture, "The Merry Wives of Windsor," NICOLAI.
Shakespeare's Glee, "Tell me Where is Fancy Bred," by the Arion Society. An arrangement by Dr. DAMROSCH.
Oration by WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT, Esq.
Overture—Notturno, Scherzo and Wedding March—MENDELSSOHN.
Poem of R. H. STODDARD, "Shakespeare," by EDWIN BOOTH, Esq.
Overture, "Julius Cæsar," SCHUMANN.
Mr. THEODORE THOMAS will conduct the orchestra of over 100 performers.

Should the weather be inclement, the ceremonies will be postponed until the following day. The arrangements made prepare for the reception of 3,000 guests and visitors.

THE EMIGRATION COMMISSION.

The Financial Condition of the Board—Overcharging by Contractors—Resignation of Mr. Schack.

The Commissioners of Emigration held their usual semi-monthly meeting yesterday, the President, Mr. O'GORMAN, in the chair. Present also—Messrs. Hart, Lynch, Nicholson, Schack, Wallack and Wilmann.

The Ward's Island Committee reported in favor of repairs to the officers' residences on Ward's Island, and the payment of certain bills for repairs, mason work, &c., all of which were approved.

The Finance Committee reported a communication to the Superintendents of the Poor of Onondaga County, declining to pay the bills of expenses as presented for certain small-pox patients, but offering to allow $5 50 each, the rate paid by the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. They further recommended that lunches for the Committee be hereafter discontinued, unless specially ordered, and announced the auditing of bills to the amount of $1,779 74, their proceedings being approved by the Board.

A communication was received from a Superintendent of the Poor in Chicago complaining of the detention of emigrants bound to that place by the New-York Central Railroad. Commissioner LYNCH also complained of the conduct of boarding-house keepers and expressmen about Castle Garden, the latter often forcibly seizing the emigrants' luggage. Both complaints are in the hands of a committee.

A communication was received from Castle Garden Superintendent CASSERLY, announcing gross overcharges for supplies by the Schweitzer Manufacturing Company, for hardware, and WILLIAM H. SIMONSON, for lumber. As illustrations, hinges were charged by the former at $5 each, which could be bought elsewhere for $4, and shelving which can be bought for $55 per thousand feet, SIMONSON charges the State $65 for. The matter was referred to a special committee, consisting of Messrs. HART and LYNCH, on motion of Mr. SCHACK.

Commissioner SCHACK, who has resigned as President of the German Society, and has been therefore ex-officio a member of the Commission, announced his resignation, and that he leaves for Europe Thursday, to be absent two years, whereupon regret at his withdrawal was very generally expressed.

Commissioner NICHOLSON made the following statement from the Treasurer of estimated receipts and expenditures, with liabilities and assets, from yesterday, May 20, to the remainder of the year, being based on no extraordinary contingency arising to increase their expenses:

On hand, City bonds	$122,000 00
On hand, cash, Broadway Bank	8,567 90
On hand, Bank of North America, and drawn on	1,040 05
Total cash assets	$131,607 95
Estimated receipts for remainder of year 1872:
Emigration of 265,000 aliens, for whole year. Received commutation money on 83,826, leaving to collect on 181,174 at $1 50, is	271,761 00	$403,368 95
Expenditures:
For remainder of May	$22,000 00
For remainder of year, seven months	245,000 00
Total	$267,000 00
Liabilities:
Cash due Broadway Bank	65,000 00
Contract for chapel	35,000 00
Contract for Lunatic Asylum	105,000 00	$472,000 00
Deficit to Dec. 31, 1872		$68,632 05

An extraordinary and unprecedented increase in the emigrant arrivals was reported, there having been over 11,000 from Saturday to Monday. The number arrived to May 13, (from Jan. 1,) was 76,628, and the number since to May 20, 16,213, making in all 92,841, against 65,993 to the same date in 1871.

A Pair of Scamps Captured.

EUGENE F. SWIFT and JOHN MCCAFFREY, both young men of good personal appearance, were arraigned before Superintendent KELSO yesterday, charged with being swindlers. It appears that SWIFT and MCCAFFREY, on Monday afternoon, called on Mr. JACOB MANDELBAUM, at No. 343 East Sixty-second street, where SWIFT represented himself as Detective PHIL. FARLEY, and introduced his companion as Capt. MOUNT, of the Seventh Precinct. They stated that they were engaged in collecting subscriptions in aid of the indigent family of a policeman named DRUMMOND, who was then in Bellevue Hospital. Presenting a petition on which appeared the names of Senator JAMES O'BRIEN, Judge MICHAEL CONNOLLY, Mrs. Judge CARDOZO, and others, with subscriptions ranging from $100 to $10 each, they asked Mr. MANDELBAUM to contribute. The latter gentleman was, however, on his guard, and declined till he was satisfied of the genuineness of their representations. The men went off apparently highly indignant, when Mr. MANDELBAUM followed and caused their arrest. SWIFT is an ex-policeman and MCCAFFREY claims to be a freight clerk in the employ of the Old Dominion Steam-ship Company. When arraigned they admitted their guilt and were remanded. It is believed that quite a number of the wealthy residents of the Nineteenth Ward have been victimized by these scamps.

THE CINCINNATI NOMINATION.

Official Notification of the Presidential Candidate and His Letter of Acceptance.

The following correspondence is made public:

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 3, 1872.

DEAR SIR: The National Convention of the Libral Republicans of the United States have instructed the undersigned President, Vice-President and Secretary of the Convention to inform you that you have been nominated as the candidate of the Liberal Republicans for the Presidency of the United States. We also submit to you the address and resolutions unanimously adopted by the Convention.

Be pleased to signify to us your acceptance of the platform and the nomination, and believe us, very truly yours,

C. SCHURZ, President.
GEO. W. JULIAN, Vice-President.
WM. E. MCLEAN,
JOHN G. DAVIDSON, } Secretaries.
J. H. RHODES,
Hon. HORACE GREELEY, New-York City.

NEW-YORK, May 20, 1872.

GENTLEMEN: I have chosen not to acknowledge your letter of the 3d inst. until I could learn how the work of your Convention was received in all parts of our great country, and judge whether that work was approved and ratified by the mass of our fellow-citizens. Their response has, from day to day, reached me through telegrams, letters, and the comments of journalists independent of official patronage and indifferent to the smiles or frowns of power. The number and character of these unconstrained, unpurchased, unsolicited utterances satisfy me that the movement which found expression at Cincinnati has received the stamp of public approval, and been hailed by a majority of our countrymen as the harbinger of a better day for the Republic.

I do not misinterpret this approval as especially complimentary to myself, nor even to the chivalrous and justly-esteemed gentleman with whose name I thank your Convention for associating mine. I receive and welcome it as a spontaneous and deserved tribute to that admirable platform of principles wherein your Convention so tersely, so lucidly, so forcibly set forth the convictions which impelled and the purposes which guided its course—a platform which, casting behind it the wreck and rubbish of worn-out contentions and bygone feuds, embodies in fit and few words the needs and aspirations of today. Though thousands stand ready to condemn your every act, hardly a syllable of criticism or cavil has been aimed at your platform, of which the substance may be fairly epitomized as follows:

1. All the political rights and franchises which have been acquired through our late bloody convulsion must and shall be guaranteed, maintained, enjoyed, respected, evermore.

2. All the political rights and franchises which have been lost through that convulsion should and must be promptly restored and re-established, so that there shall be henceforth no proscribed class and no disfranchised caste within the limits of our Union, whose long-estranged people shall reunite and fraternize upon the broad basis of universal amnesty with impartial suffrage.

3. That, subject to our solemn constitutional obligation to maintain the equal rights of all citizens, our policy should aim at local self-government, and not at centralization; that the civil authority should be supreme over the military; that the writ of habeas corpus should be jealously upheld as the safeguard of personal freedom; that the individual citizen should enjoy the largest liberty consistent with public order; and that there shall be no Federal subversion of the internal polity of the several States and municipalities, but that each shall be left free to enforce the rights and promote the well-being of its inhabitants by such means as the judgment of its own people shall prescribe.

4. There shall be a real and not merely a simulated reform in the civil service of the Republic; to which end it is indispensable that the chief dispenser of its vast official patronage shall be shielded from the main temptation to use his power selfishly by a rule inexorably forbidding and precluding his re-election.

5. That the raising of revenue, whether by tariff or otherwise, shall be recognized and treated as the people's immediate business, to be shaped and directed by them through their Representatives in Congress, whose action thereon the President must neither overrule by his veto, attempt to dictate, nor presume to punish, by bestowing office only on those who agree with him or withdrawing it from those who do not.

6. That the Public lands must be sacredly reserved for occupation and acquisition by cultivators, and not recklessly squandered on the projectors of railroads for which our people have no present need, and the premature construction of which is annually plunging us into deeper and deeper abysses of foreign indebtedness.

7. That the achievement of these grand purposes of universal beneficence is expected and sought at the hands of all who approve them, irrespective of past affiliations.

8. That the public faith must at all hazards be maintained and the national credit preserved.

9. That the patriotic devotedness and inestimable services of our fellow-citizens, who, as soldiers or sailors, upheld the flag and maintained the unity of the Republic, shall ever be gratefully remembered and honorably requited.

These propositions, so ably and forcibly presented in the platform of your Convention, have already fixed the attention and commanded the assent of a large majority of our countrymen, who joyfully adopt them, as I do, as the bases of a true, beneficent national reconstruction—of a new departure from jealousies, strifes and hates, which have no longer adequate motive or even plausible pretext, into an atmosphere of peace, fraternity and mutual good will. In vain do the drill-sergeants of decaying organizations flourish menacingly their truncheons and angrily insist that the files shall be closed and straightened; in vain do the whippers-in of parties once vital because rooted in the vital needs of the hour protest against straying and bolting, denounce men nowise their inferiors as traitors and renegades, and threaten them with infamy and ruin. I am confident that the American people have already made your cause their own, fully resolved that their brave hearts and strong arms shall bear it on to triumph. In this faith, and with the distinct understanding that, if elected, I shall be the President, not of a party, but of the whole people, I accept your nomination, in the confident trust that the masses of our countrymen, North and South, are eager to clasp hands across the bloody chasm which has too long divided them, forgetting that they have been enemies in the joyful consciousness that they are and must henceforth remain brethren.

Yours, gratefully, HORACE GREELEY.

To Hon. CARL SCHURZ, President; Hon. GEORGE W. JULIAN, Vice-President, and Messrs. WILLIAM E. MCLEAN, JOHN G. DAVIDSON, J. H. RHODES, Secretaries of the National Convention of the Liberal Republicans of the United States.

The Baptist Missionary Union.

The fifty-eighth annual meeting of the American Baptist Missionary Union was commenced yesterday morning, at the Calvary Baptist Church, in West Twenty-third-street. A large audience was present, among which were many visitors in addition to the regular delegates. Rev. MARTIN B. ANDERSON, LL. D., presided, and delivered an appropriate address of welcome, in which he reviewed briefly the history of the Union and spoke of its hopeful prospects.

The Chair appointed, by consent of the Union, members to serve upon the following Committees: Enrollment, Arrangements for the Session, Obituaries, Finance, Asiatic Missions, European Missions, Education among the Karens, Nominations.

The annual report of the Executive Committee was then read. It was a very lengthy one, and detailed at length the measure of success attained in different missions, both at home and abroad. It states that the offerings for the support of missions to the heathen have not diminished, and gives gratifying accounts of the success of missionaries in foreign fields.

Rev. JOHN E. CLAIGH, a returned missionary from India, spoke at some length upon the result of his labors, and gave his experience. He also presented to the meeting a Hindoo boy, whom he brought back with him. The boy appeared in the usual Hindoo dress, with a white turban and wrapper, and was viewed with much interest by the audience.

The afternoon session began at 2 o'clock, and was devoted principally to routine business, in which reports of various committees were received.

The evening session was largely attended, and was nearly all occupied with two long addresses by Rev. JOHN E. CLAIGH, of India, and Rev. J. GOBLE, from Japan. The following officers were elected by the Union for the ensuing year:

President—Rev. Henry G. Weston, D. D., Pennsylvania.

Vice-Presidents—Rev. E. T. Hiscox, D. D., New-York; C. Van Husan, Michigan.

Secretary—Rev. George W. Bosworth, D. D., Massachusetts.

Board of Managers—Vacancies, W. A. Gellatly, Orange, N. J., vice P. P. Runyon, deceased; C. Jacobs, Indiana, vice J. R. Osgood, deceased.

CLASS III.—Ministers.—M. B. Anderson, LL. D., Rochester, N. Y.; H. Day, D. D., Indianapolis, Ind.; R. Jeffery, D. D., Cincinnati, Ohio; W. W. Everts, D. D., Chicago, Ill.; J. W. Parker, D. D., Washington, D. D.; S. Graves, D. D., Grand Rapids, Mich.; G. M. Stone, D. D., Milwaukee, Wis.; S. W. Foljambe, Malden, Mass.; E. Bright, D. D., Yonkers, N. Y.; W. Stewart, Toronto, Ontario; J. H. Castle, D. D., Philadelphia, Penn.; A. Owen, D. D., Detroit, Mich.; J. F. Brown, D. D., New-Brunswick, N. J.; J. T. Westover, Nebraska City, Neb.

The Randall's Island Revolt.

There are at the present moment twenty-eight boys in the Tombs cells from the House of Refuge on Randall's Island, twenty-seven being charged with attempting to create a riot, and one, THOS. MCDONALD, with felonious assault. The circumstances of the affair have already been published, and it is notorious that MCDONALD, from the sullen malice of his heart, attempted to murder the assistant foreman of the shoe-shop with the knife he was using for cutting leather, and being prevented by Mr. W. J. ADAMS, the foreman, turned upon him and attempted to murder him also. The facts of the case are sufficiently plain, but it seems that there will be an effort made in the Court of Special Sessions, where the prisoners will appear to-morrow, to palliate the crime of this desperado and his associates on two pleas—one that the Superintendent is too severe; the other that the boys are driven to desperation by being obliged to attend a Protestant place of worship in the Refuge.

NOTES FROM THE PEOPLE.

The Lotos Club Again.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I notice in your issue of yesterday a letter from certain members of the Lotos Club, attacking a paragraph which recently appeared in the TIMES. The letter is conspicuously inexact in its statements, as can be easily shown.

The writers deny that the Club "has passed under the control of the business men." The facts are that, though the Club was originally composed of gentlemen actively connected with literature and the fine arts, the business men subsequently admitted to membership gained complete control of the directory at the last election. Among the new directors, journalism was represented by a correspondent of a provincial paper, and the conductor of a trade journal in the interest of liquor dealers; while the drama was represented by Mr. T. E. MORRIS, who has not generally been regarded as a leading representative of the stage. Col. STEBBINS, who, prior to the last election, had consented to accept the Presidency of the Club, withdrew his consent on the express ground that the result of that election was a complete reversal of the original purpose of the Club, and no professional man could be found among its entire membership who would accept that office. Last week Mr. WHITELAW REID was elected a member of the Club in order to offer him the Presidency.

The letter in question denies the statements made in the TIMES as to the Arcadian Club, all of which were literally true. It is barely possible that the writers are not the best authorities as to a Club of which they are not members. The membership of the Arcadian, which is limited almost exclusively to professional men, reaches nearly two hundred, and includes the majority of the journalists, and nearly all the actors and musicians formerly belonging to the Lotus. The latter is now no longer a professional Club, but, diverted from its original design, has become an ordinary social Club of business men. The fast young merchants' and brokers' clerks who now control it will doubtless make it popular among their class, but as a professional Club it has been wrecked—as the TIMES very truly said. In thus supporting the statements made by you I am simply doing an act of JUSTICE.

Mrs. F. Foster.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Will you be good enough to contradict the statement that appeared in the Tribune this morning, and which is wholly untrue, that Mrs. FANNY FOSTER, the lady now playing Grace Harkaway at Wallack's Theatre, is a graduate from a dramatic Club in Brooklyn?

The lady is, and has been for over two years, a pupil of mine, and mine only. She has never taken a lesson of any other person, and has performed but once for the amateur club in question—(the part of Lady Gay Spanker, with considerable success.) Other persons are unjustly claiming credit which does not belong to them. And you will do an act of justice, and render me a personal service, if you will kindly contradict the statement. Your obedient servant,

FANNY MORANT,

TUESDAY, May 21, 1872.

What he Knew About Grant.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I find the following passage in Mr. GREELEY'S American Conflict, volume 2, page 589:

"GRANT, however, remained at its head—undismayed, unshaken, inflexible."

Hurrah for GRANT! A READER.

Sad and Fatal Accident—Two Boys Buried Under an Embankment.

At 7½ o'clock last evening, while two young boys, named WM. GUSTAVE ABRAMS, of No. 77 Norfolk-street, and FRANK KLENZY, living at No. 69 Norfolk-street, were playing about an excavation for a new building in Broome-street, near Essex, a bank of earth gave way suddenly and they were buried under the débris. As soon as the fact became known, a host of policemen and others who had volunteered for the purpose set at work with spades to dig out the unfortunate little ones, and a great crowd of the residents of the neighborhood gathered about the spot, among whom were the parents of the children. In a short time the boys were brought out. ABRAMS was quite dead, but KLENZY, although badly frightened, was but slightly injured. The remains of the dead boy were removed to the Eldridge-street Police Station to await inquest.

Return of $46,000 Stolen from the Gallatin National Bank.

On Monday the Gallatin National Bank, whose messenger was robbed of $46,000, mostly in commercial paper, received with its morning mail the drafts and notes representing the whole of it except $63, which was in gold and currency. The papers were in a yellow envelope, with two three-cent stamps, postmarked May 20, the address being in led-pencil. Of course, no trace could be found to the thieves through the inclosures by the bank officials, neither have the detectives been more successful. The thieves were evidently disappointed in the character of their plunder, and were cautious enough to "cover their tracks" by sending back what they could not attempt to convert into money without detection.

Sentences in the Court of General Sessions.

In the Court of General Sessions, yesterday, before Recorder HACKETT, JAMES HARTFORD pleaded guilty to attempt to commit burglary, and was sent to State Prison for two years and six months. JOHN MUNCKS pleaded guilty to an attempt to steal, and was sent to the Penitentiary for one year. JOHN DUNCAN, a colored man from Cuba, was convicted of assaulting MARY COSTRIS, and was sent to the State Prison for twenty years. HUGH HENRY pleaded guilty to a similar offense, the complainant being ANNE COSGROVE, of No. 95 Ninth-avenue, and was sent to the State Prison for seventeen years.

The American Missionary Society.

The American Missionary Society of the First Reformed Presbyterian Church held its fortieth annual anniversary last night, at the church in Twelfth-street, near Sixth-avenue. Rev. Dr. MCLEOD, who presided, spoke of the satisfactory condition of the home and foreign missions of the Society. He was followed by addresses from Prof. STEELE, of Philadelphia, on foreign missions, and Rev. Dr. CLARKE, an Octogenarian, on his particular mission in Nova Scotia, where he has founded seventeen churches of this sect of Protestants. Refreshments were prepared, and enjoyed by the ladies and gentlemen assembled, in rooms adjoining the Church.

Annual Meeting of the Orphan Asylum Society.

The sixty-sixth anniversary of the Orphan Asylum Society of the City of New-York was celebrated yesterday afternoon at the Asylum, Broadway and Seventy-fourth-street. Rev. Dr. CROSBY presided, and made an address, in which he gave some statistics of the institution. The number of children in the Asylum on April 1, 1872, was 97 boys and 64 girls; 2 children had died during the year. The total receipts of the year were $36,580 24, and the expenses $36,036 12, leaving a balance of $580 24. During the afternoon the children sang anthems and hymns, and addresses were made by several of the young orphan scholars.

The New-Jersey and Delaware Fisheries Dispute.

Attorney-General GILCHRIST and J. D. BAUGHAIT, Esq., of New-Jersey, returned to Trenton yesterday, from Delaware, where they have been consulting with Gov. POUDER and Attorney-General DORR, of Delaware, relative to the fisheries troubles. No settlement was made, the Delaware authorities claiming jurisdiction over the waters on the east side of the island under the grant made by the Duke of NEWCASTLE, in Colonial times. Their position receives additional strength from the concessions made two years ago by the New-Jersey Commissioners, SLACK and HOWELL.

TROTTING.

Spring Meeting of the Fleetwood Park Association.

Abdallah Wins the Three-Minute Purse and Honest Dutchman the 2:31 Race—Pool-Selling Last Night.

The Spring meeting of the Fleetwood Park Association began yesterday. The Association took the precaution to have the track in splendid order, and consequently the spectators were not disappointed in their expectations of seeing fast time. The roads leading to the course were alive at an early hour with people on their way to witness the opening games of the season, and long before the opening time the grand stand and club-houses were crowded with a very large throng.

At 3 o'clock the judges ascended the stand, and called up the horses for the first race between the three minute horses, and five of them answered the call, viz.: Abdallah, Lady Roe, Spartan, George and Edwin Booth. George was the favorite against the field, but there was evidently something wrong, as the driver of the horse made no effort to get off with his competitors. The winner of the race turned up in Abdallah, sired by Volunteer out of an Abdallah mare, and from his race yesterday he promises to trot down very low before the season is over. The following are the particulars:

FIRST HEAT.—After five false attempts they received the word on pretty even terms, with Lady Roe on a break. As they went to the turn Abdallah took the lead and Spartan second, but Booth went up and took the second place from him. Abdallah went on and passed the quarter-pole in 37 seconds, two lengths in front of Booth, who was four lengths away from Spartan, who was half a dozen lengths in advance of George. Booth and Spartan broke, and were on the run. As they went down the backstretch Abdallah opened a gap of six lengths, with George second, ten lengths away from Booth; the others strung out and Lady Roe was far out of the race. At the half mile pole in 1:14, Abdallah was four lengths ahead and maintained his lead all the way home, and won the heat by two lengths in 2:36¼, Booth second, a length in front of George. Spartan was fourth, and Lady Roe distanced.

SECOND HEAT.—On the sixth score they received the word, with Booth leading a length, Spartan second, Abdallah third, and George last. Going round the turn, Abdallah, Booth and George broke, but they soon settled down. At the quarter-pole, in 38 seconds, Abdallah led two lengths, Spartan second, two lengths ahead of George, who was one length in advance of Booth. Going down the backstretch, Abdallah rushed away, and at the half-mile pole, in 1:15, he showed the way by ten lengths, Booth second, a length in advance of Spartan, George eight lengths in the rear. On the lower turn Booth broke and lost the second place, Spartan going past him. At the three-quarter pole Abdallah was still ahead by eight lengths, Booth going up second and George third. As they came into the homestretch George was allowed his head for the first time and came into the second place, but Abdallah was too far ahead and won the heat on a jog by three lengths in 2:37—George second, Booth third and Spartan fourth.

THIRD HEAT.—On the third attempt, the "go" was given and Spartan went to the front a length, Booth second, Abdallah third, and George, as usual, in the rear. As they went to the turn, Booth assumed the lead, and passed the quarter-pole a length in front of Abdallah, in 38½ seconds. Spartan was third and George fourth, far behind on a break. On the backstretch, Booth got two lengths away, but Abdallah closed upon and passed him, and showed two lengths in front at the half-mile pole in 1:15½. Booth second, six lengths away from Spartan. Abdallah kept his lead easy, and won as he pleased, by two lengths, in 2:38½. Booth second, four lengths ahead of George. Spartan fourth.

SECOND RACE.

This was for a purse of $1,500 for horses that had never beaten 2:31, which closed with the following entries: Daniel Boone, Lady Fisk, Honest Dutchman, Sunbeam, Tom Keeler, Dauntless, Frank Palmer, J. H. Coleman and Judge Scott. At the call of the judges all appeared but Lady Fisk. In the betting Dutchman was a great favorite, and sold against the field, as will be seen from the following quotations:

Dutchman	25	31	60	40
Field	40	40	95	60

FIRST HEAT.—Three failures and they were off. Palmer immediately went to the front, Tom. Keeler second, Coleman third, and Boone fourth—the rest together. As they went round the turn, Boone left the fourth place, and passing the others went to the lead and shot past the quarter-pole in 36½ seconds, three lengths away from Keeler, Dutchman third. As they went round the backstretch Dutchman rushed past his competitors and went to the front, and showed eight lengths in the van at the half-mile pole in the fast time of 1:11; Boone second, six lengths in advance of Keeler, who was a length ahead of Dauntless; Dutchman continued on and won the heat by half a dozen lengths in 2:30; Dauntless second, a head's length in advance of Keeler, Sunbeam fourth, Coleman fifth, Palmer sixth, Boone seventh, and Judge Scott distanced.

SECOND HEAT.—They were given the send off on the fourth attempt, with Palmer first, Coleman second, Dutchman third, and Sunbeam fourth. On the turn, however, Dutchman rushed ahead, and was a length in the van at the quarter pole, in 37 seconds. Palmer second, also a length ahead of Dauntless, Sunbeam fourth, Keeler fifth, Boone sixth, and Coleman last. On the backstretch Dutchman got further away and passed the half-mile-pole two lengths ahead of Dauntless in 1:12; Coleman had got up to third place, Keeler fourth, Palmer fifth, Sunbeam sixth, and Boone last. Dutchman was taken in hand on the lower turn, and won the heat by two lengths in 2:29, Dauntless second, twelve lengths in front of Sunbeam; Keeler fourth, Boone fifth, Coleman sixth, and Palmer seventh.

THIRD HEAT.—Palmer was withdrawn. The fourth score was a go, and Coleman took the lead; Keeler second, Dutchman third and Dauntless fourth. On the turn, Dutchman went ahead again and was two lengths in front at the quarter pole, in 36 seconds; Keeler second, Dauntless third, Coleman fourth and Sunbeam fifth. On the back stretch, Coleman left his fourth position and went up to the third place. At the half-mile pole, in 1:12, Dutchman led two lengths, but on the lower turn he opened the gap to six lengths, and was then taken in hand and won the heat and race by two lengths in 2:28½; Dauntless second, Boone third, Keeler fourth, Coleman fifth and Sunbeam sixth.

The Convention of American Israelites.

The annual Convention of the Board of Delegates of American Israelites was held at the Forty-fourth-street Synagogue yesterday evening, Mr. BENJ. J. HART presiding. Considerable numbers of delegates were present, and the discussion in regard to the persecution of the Jews in Roumania formed the principal feature of the session. A letter was read from Secretary FISH to the United States Consul at Bucharest, of which the following is the concluding paragraph:

"This Government heartily sympathizes with the popular instinct upon the subject, and while it has no disposition or intention to give offense by impertinently interfering in the internal affairs of Roumania, it is deemed to be due to humanity to remonstrate against any license or impunity which may have attended the outrages in that country. You are consequently authorized to address a note to the Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Principalities, in which you will embody the views herein expressed, and you will also do anything which you discreetly can, with a reasonable prospect of success, toward preventing a recurrence or continuance of the persecution adverted to."

The Convention passed resolutions reported by the Executive Committee, to the effect that in the matter of Roumania no appeal be made to any other denomination for moral support or aid; that the entire history of the Roumanian outrages be collated and printed in the English and German language, to be distributed among the Israelites of the United States, so that all may realize the necessity of sustaining the Government and the Consul at Bucharest. One resolution also provides for appointing a Committee on Emigration, to supervise the reception and settlement in America of the Hebrews who have been forced to abandon their homes in Eastern Europe. It was voted to hold the next annual meeting of the delegates in Washington, D. C. The following are the officers elected for the ensuing year:

President, BENJAMIN J. HART, of New-York; Vice-Presidents, Hon. F. J. Joachimsen, of New-York; Hon. S. Wolf, of Washington; Treasurer, Alex. S. Sarent, of Boston; Secretary, Myer S. Isaacs, No. 243 Broadway, New-York.

PRESIDENT GRANT.

Letter from a Brother of Gen. Ewell—Why he Urges Virginia to Vote for the Re-election of Grant.

Col. BENJAMIN S. EWELL, President of the College of William and Mary, Virginia, has written a letter strongly favoring the re-election of President GRANT. He is a brother of the late Gen. EWELL, and was Gen. JOE. E. JOHNSTON's Adjutant-General during the rebellion. The following is his letter:

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., May 18, 1872.

To ———

DEAR SIR: In compliance with your request I here repeat the substance of our conversation on the last, and approaching, Presidential elections, though I do not suppose my opinions on such subjects are worthy of attention or repetition. You expressed some astonishment when I informed you that in 1868 I was favorable to Gen. GRANT's election to the Presidency of the United States, and was as decidedly in favor of his re-election. I will again give my reasons for this preference.

It was my conviction, in 1868, that the election of a President, opposed by decided majorities of both Houses of Congress, would serve no purpose but to increase the ill-feeling and disquietude that followed a like condition of affairs during Mr. JOHNSON's Administration, and, perhaps, to pave the way for more serious disorders and uneasiness. It was also my conviction that an assured and peaceful Union was a necessity to the people of Virginia, and as much so to those of the other Southern States. Whatever tended, directly or indirectly, to produce undue excitement, and thence, possibly, revolution, I deprecated as the greatest evil that could befall this country, agreeing with BULWER, that "a cause which the noblest allow to be good, and which, when successful, all time approves, may seem to justify the attempt at a revolution; yet recalling now all the evil passions it excites, all the ties it dissolves, all the blood it commands to flow, all the healthful industry it arrests, all the madmen it arms, all the victims that it dupes, I question whether one man really honest, pure and humane, who has once gone through such an ordeal would ever hazard it again, unless he was assured that victory was certain; aye, and the object for which he fights was not to be wrested from his hands amid the uproar of the elements that the battle has aroused." Then, too, I had implicit confidence in Gen. GRANT's earnest wish to "have peace," in his good-will, and in his patriotism. This confidence originated in the terms he gave at Appomattox Court-house to his great opponent and the battered remnant of that brave army that had staked its all upon a cause for which it was "no more to combat or to bleed," and that had so long resisted his legions. These terms, that "each officer and man will be allowed to return to his home, not to be disturbed by the United States authority so long as they observe their paroles and the laws in force where they reside," are without a precedent in the history of all such struggles for their liberality, and were as wise as liberal, for while they effectually terminated the contest they protected those who surrendered from the legal consequences of waging war against the Government, and probably saved from execution or imprisonment LEE and scores of his gallant associates.

The effect of these terms, as stated in Gen. GRANT's report of the closing operation of the war, was "that Gen. LEE's great influence throughout the South caused his example to be followed, and, today, the result is that the armies lately under his leadership are at their homes, desiring peace and quiet, and their arms are in the hands of our ordnance officers."

In the closing sentence of this report he pays to the Southern troops so lately in arms against his own the following tribute:

"Let them" (the Eastern and Western United States Armies) "hope for perpetual peace and harmony with that enemy whose manhood, however mistaken the cause, drew forth such herculean deeds of valor." A tribute most grateful to the devoted men composing the Southern armies, and most honorable to its author.

It seems to me that since the return of peace Gen. GRANT's aim has been to relieve the Southern people to the extent of his ability, attempting nothing which the controlling power of the North would not allow; and this was expedient as well as necessary. That he has not accomplished all that was hoped for or expected perhaps, is true; but it was simply impossible. His favorable and friendly report on the condition of the South, made as General commanding the armies of the United States, that excited the censure of some members of his own party, is an illustration.

The fact that "Virginians now rule Virginia" is one result of Gen. GRANT's sympathy and good feeling for the State and people and his active interference in their behalf.

Virginia is the only State whose relations to the General Government have been renewed since he became the chief executive officer of the nation. Without his aid the people would not have been allowed to vote separately on the offensive and rejected articles of the present Constitution. The whole would have been adopted, and, as a necessary consequence, the State would today be no better off than the worst governed Southern State.

Looking at all this, I think I am right in asserting that Gen. GRANT has done more to heal the wounds of war than any other one of the great political party to which he belongs. Believing this, I acknowledge it, and am ready and willing to show my appreciation and gratitude in any becoming manner.

There is a loud cry of corruption against the present Administration, but I have heard a like cry so long; it was louder in the days of JACKSON, so much louder that my ears still ring with its echoes, and so often—it is always the battle-cry of the "outs"—that I do not put full trust in it or pay much regard to it.

Of the reasons you of the North have for supporting Gen. GRANT perhaps I ought not to speak, yet I will say that if military successes ever merit civil rewards, then is Gen. GRANT entitled to all you can give.

Excepting the important victory at Gettysburg, he was the leader in almost every triumph of the Union arms. Fort Donelson, Vicksburg, with vast stores and upward of 30,000 prisoners, Chattanooga and Missionary Ridge, and the finale at Appomattox Court-house, attest this. Though the end was reached by fearful losses, by the wearing out by attrition of the Southern armies, yet such losses were required to disorganize and overcome such armies. It was the only mode of ending the war, for had the morale and organization of the Confederate armies not been thus destroyed, war would now exist. That our country has been spared from so continued a calamity all should rejoice; and trusting I have not worn out your patience, I remain yours sincerely, BENJ. S. EWELL.

SENATOR FERRY.

Letter to one of his Democratic Supporters in Connecticut.

The New-Haven papers publish the following letter from Senator FERRY:

UNITED STATES SENATE CHAMBER, }
WASHINGTON, May 17, 1872. }

Hon. James F. Babcock:

MY DEAR SIR: I thank you for your pleasant congratulatory letter. I am grateful to the Democrats who gave me their votes. I am a Republican, indeed, and probably always shall be. They are Democrats, and not likely to change. And yet, we are not all antagonisms, even in politics. We have one country that we love; one wish for its prosperity. We differ in many ways about the best method of promoting its welfare, but, in some things, it has turned out that we are agreed. I knew that I was acting in accord with the platforms of my party when I proposed to remove the disabilities which encumber a portion of the Southern people, and when I resisted an unconstitutional attempt to take away from all the people the management of their local affairs. But I have found Democrats and Republicans alike giving me their support in the position that I have taken upon these measures, and I am grateful to both. The moral of the Senatorial election in Connecticut is not that any party or faction or individual has won a triumph, but that the people sustain independent thought and action in their representatives. Yours truly, O. S. FERRY.

Another Influential Southerner Declares for Grant.

From the Norwich (Conn.) Bulletin, May 21.

From a letter to a gentleman in this city we extract the following. It is written by Gen. HENRY C. WAYNE, of Savannah, son of the late Judge WAYNE, of the United States Supreme Court, and during the rebellion Adjutant-General of the State of Georgia, and a prominent man in the Southern administration. After referring in general terms to the political condition of the country, he says:

The Communists and Internationals have made rapid strides in the past three years, and the securing of their candidate at Cincinnati demonstrates that they are now an organized political power in the land. GREELEY cannot be anything but GREELEY, even should he succeed in changing his spot to the White House. The Democratic Party, so called, at the North, does not include an individual of sufficient ability and national reputation to make a successful run, if it commanded the confidence of the South, which it does not. We cannot stand being carried in the pockets of a foreign Jew banker, though Tammany finds it a profitable investment. The only hope, then, the country has, as it seems to many of us here, to secure good order and stability, lies in the election of a regular Republican candidate.

Mr. Smith Goes for Mr. Greeley.

(From Harper's Weekly.)

The fun of the campaign begins early. But it was inevitable. The laugh that greeted the Cincinnati nominations, we are constantly told, will not defeat them. Perhaps not; but we trust that Mr. GENET and Mr. MORRISSEY and Mr. MATTHEW T. BRENNAN and Mr. THOS. J. CREAMER, and the other supporters of Mr. GREELEY and purification of the Government, will not grudge us a little laugh before the election, since their success would certainly be no laughing matter. A great work is apparently to be done by epithets. The Cincinnati candidate is already "Old HORACE," "Old Honesty," "Old Honest HORACE," "the honest old farmer," "the old man," "Old White Coat," "Old White Hat," "Old Tree-chopper," "the Sage of Chappaqua," "the Doctor." "Our Later Franklin" might be supplemented by "Our old modern Cincinnatus"—which would be peculiarly proper.

Those persons who do not think it immoral to joke upon this subject—and we fear that there are some of that kind—will probably add to this list. We must expect such ribaldry as "Old Bail-bonds," and "Old Four-hundred-millions," suggestive of the offer to Mr. LINCOLN to buy a peace; and "Old Niagara," or "Old Frontier," or "Old Cataract," commemorative of the peace performances at that famous Fall; and "Old Let-'em-go," meaning the Southern States in 1860-61; and "Old Away-with-Lincoln," playfully significant of the Greeley proposition to set that President aside in 1864; and "Old Root-hog-or-die," embalming the fraternal advice which H. G. gave to the freedmen; and "Old Villain-you-lie," epitomizing his direct and sinewy Saxon familiarly addressed to those with whom he differs.

An irreverent friend at our elbow proposes an agricultural series. Why not, he says, "Old Prize Strawberry," "Old What-do-I-know-about-it?" "Old Garden-sass," and, he adds, prophetically, "Old Beet." Still another friend insists that there must be some fond term by which Mr. DORSHEIMER and Mr. D. A. WELLS can commend their candidate to their free-trade friends; and he suggests, for the consideration of those gentlemen, "Old Protection," "High old Tariff," "Old Pig-Iron," "Old Bessemer," and "Old Wooden Screws."

But these are frivolities. There are tears as well as jokes in this business. And while the campaign has its humorous aspects, it is also full of pathos. The Cincinnati candidate went to Poughkeepsie to lecture, and we read that he was taken to a hotel. "Then the inhabitants began to flock in to take a look and shake the hand of the sage of Chappaqua. The first to step forward was an old gray-headed man. He seized Mr. GREELEY by the hand, and, as a tear trickled down his cheek, said, 'How de do, Mr. GREELEY? my name is SMITH!'" 'Tis affecting. 'Tis pathetic. "Let me," says the ghost of Lawrence Sterne, in THACKERAY's sketch—"let me drop the tear of sensibility." How de do, Mr. GREELEY? my name is SMITH, And tears trickled down SMITH's liberal Cincinnati nose.

Why should not "Old HORACE" go to Chicago, and be taken to a hotel in that city also; and why should not the editor of the Chicago Tribune enter to look at the "old tree-chopper" and seize his hand, and while a tear steals down his cheek, sob, "How de do, Old Protection? my name is Free-Trade?" The modern Cincinnatus would blandly forgive him, would tell him that the offenses of youth and ignorance were pardoned, and gayly add that when, by the aid of his constant friend and supporter, the Chicago Tribune, Old Bessemer reached the White House, he should, of course, expect the paper which had advocated his election to support his good, stiff old Clay and Carey American policy of high protection to domestic manufactures. We fancy that we see still more tears trickling down the liberal editorial nose. "'Tis sad," cried Paul Pry, and he wept like a noddy."

Indeed, with Mr. SMITH's tears and the laughter of his fellow-citizens, we shall have an entertaining Summer.

Clear Head, Healthy Stomach.

Possessed of these two requisites of physical and intellectual vigor, who can venture to call himself seriously sick, either in body or mind? Clearness of intellect and vigor of digestion are indicative of a natural condition of all the organs, for when any other portions of the system are ailing, it is quite impossible that the brain and the stomach should remain unaffected, undisturbed. Now, it is beyond question, for the fact is established by a uniform experience of twenty years, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the finest stomachic ever obtained by chemical science from the vegetable kingdom, and that as antagonist of the blues and every species of mental hallucination, it has no equal in the materia medica. In cases of extreme debility, it is a swift and sovereign remedy.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and has been used for many years with never-failing safety and success, by millions of mothers for their children.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

Of the rather extensive list of City real estate offered by MULLER, WILKINS & Co., at the Exchange yesterday, (Tuesday, May 21,) the following sales were made: Three-story high-stoop brown-stone house and lot, No. 124 East Forty-first-street, south side, between Lexington and Fourth avenues, sold to E. MENDHEIM for $14,000; brick building, lately occupied as a Jewish Synagogue, with plot of ground, Nos. 248 and 250 West Thirty-third-street, south side, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, sold by order of Trustees of Congregation Shaaray Tefila, purchased by HYMAN ISRAEL for $13,200; two-story and attic brick house and lot, No. 116 East One Hundred and Twenty-ninth-street, south side, between Third and Fourth avenues, sold to E. CAMPION for $5,350. The balance of the property offered was withdrawn for the want of adequate bids. By other auctioneers the following sales were, in addition, made: By JAMES M. MILLER, under a Supreme Court foreclosure order, RICHARD C. BEAMISH, Esq., referee, sale of property on the south-east corner of First-avenue and One Hundred and Seventeenth-street, embracing a lot, full size, with a four-story Philadelphia-brick house, with store, and a three-story and basement Philadelphia brick house thereon, sold for $17,800 and purchased by BEVERLY ROBINSON, Jr. By A. J. BLEECKER, SON & CO., under a similar Court order, T. HENNESSY, Esq., referee, sale of a three-story brick house and lot on the north-west corner of Avenue A and Seventy-fourth-street, sold for $6,800 and purchased by the plaintiff in the legal action, HENRIETTA HIRSCH. This property sold cheap, the house on the same now renting for $720 per year. By JOSEPH MCGUIRE, sale at public auction of a two-story frame house with large plot of ground, located at Fordham, Westchester County, and situated on the road to Jerome Park, near the railway depot; sold for $5,750, and purchased by G. W. MCLAUGHLIN. No other business was transacted. A report of the auction held at Newark by A. D. MELLICK, JR., & BRO. will appear to-morrow.

The sale at Richmond Hill, Long Island, conducted by JERE. JOHNSON, JR., and held on Monday, May 20, was largely attended, and the result again a success, as has been the case with nearly all the suburban auctions thus far carried through. In all 121 lots were sold for $14,147 in the total, an average of about $118 per lot. Full particulars of the result, with names of purchasers in each instance, will be found below.

Today at the Exchange the executors' sale of the valuable property belonging to the Slevin estate, takes place; an auction regarded by those conversant with City real estate as one of the most important proposed this year. MULLER, WILKINS & Co. are the auctioneers in charge, which is a sufficient guarantee that the transaction will be in all respects fairly conducted, and as the terms of sale are liberal, a success will in all probability be achieved. For the information of investors and others, and owing to the interest evinced in this auction, a recapitulation of the property to be sold is again made, viz.: Six lots on the west side of the Grand Boulevard, commencing on the south-west corner of Sixty-first-street, near the Grand Circle; twelve lots, bounded by Broadway, Seventh-avenue, and Fiftieth-street, forming a square, and fronting on the three streets; two lots on the west side of Broadway, between Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth streets; three houses and lots on the east side of Broadway, between Forty-ninth and Fiftieth streets; one lot on the east side of Broadway, between Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth streets; one lot on the west side of Seventh-avenue, between Forty-ninth and Fiftieth streets; one first-class four-story stone-front store and lot on the west side of Church-street, between Canal and Lispenard streets, No. 232; rent $5,500 per year; and one first-class four-story stone-front store and lot on the south side of Walker-street, near Church-street, No. 23; lot of extra depth; rent $6,000 per annum. In addition to the above, several other auctions are announced for today at the Exchange, among which the proposed sale by JERE. JOHNSON, JR., of the business property No. 70 Murray-street is noticeable. Today, also, at Greenville, N. J., on the ground, at 12½ P. M., A. D. MELLICK, JR., & BRO. will offer for sale 150 very choice building lots, all well located and desirable. Dealers in New-Jersey real estate will find it to their advantage to be present at this auction, as the property will be sold on reasonable terms, and as an investment offers superior inducements for a purchase. Special train from foot of Liberty-street at 12 o'clock.

COUNTRY REAL ESTATE.

FORTY-FOUR UNRIVALED VILLA PLOTS.
NEAR LONG BRANCH.
Containing from one to four acres each, situated at the junction of the Navesink and Shrewsbury Rivers, opposite the Highlands, and within full view of the ocean. This property is admirably located at Black Point, Shrewsbury Township, Monmouth County, N. J., four miles north of Long Branch, twenty-six miles from New-York by a delightful sail through the bay and harbor of New-York to Sandy Hook, thence by rail along the beach to Sea Bright, three-fourths of a mile from the property.

Additional means of communication can be had by steam-boat to Oceanic, (formerly Port Washington,) while the early completion of the New-York and Long Branch Railroad (all rail) will afford still further means of access.

The situation of the property furnishes unequaled facilities for surf and still water bathing, boating and fishing, features and advantages very desirable, and which here can be enjoyed to the fullest extent.

The surrounding country abounds in excellent roads and drives, valuable improvements are being made, values are increasing, the scenery is picturesque, and the entire region noted for its healthfulness. An opportunity is here presented for a sea-side residence seldom afforded.

For maps of the property, terms and information, apply to W. L. TYSON, Esq., on the premises, or to F. S. WINCHESTER, No. 20 Nassau-st., New-York, Room No. 28.

FIRST-CLASS COUNTRY RESIDENCE FOR SALE—The homestead of the late A. G. Hazard, in the centre of the beautiful town of Enfield, Conn., about nine miles from Springfield and seventeen miles from Hartford. It comprises about forty-five acres of land, fronting on Enfield-st., and all the buildings desirable for a gentleman's residence, is situated near churches, schools and the post-office, and about a mile from the Springfield and Hartford Railroad depot. The location is healthful and pleasant, and only a half-mile distant from the "Enfield Rapids" on the Connecticut River. The grounds are handsomely laid out and well supplied with fruit and ornamental trees, hedges and green-houses. The house is of brick, stuccoed; has stone foundations, underpinning and trimmings; is comparatively new and in perfect repair; built in the most thorough and substantial manner, elegantly finished; has all the modern conveniences and improvements; contains twenty-five good-sized rooms, two furnaces, bath-room, &c., and hot and cold water are carried into every part of the house. It has but few equals as a desirable country residence for a gentleman's family, and it is also admirably adapted for a boys' or girls' boarding-school, or a Summer hotel for city boarders.

The above property will be sold at a bargain, and a liberal portion of the purchase money can remain on mortgage if desired. For further information inquire personally or by letter of E. W. BOND, or CHARLES MARSH, cashier of Pynchon National Bank, Springfield, Mass.

ON THE BERKSHIRE HILLS, AT PITTSFIELD, MASS.—A very desirable residence, within two miles of the Pittsfield Station, on the upper plateau, on the road leading to the New-Lebanon Springs, from which and Columbia Hall it is three to four miles distant, situated on the beautiful Lake Onota. The grounds contain sixty acres, mostly in grass, with shade and fruit trees in abundance; the dwelling contains fifteen rooms, with bath-rooms, &c.; a good farm-house, two stables and a barn; the grounds border on the lake about a fourth of a mile; the house is on an elevation commanding a beautiful view of the lake, with Graylock Mountains in the distance, and is considered one of the loveliest and most beautiful situations in Berkshire; the lake is over two miles long, and affords fine boating, fishing and duck-shooting; Pittsfield is accessible by Boston and Albany Railroad, the Housatonic Road, North Adams and Northern Vermont Road; the house is finely furnished, and can be sold with or without the furniture; price, without the furniture, $22,500; terms easy; furniture can be bought at a fair valuation. Apply to
HOMER MORGAN,
No. 2 Pine-street.

FOR SALE—AT ELIZABETH, N. J., A FINE residence and lot 65x220; the house contains thirteen rooms, with gas and fixtures, hot and cold water, bath-room, laundry, &c.; it has been built four years, and has just been put in perfect order throughout, painted inside and out and handsomely papered. It is located in a first-class neighborhood, Elm-st., 200 feet from Morris-av., and adjoins my own property, which is 85 feet front, and is tastefully laid out in lawn, walks, shrubbery, fountain, &c. It is eight minutes' walk from either the New-Jersey or Central Railroad Depots; terms, $7,000 mortgage and $5,500 cash. Address J. D. WHITE, Box No. 833 New-York Post-office, or apply at the Treasury Office Erie Railway Company, corner 8th-av. and 23d-st., from 10 to 4 o'clock.

MORNINGSIDE MANSION IN PITTSFIELD, BERKSHIRE COUNTY, MASS.—This villa, recently owned and occupied by Judge B. R. Curtis, is offered for sale. From ten to one hundred acres of meadow, tillage and wood land, can be had with it; the land is of the first quality and has a warm south-easterly exposure; the buildings are all in perfect repair and carefully adapted to Summer and Winter occupancy; it is provided with a prolific grapery, a large and productive fruit orchard, and extensive garden grounds, well cared for and inviting; the site commands an unusual range of Berkshire scenery, and the place is considered one of the very finest villas in the country; it is one mile from the centre of Pittsfield. Inquire of E. H. KELLOGG, Pittsfield, Mass.

HUDSON RIVER PROPERTY.—Peremptory sale, in partition, by order of the Supreme Court, at the Court-house, in Poughkeepsie, on SATURDAY, May 25, 1872, at 12 o'clock noon. The valuable farm of land situate on the east bank of the Hudson River, sixty-five miles from the City of New-York, about half way between Fishkill Landing and New-Hamburg, adjoining the country-seat of the late Mr. Barclay, on the south, one mile north of the Hudson River Railroad Depot at Carthage Landing, known as the Robinson farm, and containing about 125 acres. This property is eligibly situated, commanding numerous fine river and inland views. To be sold under the direction of JAMES H. WEEKS, Referee.
For further information apply to F. S. ROBINSON, No. 126 Pearl-st., New-York City.

$40,000.—TO EXCHANGE FOR City or Brooklyn property, the MOST COMPLETE HOUSE in Westchester County, being two story and French roof, 42x65, with GAS, WATER, FURNACE, RANGE, LAUNDRY; house is finished in black walnut, and is as near perfect AS MONEY CAN MAKE IT; has about forty City lots; all kinds of fruit; location on the New-Haven Railroad, forty minutes from 42d-st.; mortgage of $40,000 in the Mutual Life. Also, an elegant place at Green Farms, Conn., containing eight acres.

Terms easy. Rent, $1,200. For permit inquire at West Elizabeth Depot, near by, or for description and full particulars, address OWNER, Post-office Box No. 184, Elizabeth, N. J.

FOR SALE—IN THE VILLAGE OF CANANDAIGUA, Ontario County, New-York, the late residence of Hon. Francis Granger. The premises contain seventeen acres of excellent land, upon which is a beautiful hickory grove. The house is large, commodious, in good condition, and has every convenience of a first-class city house; an abundance of fruit upon the premises, with grapery and green-house in the garden. For particulars address A. H. HOWELL, in Canandaigua, or HENRY L. PIERSON, JR., No. 24 Broadway, New-York.

TO CAPITALISTS—ON THE JERSEY side and about one and a half miles from the Jersey City ferry slip, and laying beautifully ready for immediate improvements. I have for sale a plot of about eighty acres to be sold as an entirety. In its being in an improved neighborhood, there is large prospective advance. One or more parties can make on this property, (now mostly under cultivation,) by an early purchase, an advance in a comparatively short time, closely approximating to the rise on Boulevard lots. Apply to HOMER MORGAN, No. 2 Pine-st.

RICHMOND HILL, LONG ISLAND.—High, healthy, handsome, no nuisances; only fifty-five minutes from New-York; new houses, with modern improvements; two handsome cottages, and very desirable villa plots and lots, within five minutes' walk of depot; climate mild, country beautiful, roads excellent; churches, schools, shops and Post-office near by. For sale by O. B. FOWLER, Agent, near the station, or by R. R. HAZARD, JR., No. 110 Broadway, New-York.

FOR SALE—THE LARGE AND SPLENDID house, No. 58 Grand-st., Jersey City, adjoining Washington-square; lot 50x100; house 42x50, with an extension; in perfect order, replete with all the modern conveniences, gas, water, billiard-room, &c.; brown-stone front; will be sold at a bargain, as the owner is about removing to another city, and on easy terms. Apply to HUGH N. CAMP, No. 106 Broadway.

FOR SALE—A VALUABLE MANUFACTURING property on east side of the Hudson, near New-York, with steam and water power. For brewery purposes it is admirably adapted, having a pure stream of spring water running through it, and the lay of the ground makes it well suited for beer vaults. Apply to HOMER MORGAN, No. 2 Pine-st.

CAYUGA LAKE RAILROAD,
State of New-York,
7 PER CENT.
FIRST MORTGAGE
GOLD BONDS.

At 90 and accrued interest in currency.
THIRTY YEARS TO RUN, AND ISSUED FOR $20,000 PER MILE.

This road forms the shortest and most direct route from the great anthracite and semi-bituminous coal-fields of Pennsylvania into the central part of this State, and will run in connection with the New-York Central Road, which it crosses at Cayuga Bridge. Traversing, as it does, the finest and most populous agricultural district, generally known as the "GARDEN OF THE STATE," its local traffic will be large, but its greatest source of revenue will be from its coal business. The road is being rapidly built. Iron is now being laid on a section covering more than one-quarter of the distance, and work on the whole line being pushed with great vigor, so that it is expected to have coal trains running by the 1st of November next. From our knowledge of this enterprise, and after the most thorough investigation, we most confidently recommend the Bonds as a safe investment. We offer, for the present, the Bonds at 90 and accrued interest in currency.

LEONARD, SHELDON & FOSTER,
NO. 10 WALL-ST.

MIDLAND PACIFIC RAILWAY
7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds,

Limited to $13,333 per mile and secured by a first mortgage on a completed road running from Nebraska City, on the Missouri River, to Lincoln, the capital of Nebraska. This division has been open one year, and IS NOW EARNING MORE THAN THE INTEREST ON ITS BONDS. It is the central link of a direct East and West road now being rapidly built from Urbana, Ill., through a very rich agricultural and densely populated district the greater part of the way to Grand Island, on the Union Pacific. This new line is about 610 miles long, and much needed by the section of country which it traverses, therefore receives very liberal aid toward its construction, and the completion of the entire line is anticipated within 1873. In the meantime we shall sell the bonds only on completed road. This will make the shortest route from the Atlantic to the Pacific, it being almost an air line.

We recommend these bonds as a prime security. Coupons payable Feb. and Aug. 1, free of tax, in the City of New-York. Present price 90 and accrued interest in currency.

3,500 pounds Salt, fine, in barrels.

Bids for beef cattle will state price per pound, gross. Parties bidding for the other articles will state price per pound, net, and furnish a sample of each article bid for except the bacon and salt. The prices must be given without modification, or any proposed modification whatever.

The beef cattle must be good, merchantable Cattle, all steers, from three to seven years old, in good, healthy condition, and averaging at least eight hundred pounds, live weight, the weight to be determined by weighing on scales, when practicable. Their delivery must commence at each of the points named on the first day of July, 1872, at which time about one-twenty-fourth of the whole quantity will be delivered; and, thereafter, the balance to be delivered in equal quantities on the 15th and 1st of each month.

Bids will also be received for the delivery of the quantity of Beef required for the months of January, February, March, April, May and June, 1873, of what are known as "Native," or "American," Cattle, or for Cattle that have been wintered north of Kansas; the Cattle so delivered to meet the above requirements as regards age and condition, and to average not less than one thousand and fifty pounds, live weight.

That there may be no failure on the part of the contractor, he will be required to keep the Beef Cattle in the vicinity of the agency, to be delivered when required; and should it be ascertained that he is not collecting cattle in the vicinity fast enough, or should he fail to deliver them as required, the undersigned will purchase, or cause to be purchased, Beef Cattle as he may elect, at the expense of said contractor.

All the supplies except the Beef will be inspected and received by the Government at New-York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Omaha, Kansas City, or Sioux City, and, with the further exception of Flour, must be delivered, packed and marked for shipment by the 15th day of June, 1872.

The Flour must be ready for inspection and delivery at such times and in such quantities as will secure, at each Agency, at all times, at least one month's supply.

Bids will also be received for the delivery at St. Louis or Kansas City, by the 15th day of September next, of the following Bacon, clear sides:

For the Upper Arkansas Agency, 39,375 pounds.
For the Kiowa Agency, 10,000 pounds.
For the Wichita Agency, 28,125 pounds.

Distinct bids will also be received for the delivery of any one or all of the above-named articles, in the quantities stated, at any one or all of the above-named agencies.

The Bacon must be sound and sweet, and put up in gunnies.

The Flour to be fresh ground, of XX quality, to be made wholly from good, sound wheat, and to be delivered in good, strong double sacks.

The Coffee to be delivered in double sacks. The sugar to be delivered in barrels, full head-lined.

Proposals will be received for the delivery of any one or all of the above-named articles, for any one or all of said agencies.

The undersigned reserves the right to increase or diminish the quantity of each or any of the articles which the bidder or bidders propose to furnish.

All articles furnished by contract made under this advertisement will be subject to inspection, and such articles as may in any respect fail to conform to the requirements of contract and the sample, will be rejected, and in that case the contractor or contractors will be bound to furnish others of the required kind or quality without delay, or if that be not done they will be purchased at his or their expense.

Payments will be made at this office on proper receipts, after the accounts therefor shall have been properly approved.

Each copy of each proposal must have a copy of this advertisement (a slip from a newspaper) pasted at its head.

The right is reserved to reject any or all proposals, if such a course should be deemed for the interest of the Government.

No proposal will be considered that does not strictly comply with the following form:

"I (or we) propose to furnish the Indian Department, according to the terms of the advertisement of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, dated May 1, 1872, the following articles at the prices thereto affixed. (Here insert the list of articles proposed to be furnished.) Said articles are to be delivered in (here insert the proposed place of delivery) by the (insert date.) And if this proposal be accepted I (or we) will, within ten days after being notified, execute a contract accordingly, and give security to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs for the faithful performance of the same."

No bid will be considered unless accompanied by a guarantee in the following form, to be signed by two responsible persons, whose sufficiency must be certified by a United States Judge or District-Attorney.

"We hereby, jointly and severally, guarantee that the above bidder, (or bidders,) if a contract shall be awarded to him (or them) according to his (or their) bid or proposal, will execute a contract accordingly, and give the requisite security for the faithful performance of the same, as prescribed in the advertisement for proposals for Indian Supplies, dated May 1, 1872; and in the event of his (or their) failure to do so, we hereby agree and bind ourselves, our heirs, executors and administrators, to forfeit and pay to the United States, as damages, a sum not less than fifteen per cent. on the amount of said bid or proposal."

Bonds will be required in the amount of the bid for the faithful performance of the contract, with two or more sureties, whose sufficiency must be certified to by a United States Judge or District-Attorney.

Each bidder must designate his place of business, where communications sent to him will be received, the same to be entered in his contract, should one be awarded him.

Proposals should be inclosed in an envelope, addressed to the undersigned, and indorsed "Proposals for Supplies for Indians."

Bidders are invited to be present at the opening of the bids.

The bids will be opened in the presence of the Board of Indian Commissioners and a committee to be designated by the Secretary of the Interior, as soon as the time for receiving the same shall have expired, and the contracts will be awarded as soon thereafter as practicable.
FRANCIS A. WALKER,
Commissioner.

AMUSEMENTS.

WORLD'S PEACE JUBILEE
AND
INTERNATIONAL MUSICAL FESTIVAL,
AT BOSTON.

PRELIMINARY ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Executive Committee of the World's Peace Jubilee and International Musical Festival respectfully announce that the great undertaking to which the music-loving people of the country have been looking forward for many months, with such deep interest, will commence in Boston

ON THE 17TH DAY OF JUNE,
And close on the FOURTH OF JULY NEXT.

It is hardly necessary to state that the preparations for this great event have required the constant application for months of the thousands who are to participate in it, and have involved an enormous expenditure; but the Committee feel confident that the time, labor and expense devoted to the successful development of so noble an enterprise must result in not only affording the highest gratification to all who may hear the glorious music to be rendered upon a scale of grandeur never before attempted, and witness the magnificent spectacle which such an assemblage must present, but that it will also confer a lasting benefit upon art, the country and the age.

While the programme of the first week of the Festival will embrace all the great features to be presented—including the

CHORUS OF TWENTY THOUSAND VOICES,
THE
ORCHESTRA OF TWO THOUSAND PERFORMERS,

the most powerful organ ever built, together with many of the most eminent American and European bands and artists, (among whom may be mentioned the great maestro, of fifty-six performers,) the concerts to be given from first to last will surpass any series of musical entertainments ever presented to the American public.

JOHANN STRAUSS AND HIS FAMOUS AUSTRIAN BAND

SEASON TICKETS, transferable, admitting to all the Concerts from June 17 to July 4, inclusive, FIFTY DOLLARS EACH, including reserved seats, now ready; and tickets for single admission to each entertainment, during the first week, FIVE DOLLARS, with reserved seats, will be ready for sale on and after June 1, and may be had upon application, personally or by letter, to A. P. PECK, Music Hall, Boston.

Per order of the Executive Committee.
HENRY G. PARKER, Secretary.

NEW-YORK, May 17, 1872.

LABOR MATTERS.

End of the Strike in New-York.

Meetings of the Several Trades Unions Last Night—Final Adjustment of the Differences—The Copper Miners Still Out.

The strike of the working men engaged in the various branches connected with building is now at an end in this City, and the men were at work yesterday in their shops and elsewhere. A rumor had gained some currency, yesterday afternoon, that the men would now demand $4 as the price of a day's labor, on the eight-hour basis; but this report was stoutly denied by all the trade organizations called upon last evening. A member of the Striking Committee of the carpenters, meeting at Masonic Hall, said to the reporter of the TIMES that no such thought ever entered the minds of any of the active members of their organization. The fight was for time, and that they had gained; and they were now ready to go to work at the price already fixed, namely, $3 50 per day. The meetings of the organization, yesterday and last night, were for the purpose of getting the men employed, and for the squaring up of accounts. In the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners the rumor had become current that the "bosses" had treated the Committee of working men with contempt, and had granted the eight hours under compulsion, intending to spring a trap upon the men at the first opportunity, and compel them again to work on the ten-hour basis. Upon the matter being properly explained to them, they expressed their readiness to go to work today, regretting that through the misunderstanding they had been compelled to remain idle all day yesterday. The members of this organization, all of whom appear to be skilled mechanics, stated that in the event of a dispute between the employers and employed they would be willing to submit the trouble to arbitration rather than resort to a strike. The members of the other organizations have agreed to go to work today, although nearly every one of them will join in the grand parade set down for Friday next.

The Cabinet-Makers, Wood-Carvers and Upholsterers.

At the Teutonia Assembly Rooms, in Third-avenue, yesterday, the Committee having the management of the strike of the German journeymen cabinet-makers, wood-carvers and upholsterers were in session up till 6 in the evening. During the day reports were constantly received of additional firms having conceded the demands of the men. Early in the morning, and again in the afternoon, the workmen assembled in mass-meeting in the rooms, Mr. ROBERT SCHUSTER, President of the German United Cabinet-makers' Association, presiding. The various reports which had been received were read, and were received with great enthusiasm. Up to the hour of adjournment reports had been received from about fifty of the largest shops, stating that the proprietors had accepted the eight-hour system. The following is a list of the firms:

Brickelmeyer, Thompson-street; Leforte, Twenty-third-street and Third-avenue; Vogel, Thirty-seventh-street and Second-avenue; Gustow, Amity-place; Flint, Twenty-fifth-street and Eleventh-avenue; Mentell, Prince-street; Van Dyke, Twenty-eighth-street and First-avenue; Aylward, Downing-street; Herter Brothers; Marcotte, Third, second-street; Zenz, Prince-street; Lowenbein, Hudson-street; Kent, Hudson-street; Kerch, Prince-street; Falletz, Sixth-avenue; Laun & Saile, Twelfth-street; Boller, First-avenue; Gerre & Co., Mercer-street; Derleth, Elizabeth-street; M. Lee, Canal-street; Manner, Bleecker-street; Hutchings, Wooster-street; Andrea, Forty-ninth-street; Koch, Wooster-street; Samle, Houston-street; Ebling, Forty-sixth-street; Oisenmenger, No. 34 East Broadway; Shaffer & Higgimor, Twenty-seventh-street; Trabusiner, Wooster-street; Shaibl, Clinton-street; Stroppel, Crosby-street; Baxter, Forty-fifth-street and Tenth-avenue; Shmitt, South Fifth-avenue; Koits, Attorney-street; Meser's, Division-street; Oppermann, Suffolk-street; Koch, Suffolk-street; Buchelmer's, Attorney-street; Essting Hornets; Misse, No. 37 Hudson-street; Holz Rowen, Attorney-street; Bomer, Sixth-avenue; Morris Selleck, Hudson-street; Elsaser, Hudson-street; Sheig, Hudson-street; Mattern, Attorney-street; Herlich, Attorney-street; Murphy, Forty-fourth-street; Freitag & Helmsby; Francis E. Ross, Twenty-ninth-street and Eleventh-avenue.

With this general disposition of the bosses to give the terms demanded, it is expected that the strike will be brought to an end within a few days. At least two-thirds of the shops have been gained, and of the others, the opinion is expressed that they will not hold out much longer. In the shops where the eight-hour system has been agreed to, work will be resumed this morning. In some of these, over 300 men are employed. In the meantime these men will contribute $2 each per week to a fund for the support of those who continue on strike.

The Coach-Painters' Eight-Hour League.

The coach painters of this City held a mass-meeting last evening at Military Hall, No. 193 Bowery, for the purpose of affecting an organization for mutual protection, and the establishment of eight hours as a day's labor. A resolution was passed organizing the body under the name of the "Coach Painters' Eight-hour League," and several speakers addressed the meeting on the advantages of co-operation for the purpose of securing themselves against oppression, and shortening their hours of labor. The following were elected as the officers for the current year: President, JOHN DONALDSON; Vice President, Peter Barry; Recording Secretary, John Carmody; Financial Secretary, Michael Roche; Treasurer, William Bondsley; Sergeant-at-Arms, Cornelius McClusky.

The Amalgamated Carpenters and Joiners.

The principal thing done last evening was preparing a reply to the language of some of the employers at the meeting at the Cooper Union Monday evening, reflecting on the intelligence of the journeymen, and stigmatizing them with unbecoming epithets. The resolution vindicated the intelligence and self-respect of the Amalgamated Carpenters and Joiners, and the members handled Mr. HUME, to whom the offensive language is attributed, with severity. A delegation went from the organization to the meeting of the Carpenters' Union, at Masonic Hall, where they exchanged friendly greetings and pledges of good faith and co-operation.

The Troubles at the Michigan Copper Mines—Partial Resumption of Work by the Strikers.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 21.—A special from Houghton, Mich., to the Daily Wisconsin, says seven prisoners were arrested on Saturday night and lodged in jail. While the arrests were being made, the miners gave three groans for the Sheriff and officers of the mine, and three cheers for the soldiers. No resistance was made by those arrested. Bail to the amount of $20,000 has been offered for the release of the prisoners, but it has not been accepted.

It is thought that by Wednesday the Calumet and Hecla Mines will be at work again.

Mr. AGASSIZ, President of these mines, arrived here today, and will either start the miners at work or eject them from their houses at once, and should the latter be the case it is hard to say what the result will be with the other mines, as all those now at work are awaiting the issues of the Calumet and Hecla strike. The strikers resumed work with the understanding that they should receive whatever was agreed upon by the Calumet and Hecla Mines.

Important Meeting of the National Rifle Association.

A meeting of the National Rifle Association was held last evening at No. 127 Mercer-street, Col. CHURCH, President, in the chair. The Secretary, Capt. WINGATE, reported that he had received a communication from Mr. J. J. MASON, Secretary of the Victoria Rifle Association, Ontario, Canada, inclosing papers, showing the present system on which the Canadian Volunteers are working; also a number of papers from one of the officers of the British Horse Guards, giving information regarding the Wimbledon annual meetings.

Gen. WOODWARD reported that the Association had a balance on hand of $295 75.

The Committee on Legislation reported that the bill, approved by the Adjutant-General of the State, had been passed in the Assembly and Senate, and had been signed by the Governor, and that the Association were under obligation to Messrs. JUDD, FOLEY and BERRI in the Assembly, and to Senators PERRY, J. WOOD and O'BRIEN in the Senate; also to Gen. JOSEPH HOOKER, Cols. H. J. CULLEN and CHAS. S. SPENCER and other officers in the National Guard.

Resolutions were adopted, giving the sincere thanks of the Association to Hon. DAVID W. JUDD, for his efforts in the passage of the bill, and stating that in memory thereof a prize of $150, to be divided among a stated number, best shots, entitled the "Judd Prize," shall be competed for at every annual meeting of the Association.

A Committee was appointed to select a rifle range. The Secretary stated that the Duke of CAMBRIDGE, President of the National Rifle Association of Great Britain, had communicated with the Association through Gen. SCHENCK, our American Minister, stating his willingness to supply the Association with every information in his power that may be required.

A resolution was adopted, to the effect that the first annual meeting of the Association shall take place in September next.

Col. HENRY J. CULLEN was elected a Director in the place of Col. MASON resigned.

On motion, it was recommended that steps be taken to procure the passage by Congress of an act admitting the targets, mantlets, &c., required for the use of the range, free of duty.

The meeting then adjourned.

THE BOWLING-GREEN BANK.

Its Present Condition—Further Developments—"Hank" Smith's Securities.

The depositors of the Bowling-Green Savings Bank have the satisfaction of learning that, on Monday last, that collapsed institution was finally withdrawn from bankruptcy. It is exactly six months since the Court of Bankruptcy appointed Mr. SHEPPARD KNAPP receiver of the suspended savings bank, and shortly after this appointment Mr. MAY, a depositor, whose claim amounted to $9,000, made application to the Court, and through his efforts the bank was adjudicated bankrupt.

Mr. MAY has for a consideration of $1,000 abandoned the proceedings in bankruptcy, and the receiver and the Committee are now at liberty to wind up the affairs of the institution. On the 3d of June next the first dividend of twenty-five per cent. will be paid to all depositors, and within three months after that date a further dividend of twenty-five per cent. will be declared, thus securing to the depositors a certainty of receiving fifty cents on the dollar of their hard-earned savings. Thus far the efforts of the Depositors' Committee have been rewarded with gratifying, if somewhat tardy, success. Of the balance of fifty per cent. which will remain due to the depositors after the payment of the aforesaid dividends, but little can be said in the way of encouragement. The $50,000 paid over to the bank as "hush" money, by HANK SMITH, some months ago, turns out to be not quite such a welcome offering as was anticipated. Of this "hush" money, $10,000 have already been received in cash, and notes for $40,000 were accepted by the receiver. The time for cashing one of these notes happened recently, when, to the surprise of the receiver, some "difficulty" was found in converting "Hank" SMITH's securities into available currency. Application was immediately made to Mr. SMITH from whom an explanation of the "difficulty" was demanded, but he was conveniently indisposed, and the value or worthlessness of his securities must remain in abeyance for a few days more. The Receiver is assured that the gentlemen who have indorsed SMITH's notes are perfectly reliable, and that the money will certainly be paid, but the depositors have received fresh cause for alarm in this little incident, their past experience of "Hank" SMITH teaching them to look at all his transactions with gravely suspicious eyes. The Committee state that they are now at liberty to proceed against WALTER ROCHE, and use every means that the civil and criminal laws of the State give them to make him surrender his share of the misappropriated funds of the Bank, the incubus of the bankruptcy proceedings having prevented them bringing him to justice months ago. ROCHE has made no offer of compromise other than the one already reported in the TIMES, which the Committee indignantly rejected, and the sum they now demand of him is $150,000, to represent his share of the missing funds, and about $10,000 more for legal and other expenses incurred in bringing him to bay. The Committee feel very confident of forcing ROCHE to disgorge, now that their hands are free, and a few days more will probably bring the case of the Bowling-green Bank against WALTER ROCHE prominently before the public again.

A portion of the property made over to the bank by REEVES E. SELMES, the Secretary, has been sold, but did not realize more than half of its anticipated value, so that a further demand will be made upon him, and possibly an attachment will be issued upon his salary of $4,800 per year, which he draws from the City under cover of the sinecure office of Deputy Clerk of Supervisors. SELMES has still in his possession about sixty vouchers of the Bowling-green Bank, and refuses to surrender them. They refer, it is said, entirely to his own connection with the unsecured loans, and present him in as criminal a light as his associates, "Hank" SMITH and WALTER ROCHE.

Annual Meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

The annual meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers began at Cooper Institute last evening. Mr. W. RAYMOND in the chair. There were present a good number of members from the various cities and towns of this State and Pennsylvania. The address of welcome was delivered by ABRAM S. HEWITT, Esq. The speaker said substantially:

No body of men understand better than you that capital is essential to the development of natural resources, but capital does not always comprehend as fully that science and experience are essential for the profitable use of money in the vast industrial undertakings of our day, and hence result disastrous failures. A few considerations may serve to shed some light on this subject, of such material consequence to science and capital. Consequently I venture briefly to suggest them, as the means of establishing a common ground of sympathy and fellowship between the men of science and the men of business, drawing my illustrations from that subject with which I am most familiar—the production of iron. The annual production of iron in 1856 had reached 7,000,000 tons, of which Great Britain produced 3,500,000, and the United States about 1,000,000 tons. Iron is produced at less money-cost in Great Britain than in any other quarter of the globe. This has enabled her to produce about one-half of the total annual make. Of the 7,000,000 tons made in 1855, Great Britain produced 3,585,906 tons, and of the 13,500,000 tons produced last year, she turned out nearly 7,000,000 tons. In 1871, the production was 13,500,000 tons, and in 1872, the limit 14,000,000 will undoubtedly be passed. In the future the bulk of this additional product can only be made in the United States. In 1855, when Great Britain produced 3,500,000 tons, we produced 1,000,000 tons. In 1872, when Great Britain will produce 7,000,000 of tons, we produce 2,000,000 tons. At the same rate, therefore, we could make 7,000,000 tons in 1887. But as Great Britain cannot possibly maintain her rate of increase, there is no doubt that our annual production will reach at least 10,000,000, and will probably amount to 15,000,000 tons before the close of the present century. The manufacture of iron will in the future make homes of which human nature may be proud. Christianity will advance, and peace and good-will between capital and labor will prevail throughout the land. Gentlemen, you are welcome to New-York.

The President acknowledged the address on behalf of the members, after which he announced that during the present week the organization would inspect Stevens' Institute at Hoboken, the works at Hallett's Point, the East River caisson, the Chrome Steel Works, of Brooklyn, and the Columbia School of Mines. The report for the year was then read. It sets forth that the Society has now 201 members, while the Treasurer has a balance of $770 in hand. After other formal business papers were read by Prof. F. PRIME, Jr., of Lafayette College, Penn., "Researches on the Consumption of Heat in the Blast Furnace;" ANTON EILERS, of this City, "The Metallurgical Value of the Lignites of the Far West;" and J. S. ALEXANDER, of Philadelphia, "The Indiana Block Coal and Rival Fuels."

The Jersey City Malfeasance Cases—A Neat Land Speculation.

The Hudson County Courts are again occupied with the trial of the indictments against the officials of Jersey City charged with malfeasance in office. The Court, yesterday, took up the case of Commissioners BUMSTED and WELSH, indicted for conspiracy with GARRETT VREELAND to defraud the city in the purchase of lands in connection with the new reservoir. The purchases are alleged to have been made in the Spring and Summer of 1871, and represented property valued at $153,710, which was, as alleged, sold to the city for $189,470. VREELAND, it is charged, made the purchase with money furnished by BUMSTED, and the latter, with the assistance of WELSH, pushed the sales through the Board of Works, the three men then dividing the profits resulting. The mode of operation was as follows: VREELAND went to parties owning such land as was required by the city in the erection of the reservoir and represented himself as an agent of the city for purchasing the required lands. In order to secure sales at as low a price as possible, he would represent that, if the land was not sold to him, it would be sequestered by the city for public purposes, and the owners would be obliged to take unfair prices. Parties were thus induced to sell, but the deeds, instead of being made out to the city, were made to VREELAND, who paid the price, took the land, and the sale was then manipulated as above stated with the assistance of the Commissioners, who were interested. These are the charges which the State intends to prove.

The State presented as a witness HENRY H. NEWKIRK, Clerk of the Board of Works, who testified in detail as to the amounts voted, the times of purchase, &c., connected with the reservoir lands. He was on the stand for several hours, and was cross-examined at length by counsel for the defense. The case will probably occupy considerable time.

The Presbyterian Synod—Yesterday's Proceedings.

The Presbyterian Synod reassembled yesterday, for the transaction of business. The subject of "How to increase the Sabbath-schools" was discussed by Rev. Mr. YOUNG and Rev. Mr. GAILEY, who maintained that properly conducted Sunday-schools were a blessing, and if not properly managed were a curse. The debate on the resuscitation of the subordinate synods was opened, and was participated in by Revs. STEELE, WYLIE, WILSON, MOFFETT and McLEOD. A formal motion that the subordinate synods be resuscitated as originally established, was then put to the meeting and lost on a vote of 14 to 11. Rev. W. J. McDOWELL presented the report of the Theological Seminary, which was accepted and referred to the proper committee. A discussion arose as to the pulpit supplies of New-York and Philadelphia, which are supplied by Rev. Mr. McLEOD and Dr. STEELE. Messrs. THOMSON, YOUNG and WOODSIDE spoke on the matter, the latter suggesting to give Dr. McLEOD $3,000 a year for his services as assistant minister. The report was received. The proceedings adjourned with prayer by Rev. Mr. GRAHAM.

NEW-JERSEY.

A great fire has been raging in Bear Swamp, between Trenton and Princeton. The loss thus far has been $20,000.

WM. O'BRIEN, one of the men arrested by the Newark police for the robbery of Mr. KEEMENTZ's jewelry manufactory, has turned State's evidence against the receiver, HARRIS, who was also arrested. He says HARRIS first broached the idea of robbing the shop, but that he (O'BRIEN) was not one of the party who committed the act.

The dead-lock in the Common Council of Elizabeth still continues, with no hope of an end being put to it, unless the Mayor makes another nomination for Controller.

The body of an unknown man in a much decomposed condition was found floating yesterday at the foot of Morgan-street, Jersey City. It was taken in charge by Coroner BURNS.

The May Term of the Court of Chancery opened in Trenton yesterday. No important business was transacted, but several minor cases were set down for argument at Chambers, in Jersey City.

JAMES LARKIN, of No. 94 Norfolk-street, Newark, was run over on the Bloomfield Branch of the Morris and Essex Railroad, near Bloomfield, on Monday night, and had one of his legs severed from his body.

The woman, JULIA MURRAY, charged with killing her illegitimate child, at Newark, some time since, was yesterday brought into Court, and pleaded guilty to manslaughter. The trial is set down for Monday next.

The round-house of the Freehold and Jamesburg Agricultural Railroad at Freehold, was entered on Saturday last, and one of the engines removed. The locomotive was run to Englishtown, where it was abandoned.

The Republicans of Jersey City, last evening, held elections for delegates to the State Convention, which meets at Trenton to-morrow. Eight delegates were elected from each Assembly District. Little interest was felt in the election, which passed off quietly.

The trial of CARR FINNIGAN and FARLEY, charged with the robbery of the Bannister jewelry-store at Newark, in February last, was yesterday concluded at Newark. After an absence of two hours and a half the jury returned a verdict of guilty against all the prisoners.

The building at the corner of William and Canfield streets, Orange, owned by JOHN H. MYERS, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. It had been unoccupied for some months, and the fire was probably the work of an incendiary. The loss on the building is about $7,000; insured for $6,000.

The annual meeting of the stock-holders of the New-Jersey Railroad and Transportation Company was held yesterday for the election of four directors, to which they are entitled in the whole board of thirteen for the united companies. A. L. DENNIS, HAMILTON FISH, J. W. SCUDDER and NEHEMIAH PERRY were elected. Thirty-one thousand five hundred shares were represented.

Jersey City has narrowly escaped another such a water famine as distressed the City about a year ago. The two pumping engines at the Belleville water-works both broke down, the second one on Saturday night, and an old and almost worthless pump, which had been unused for years had to be set to work. Fortunately this kept the reservoir supplied till Monday night, when the other engines were put in order.

Funeral of the Late John David Wolfe.

The funeral of JOHN DAVID WOLFE took place from Grace Church, Broadway, yesterday afternoon. The multitudinous benevolent associations and schemes in which Mr. WOLFE was interested drew together a congregation of associates and friends, to attend his funeral obsequies, so large as to fill the church. Representatives of all the principal charitable societies were present, as was the host of friends who loved and esteemed him for his social virtues. The impressive rites of the Episcopal Church were conducted by Bishop POTTER, assisted by Rev. Drs. POTTER, WM. A. MUHLENBURG, HERMAN DYER and WM. F. MORGAN. The coffin was of rose-wood, without other ornaments than the plain silver plate bearing the name of deceased, his age and date of death. Two sprigs of laurel and a little bunch of white immortelles were laid upon the top of the coffin. Eight pall-bearers followed the body to the grave, each wearing a white sash with black rosette.

These gentlemen were Benjamin H. Field, Hon. M. Ulshaefer, John Q. Jones, Robert T. Stuart, Thomas H. Faile, Hon. James W. Beekman, Smith Clark and George Jones. Dr. JOHN F. GRAY and Dr. PAINE, the two physicians who attended Mr. WOLF during his illness, went to the cemetery with the funeral train. An unusually large number of carriages preceded and followed the hearse, and a great number of private conveyances carried away those who did not go to the cemetery. The body was laid in a vault in the family lot in Green-Wood Cemetery, Dr. POTTER officiating.

The Executive Committee of the New-York Prison Association, and the Board of Directors of the Working Womens' Protective Union have adopted suitable resolutions in memory of Mr. WOLFE, their late associate.

The Thompson-Street Malpractice Case—Investigation Yesterday—Another Mysterious Affair.

An inquest was begun by Coroner YOUNG yesterday, in the malpractice case which resulted in the death of Mrs. MARY ANN LOWDEN, at No. 228 Thompson-street, and for which Dr. GEO. R. GYLES, of No. 112 Ninth-avenue, is held. His counsel objected to the proceeding on the gound that the jury had not seen the body of deceased. The Coroner, however, under the new statute overruled this objection, and Capt. BYRNES, of the Fifteenth Precinct Police, was examined, and detailed the circumstances in connection with the death of Mrs. LOWDEN and the arrest of Dr. GYLES, and which have been already published. He also stated that he had arrested another man, against whom he was collecting the necessary testimony.

Miss KATE OTTO testified that she lived at No. 228 Thompson-street, and was acquainted with Mrs. LOWDEN; at about 2 P. M. on the 13th inst. she admitted Dr. GYLES to the house; he asked for Mrs. LOWDEN; that lady was not in at the time and the doctor took a seat in the parlor and waited until she returned; when she came in she asked if the doctor had come; witness then went down stairs and between 3 and 4 o'clock heard the hall door close, and supposes that the doctor went out then; at 5 o'clock Mrs. LOWDEN was found dead in her room; Mrs. LOWDEN had been out during the morning and returned at noon in her usual good spirits; she used to have gentlemen call on her, but did not know that she was keeping company with any one in particular; witness never saw Dr. GYLES before the day of Mrs. LOWDEN's death.

Miss LOUISA LOWDEN, the daughter of deceased, deposed that she last saw her mother alive at about two o'clock on the afternoon of the 13th inst.; Dr. GYLES was in the room at the time; they had just come up from the parlor so quietly that she did not hear them until they entered the room; deceased remarked, "Why, you here," and witness explained that she was getting something out of the bureau, and she then went down stairs; between three and four o'clock was told by Miss OTTO that the front door had closed, and witness remarked, "the doctor has gone, and ma will be down in a few moments;" witness detailed the circumstances as in our former report.

Mr. THOMAS TRIMBLE, who keeps a livery-stable at Nos. 146 and 148 West Thirty-ninth-street, and resides at No. 713 Sixth-avenue, is said to have been on intimate terms with the deceased, and who had been arrested by Capt. BYRNES, was next called, but before his evidence was taken the Captain asked for an adjournment, to enable him to obtain testimony which he believed would implicate Mr. TRIMBLE as an accessory to the crime.

The Coroner granted the application, and the inquest was adjourned until 10½ this morning. Dr. GYLES and Mr. TRIMBLE were remanded to the custody of Capt. BYRNES. Mr. TRIMBLE is quite wealthy, and is a man of family, moving in very respectable society.

Coroner YOUNG yesterday received a communication from Dr. MOREAU MORRIS, City Sanitary Inspector, stating that he had sent to the Morgue the body of Mrs. EMMA KOST, of No. 74 Norfolk-street, who is reported to have died from small-pox, but, from an investigation made by a Health Inspector, it was suspected that death had resulted from uterine hemorrhage, caused by malpractice. Dr. MARSH will make a post-mortem examination of the remains, and the Coroner will investigate the case as soon as the necessary testimony can be obtained.

DR. PITCHER'S CASTORIA
Is a substitute for castor-oil, and has the most remarkable effects ever produced by any remedy. Unlike oil, pills, or narcotic syrups, it is pleasant to take; does not nauseate the stomach or gripe the bowels; on the contrary, it assimilates the food, and is sure to physic where the bowels are out of order. We have the record of many instances of sudden relief where the bowels have not moved for five, ten, and even twenty days, and where constant vomiting had existed, with violent congestions and serious fevers. It contains neither mineral, morphine nor alcohol, and is equally adapted to adults and children. It acts like magic for stomach-ache, wind-colic, constipation, &c. Every family should have it. We know what the Castoria is, and desire that physicians and nurses shall thoroughly test it. We will furnish such persons without charge.

Report of Judges upon GILT AND BRONZE CHANDELIERS, GLASS CHANDELIERS AND BRONZES, exhibited by MITCHELL, VANCE & CO.:
"We fully agree that the Bronze Fixtures are superior in Artistic Design, Workmanship and Finish, to any made in this country, and probably in the world. The Bronzes, especially the large pieces which are copied from the French, are the best productions of the country. The Glass Chandeliers are equal if not superior to the celebrated Osler manufacture, (English,) which have been heretofore acknowledged the best in the world. The Glass is of unusual whiteness. They rank A1.
"W. B. OGDEN, President.
"JOHN W. CHAMBERS, Act. Recording Secretary.
"SAM'L D. TILLMAN, Corresponding secretary."
We cordially invite an examination of our varied and most comprehensive stock, and particularly of our CRYSTAL GAS FIXTURES, which, in variety and excellence, are not equaled elsewhere in the world. Special designs for Halls, Churches, &c. Also, designs (exclusive if desired) for elegant dwellings, in gold and real bronze.

SECOND
GRAND GIFT CONCERT
IN AID OF THE
PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY,
AT LOUISVILLE, KY.
By authority in the act of the Legislature incorporating the PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY, the Trustees will give their SECOND GRAND GIFT CONCERT
In the great hall of the Public Library Building, in Louisville, Ky., on Saturday, Sept. 28, 1872.
This magnificent hall, known as Weisiger Hall, is the largest, most centrally located, and best arranged for large and fashionable audiences of any in Louisville, and is fitted up in superb style. The building has a front of 165 feet on Main-st., by a depth of 200 feet, four stories in height, and was recently purchased for the Public Library at a cost of $210,000. Three large rooms are now fitted up for a library, and contain about 20,000 volumes and a museum of 100,000 specimens, now open, free to the gratuitous use and enjoyment of all citizens of every State in the Union. It is the purpose of the Trustees, by the GRAND GIFT CONCERT now announced, to raise the money with which to pay the balance of the purchase money then upon the Public Library building, to enlarge the library, and to so endow the institution as to make it self-sustaining and forever beyond the necessity of calling upon any individual who uses the books for the contribution of a single cent toward its support.
100,000 TICKETS OF ADMISSION
will be issued at $10 each; half tickets $5; quarter tickets $2 50; 11 whole tickets for $100; 28 for $250; 56 for $500; 113 for $1,000; 285 for $2,500; 575 for $5,000. No discount on less than $100 worth of tickets at a time.
Tickets will be sent, when requested, by registered letter. The money for them may be sent by Adams Express Company and its connections, Post-office money order, registered letter, or bank draft. Each holder of a ticket, or fraction of a ticket, (a half or a quarter,) is entitled to admission to the concert, and to the gift awarded to it. During the concert the sum of $500,000 in Currency
will be given to the holders of tickets by distribution by lot of ONE THOUSAND GIFTS, as follows:

Total 1,000 Gifts, all Cash..........$500,000
This Concert, like that of the 16th of December last, (which was so decidedly successful, and at which the first grand gift was drawn by and paid to Mr. John B. Duff, of Memphis, Tenn.,) is for the benefit of the
PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY.
The Farmers' and Drovers' Bank is Treasurer, and the corporators and supervisors are all representative men, and are among the most respectable and distinguished citizens of the State.
Should any tickets be left unsold on the day of the drawing, they will be destroyed, and the one thousand gifts offered will all be drawn and paid, but diminished in value in proportion to the percentage of unsold tickets. For instance, if only three-fourths of the tickets are sold, the capital gift will be reduced to $75,000, and all the others in proportion.
The Hon. THOS. E. BRAMLETTE, late Governor of Kentucky, has consented to represent the Trustees, in the management of the second Grand Gift Concert, and he will personally see that the money from the sale of tickets is deposited with the Treasurer, that the drawing is fairly conducted and the gifts justly awarded and promptly paid.
The drawing will take place in public, in full view of the audience, and under the immediate supervision and direction of the officers and Trustees of the Public Library of Kentucky and the following named eminent and disinterested citizens, who have consented to be present and see that all is fairly done:
Hon. M. R. HARDIN, Judge Court Appeals, Ky.
Hon. J. PROCTOR KNOTT, late M. C., Lebanon Dis.
Hon. H. W. BRUCE, Judge Ninth Judicial Dis. Ky.
